B., Nov. 16.—(Special)—At the beginning of the service in St. Luke's church yesterday morning the beautiful reredos, erected by loving friends to the memory of the late Thomas Neales, B. A., Ven. C.P.R. LABOR UNIONS ARE DISSATISFIED OVER THE SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE

President Bell Hardy Leaves the Mechanics' Union. His Resignation Follows Strictures Upon Him Made by Union Committee Which Investigated the Circumstances Surrounding the Strike Settlement. Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 16 (Special).—Circumstances surrounding the settlement of the recent strike of mechanical unions on the Canadian Pacific Railway were made the subject of investigation by a committee representing the various labor organizations affected. Their report in part is as follows: "We consider the circumstances mentioned in the evidence before us did not justify Brothers Hardy, McVeety, Shore, Marshall, McFarlane and O'Dwyer in making such a tremendous sacrifice as that of notifying the Minister of Labor of the acceptance of the majority report of the award of the board of conciliation and investigation, thereby calling off the strike without having: (1) Obtained definite and satisfactory terms from company. (2) In our opinion, in such a crucial moment as that reached at the time the strike was to be called off the eastern committee should have had an opportunity of considering the terms of settlement and the step about to be taken. (3) We consider that in justice to the membership over the system a referendum vote should have been taken before any committee should take upon themselves responsibility of such magnitude. We believe that everything was done to the best of their judgment and to their fairly judgment alone can be attributed such a disastrous settlement. For this which we consider irreparable weakness, firmness and strength were most necessary, we feel it our duty in the interests of the Federation to recommend the retirement from their official capacity in this settlement of Chairman Bell Hardy and Secretary-treasurer J. H. McVeety. (4) Calgary, Alta., Nov. 16 (Special).—Bell Hardy has resigned from the Mechanics' Union, following an investigation by a committee into the terms of strike settlement, and the publication of strictures on officials who conducted the recent strike.

THE WAR AGAINST COCAINE AND PATENT MEDICINES

CROKER SPEAKS HIGHLY OF TAFT. "I Think Mr. Taft Will be a Good President" Is Opinion of ex-Tammany Chief. Queenstown, Nov. 16.—Richard Croker, the former Tammany Hall leader, was among the passengers who boarded the steamship Lusitania yesterday. He will make a six months visit to the United States. When seen prior to the departure of the steamer, he reiterated that he was out of politics, that his visit to America was of a purely private nature, and that he would not discuss in any way the recent election, or future possibilities. He did say, however, "I think Mr. Taft will be a good President, he has had experience."

FAMILY LIVED IN AN OLD BARN

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 16 (Special).—Christopher Horseman, Steeves Mountain has again been brought before the notice of the people. Nearly a year ago he was arrested by the Moncton police, charged with murdering his wife and tried in the local court but the case was thrown out by the grand jury at a meeting of the Supreme Court at Dorchester last January. Now he has been reported to the S. P. C. A. for not taking proper care of his children. Since the burning of the house a few months ago, Horseman and his six children have been sleeping in the barn and using the well-known straw for bedding. Complaint was made by a resident of Steeves Mountain and it is likely the overseers of the poor will look into the matter.

PROGRESS IN WORK OF TEMPERANCE REFORM

Rev. Neil McLaughlin Dealt With This Subject Before the Every Day Club Last Evening. Rev. Neil McLaughlin, pastor of Portland street Methodist church, delivered a very interesting address at the Every Day Club last evening. He said that about two and a half years ago the temperance work was seen to be at a standstill in St. John. It was referred to in the preacher's meetings, but did not seem particularly outspoken on the subject. Now the sentiment had entirely changed, there was a new animating and the pulpits were taking up the subject more frequently, it was talked of at the preacher's meetings and the Evangelical Alliance, etc., and then the Every Day Club came into existence and it was keeping the topic before the people every week and in various ways keeping the matter prominent before the people and proving effectual as perhaps nothing else was doing. And now the press was certainly speaking out in more decided tones and it will certainly prove one of the strongest factors in securing temperance reform. As an evidence of the awakening the Temperance Federation is working with a new zest and as through the federation the provincial government had been twice waited upon by its representatives and asked for a prohibitory law. The Every Day Club has also circulated a petition asking to have the screens removed from the saloons and now a petition was being circulated through New Brunswick which did not seem particularly outspoken on the subject. All this was evidence that the public was awakening to the evils of the liquor traffic. The speaker referred also to the prohibitory law in Prince Edward Island and statements from the premier and prominent men there to the effect that the law was regarded as effectual in curtailing the drink evil.

