ADDRESSES BY BORDEN, BERGERON AND FOSTER

Four-Thousand People Gathered at Middletown on Saturday to Hear the Conservative Orators Discuss the Issues of the Day.

Middletown, N. S., Aug. 24.—This town has been an fete today in honor of the visit of R. L. Borden, M. P. Liberal and Conservatives uniting to give him a fitting reception. Middletown is situated in Annapolis county near the Annapolis county boundary. There are no industrial centres, but the surrounding country is a scattered farming district where the Liberals are in a large majority, yet the farmers poured into the town in hundreds to hear Mr. Borden and his lieutenants. Incoming trains from east, south and west brought crowds of visitors.

When Mr. Borden arrived the town presented a gala appearance, decorations and bunting being in evidence on all sides. Headed by a band the speakers and many prominent Conservatives were driven to a big front house which had been rented and decorated for the occasion. Across the front of the building in big letters was "Hall to the Chief." Inside were such mottoes as "Canada's hope for a greater and cleaner future lies in our leader." "In 1888 Macdonald restored Canada's prosperity; in 1907 Borden will restore Canada's good name." "Canada owes much to her eloquent tribune, Foster." "Greetings to Quebec's talented son, the Beauharnois boy." The grangers would destroy Foster, but the people understand. "Borden's preference policy means our apples first in the British markets and Canada's resources for the people of Canada."

When the speakers reached the platform they found about 2,000 people inside the building and fully as many outside unable to gain admission. Mr. Borden therefore put it to vote, and the audience unanimously decided to adjourn to the athletic grounds, where the largest audience ever seen in Middletown assembled. Dr. C. Marshall presided, and with a few appropriate remarks introduced the first speaker, F. W. Hawright, of Halifax. Mr. Hawright attacked the Laurier government which he charged with breach of faith with the people of Canada.

Mr. Borden was the next speaker, and his rising was the occasion for loud and long continued applause. He spoke of the gratifying significance of the fact that the audience was twice what the committee had expected. The Liberals present, he said, were not fit for leadership of the Conservative party because he remembered the late Sir J. S. D. Thompson. He felt he could receive no higher compliment. Thompson expelled from parliament and imprisoned, while who were found robbing the people.

Mr. Borden said Laurier and his followers, in and out of parliament, had profited the most from the robbery of the public treasury. He asserted that again and again investigation of election frauds had been prevented by the government members under the direction of not do, after all, to outpace the efforts of others. It may be that their work is as prolific of results as your own.

WAS IMPUDENT TO JUDGE FORBES

Moncton, N. B., Aug. 25.—Harry Nevins, who assaulted John Forbes, I. C. R. baggage master here, a few weeks ago, was sentenced by Judge Forbes at Dorchester Saturday to three years in the penitentiary.

Nevins assaulted Forbes because the latter requested a baggage receipt and out seeing his ticket, and Forbes was laid up some time as a result of the beating. Nevins when sentenced was insolent to the judge asking him why he did not make the sentence ten or twenty years.

SHEARER'S SUCCESSOR

Toronto, Aug. 25.—(Special)—Rev. T. Albert Moore, secretary of the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance, has been chosen to succeed Rev. Dr. Shearer as secretary of the Dominion L. D. A. Rev. W. G. Hanna, D. D., Presbyterian minister of Mount Forest, has been nominated to succeed Mr. Moore.

TEN WERE KILLED

Courtesy, France, Aug. 25.—Ten persons were killed and twenty-five injured in a train collision today between an express train bound from Bordeaux for Paris and a freight train. The accident was caused by the freight train crossing the path of the express train.

A Boy's Suicide

Fairmount, W. Va., Aug. 24.—Charles, the eleven year old son of Constable M. M. Lawson, committed suicide at his home at Winfield today by shooting. The boy bade his mother good-bye and walked away. A little later the report of a gun was heard and upon rushing out, Mrs. Lawson found her son with his head almost blown off. No cause for the suicide is known.

Laurier, and that election crooks had been rewarded by increased salaries. He charged that the fearful condition of public life in Canada was due to the attitude of Premier Laurier in defending and rewarding political criminals.

After touching on the Halifax, Truro and Moncton land scandals, Mr. Borden took up the western land deals and charged that millionaires were being made at the expense of the public domain. If the people, he said, understood the extent of these operations they would not trust the present administration in power another moment. Mr. Borden said he believed the present patronage system in connection with the civil service responsible for much evil and renewed his pledge to supersede it by the competitive system of appointment.

He believed that the administration of the government railways by an independent commission would give the same satisfactory results as in other countries. When the Conservatives have proved this, as he believed they would, he would extend the people's railway to the Great Lakes and into the western provinces. The Conservative party, he asserted, had made possible the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern by building in spite of the Liberals the Canadian Pacific. They had built up Canada and the party had faith in greater things for the future. He believed the Conservative party would continue the work as it had done under former leaders to build up a great country both prosperous and one of which every citizen might feel proud.

Mr. Borden was the next speaker, and his rising was the occasion for loud and long continued applause. He spoke of the gratifying significance of the fact that the audience was twice what the committee had expected. The Liberals present, he said, were not fit for leadership of the Conservative party because he remembered the late Sir J. S. D. Thompson. He felt he could receive no higher compliment. Thompson expelled from parliament and imprisoned, while who were found robbing the people.

SERMON ON TOLERANCE

Do Not Criticise Harshly Others' Means of Trying to Do Good.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

"After seventeen years' work in the ministry," exclaimed Dr. Fikes, Franklin, Pa., last Sunday, "I am prepared to say with every emphasis that I hail with joy unspeakable all attempts of whatever kind that look towards the betterment of the race."

The clergyman had in a previous sermon described the efforts of a London pastor to draw people into his church by the distribution of tea, and the placing of a billiard table in the basement. Many church members had written to the reverend gentleman protesting against the toleration with which he had spoken of the billiard table, and intimating that the piece of furniture should not be brought into competition with the Bible. The minister replied that there was less of Christian spirit and manly religion in the letters he had received than in a whole hall of billiard and tea tables used for the uplifting of man.

Further, this preacher laid it down as a proposition worthy of acceptance that we must not criticize harshly the means by which people try to do good. Methods have always been sources of contention. Some men have maintained a rich, beautiful church, and others have maintained a poor, shabby one. As a matter of fact the reverend gentleman maintained there were many and diverse ways of reaching men. Thousands have been reclaimed by listening to the experiences of the reformed.

"Others may be saved by hearing a manly message from the stage of a theatre on a Sunday afternoon or evening, and I have personally seen hundreds so rescued. And still others, who would never go to a theatre meeting or stand upon the street to listen to one word, are won to Christ amid the marble and mahogany, the plush and paintings of a rich, beautiful church. I have seen men brought under the influence of the Gospel by a warm meal; by a cordial handshake; by an honest, heartfelt word; by a game of checkers; by a sermon; by a song; by a timely visit to the office, and each had to be interested in a different way."

Here we get a sermon on tolerance that ought not to be lost upon people who are trying to save their fellowmen. It is a fact that the rugged service of the street will capture persons who cannot be reached by the ornate ceremonies of the cathedral. It is also a fact that the lofty devotional music of the church will exercise an influence over people who are unaffected by the rough and ready singing of the revival. Similarly, the effort which gets very near to worldly-experience may, and no doubt will, draw to a better life people who cannot be reached by the sudden presentation of a religious proposition. It does

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Kantaro Kaneko

Baron Kantaro Kaneko, who is rumored as a probable successor to Viscount Aoki, the present Japanese ambassador to the United States was born in 1853.