I am convinced that over here he would get the best possible education here for that end. "That doesn't mean by any means that I admire everything American. I like your women—they are deliciously charming—that is, those one meets in society. But I must say I do not like your shop assistants, the haughty young women who condescend to preside at the counters in the millinery shops, for instance. They are not polite, and I do not see how they retain their places."

THREE HUNDRED PRIESTS ARE NEEDED IN CANADA

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Archbishop McEvoy, addressing the clergy of the Diocese of Ottawa, stated that there is a great shortage of priests in Canada at the present time. He said that at least three hundred priests were needed. The call to the priesthood should first be direct from God, and it was the highest honor a man could receive. Many are prevented accepting it. Some personally reject the call, while the stinginess of parents was not infrequently the cause of the call being ignored.

MAGISTRATE ADVOCATES THE STRAP FOR BAD BOYS

Parents Must Look After Their Boys or the Reformatory Will Not be Large Enough to Hold Them in His Honor's Opinion. Both the witness and Detective Killan then hurried to Mill street and intercepted Gallet who was evidently journeying to his home on that street. Another vigorous examination ensued which apparently was doomed to failure as the lad held steadfastly to his story. Finally a threat to arrest him proved effective and saying "It was no use lying any more about it, I was done," he confessed to his complicity, which the deputy chief detailed on Saturday. Mr. Ritchie objected to any statements concerning his client to be permitted in evidence. Gallet admitted that he and Gillen heard Mrs. Wile complaining of her loss while Howard and Curran proceeded then up Water street. He was given a dollar by Howard and said the purse was thrown away on Water street where it was found in a place of concealment with the aid of Curran who accused Gallet of hiding it. Mr. McKewen differed with his honor over the admission of a half belief that Gallet said he saw Howard find the purse. It was not placed in evidence. Detective Killan said Gillen was in bed when he visited his home. He gave him 50 cents which was part of a dollar he said he received from Curran. The latter's father brought the boy to the police station. The magistrate said the woman might have been stranded in the city without a dollar. Adjournment was made until 2 p. m. when Gillen's testimony will be taken. Gillen was much affected and sobbed bitterly while the remainder expressed the regret of a suitable resolution expressing the hope that the lad would be reformed. He was escorted into jail from the court room each advised their relatives "Bring us something to eat will you I'm nearly starved on that grub."

The youth, who is now at school in England, will enter the Massachusetts Institute of Technology two years hence. Lady Auckland, whose physicians ordered her to travel, was in retreat until a few days ago in the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Manhattanville. After passing a month there she had an audience with Archbishop Farley, and has since been much occupied with her social engagements. At the St. Regis she said to a reporter: "Frederick is a second son, and it will be necessary for him to earn a living. WILL BE TRIED IN WESTMORLAND CO.

Robert D. Harney Charged With Robbing the Mails was in Police Court This Morning. Robert D. Harney, the twenty-year-old young man who was arrested at Robbsey on the C. P. R. train on Saturday for alleged mail robbing, was before Magistrate Ritchie this morning. The charge of robbing the mails at Montserrat was read over to him and he chose to waive the right to plead. Later he was escorted to Rowe's photograph gallery by Deputy Chief Jenkins and Detective Killan, where his pictures were taken. Unlike other suspected criminals, who when photographed for the rogues' gallery distort their features in an effort to prevent recognition, Harney was exceptionally fastidious. A petition from Hon. H. A. McKeown to hold the accused in jail pending the arrival of a warrant from Westmorland county was granted.

MUCH MYSTERY OVER DEATH OF "CHICK" STAHL'S WIDOW

She was Found Dead in a Doorway in Boston Last Night—Husband was Well Known Ball Player. Boston, Nov. 16.—While the Boston police are not inclined today to hold any person responsible for the death last night in a south Boston doorway of Mrs. Julia Harmon Stahl, widow of "Chick" Stahl, the baseball player, there were still several mysterious circumstances to be cleared up. The most important of these was the absence of a considerable amount of jewelry. In seeking to account for this fact and for the reason of Mrs. Stahl's presence in the rather poor neighborhood in which her body was found, the police sought a man who was seen to cross Andrew's street South Boston with Mrs. Stahl just before she entered the hall in which she died. This man is believed to have helped Mrs. Stahl into the doorway but was not seen to leave the house. The police waited for the result of the medical examination which was set for this forenoon before attempting to make any arrest. In the case up to the time that relatives of Mrs. Stahl noticed the absence of jewelry only today, the police had believed the case to be one of heart failure. But with the advent of robbery as a possible motive, the case appeared to be one of murder. According to Mrs. Stahl's father, John Harmon, the jewelry worn by her when she left home was valued at more than $2,000.
