LOCAL NEWS

THE JURY TODAY
 In the case of Frank P. Doody vs. J. C. Mcintosh & Company, M. G. Teed, K. C. for the defendant company, and D. Mullin, K. C. for the plaintiff, addressed the jury this morning. Judge Berry started his address at this afternoon's session, when the case will be given to the jury.

A NOVELTY SHOWER
 A novelty shower for Miss Mildred Craft, at the home of Mrs. Jack O'Brien, Prince street, West St. John, was the occasion of a delightful time last evening. There were music, dancing and refreshments, and the affair ended a little after midnight with the national anthem.

THE REVISED HYMNAL
 At the ten o'clock meeting of the synod committee on church literature yesterday afternoon it was decided to authorize the sale of copies of the revised hymnal. The final sanction to the revision will not be given until the next general synod three years hence, well has been believed that permission will be granted to use the new books in the meantime, although not officially authorized.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK DISCUSSED

 creed, the ten commandments and the Lord's prayer. With regard to co-operation with other denominations, he pointed out the danger of losing sight of the distinctive principles of the church.

A Fifth Wheel.
 A. V. Morash suggested that the children be included in the weekly synod system of church contributions. He also questioned if the Nova Scotia Sunday School Association should be becoming a fifth wheel to the coach as the denominational organization covers the work.

Dr. Robertson said that the graded lessons should not be introduced unless approved by the pastor, but he would welcome the idea of receiving all the children's contributions through the church service—all the children attended church, and pointed out that the co-operation suggested was chiefly for the training of leaders.

Rev. Mr. McIntosh spoke in defence of the Nova Scotia Sunday School Association. The conclusion of the discussion was marked by the adoption of the resolutions offered by Mr. Upham.

Rev. Robert Dewar reported for the committee on Presbytery records that they had been found well kept.

Rev. J. A. MacLean presented a resolution "that the synod instruct its committee on records to find out where the old records of Presbyteries are, report on their historical value, secure them if possible, and have them deposited in a college vault under the care of the librarian and report to the next synod."

Ladies' College.
 Rev. Dr. J. W. Falconer reported briefly that he had found everything satisfactory at the Ladies' College in Halifax.

Rev. Robert Laine, principal of the Ladies' College, reported in detail on the work of the college. There is a total enrollment of 47, with 655 enrolled in the conservatory of music. In addition to the work in the conservatory its head co-operated with Dalhousie in qualifying students for the degree of bachelor of music. Owing to the war, probably, the number of day students fell off last year but this year the attendance is better and the resident students fill the entire accommodation. Financially the institution had done well and there was a balance of $202 after expenditures of $2,927.

On motion of Dr. MacKinnon the committee on public education was authorized to co-operate with the Presbytery of Truro in dealing with alarming religious conditions at the provincial normal school in Truro.

Dr. Mungie was then heard on behalf of the work of the Lord's Day Alliance, giving illustrations to show how their work affects almost every department of church work. Sunday newspapers threatened Canada, just have been syndicated; Sunday concerts, involving labor, have been kept within bounds, the governor general has given the alliance his patronage.

A resolution, moved by Dr. Rogers and seconded by Mr. Ross, approving of the work of the alliance and commending it to the church, was adopted.

Rev. H. Kent moved that the Synod be pleased to hear of the increased usefulness and circulation of the Presbyterian Witness, and again commends it to the support of the congregations and extends to the editor, Dr. G. S. Carson, his congratulations on the honor bestowed on him by the Presbyterian College in conferring on him the degree of doctor of divinity. The resolution was adopted.

Changes Proposed.
 Rev. A. H. Foster, for the committee on synod business, reported on the recommendations of last year, renitted to the Presbyteries for consideration. They were that the synod should convene on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock for the formal opening, instead of in the evening as at present, that a small business committee be appointed, that doors be closed during devotional exercises and that each committee should present for discussion only one phase of their work each year. The recommendations had received the approval of a majority of the presbyteries.

Mr. Foster spoke of the suggestion that the synod sessions should commence on a Monday evening and said that it would be impossible, as the majority of the delegates could not get there in time except when held in St. John. In this connection he said that he had demonstrated that more people could leave their homes in the maritime provinces and reach St. John in the evening than could get to any other place in the province.

Mr. Foster moved that the recommendation be approved and adopted, but the matter was left over for discussion when the synod adjourned.

Pine Hill Reunion.
 At one o'clock luncheon was served in the school room of St. John Presbyterian church for the delegates. This was followed at the same place by the annual meeting of the alumni of Pine Hill College. The speakers were: Rev. A. B. Morash, president; Rev. G. A. MacKinnon, vice-president, and Rev. J. A. MacKinnon, secretary. The business included the election of officers, matters connected with the scholarship provided by the alumni, as well as a series of speeches.

THOUGHT A ST. JOHN MAN FIRED THE FATAL SHOT

Artemus Randall Killed in Mistake For Moose on the Portabella Stream

A Fredericton special says—"Shot and killed in mistake for a moose was the sad fate which overtook Artemus Randall of Lakeville Corner while out gunning of Portabella stream near his home last night. He was in a canoe with two companions named Rogers and Hudlin. The shot which killed Randall was fired from another canoe about forty yards away. The bullet entered his abdomen, and he died ten minutes later. R. B. Hanson of this city, clerk of the peace, left for the scene of the accident this morning to attend an inquest to be conducted by Coroner Ferguson.

"The name of the man who fired the shot has not been learned here but it is reported that he was a member of a St. John party. It was quite dark when the shooting occurred and the supposition is that the canoe in which Randall was sitting was mistaken for a moose. Randall was about thirty years of age and leaves his wife and four small children. He was a cousin of Edward Chase, accidentally shot while hunting near this city last week."

PRESENT LIBRARY TABLE TO REV. B. H. NOBLES

The annual business meeting of the Young People's Society of Victoria street Baptist church was held last evening. Reports showed the society to be in an encouraging condition. Walter Heston, president, in a brief speech, presented to the pastor, Rev. B. H. Nobles, a library table in appreciation of his kind-ness in the help he had given as honorary president. Guy G. Kierstead of Hampton, a former active member of the society, presented an address. Officers were chosen as follows:—Honorary president, Rev. B. H. Nobles; president, Walter Heston; secretary, Roy Watters; second vice-president, Stanley Shortt; secretary, Miss Starkey; treasurer, Miss Starkey; president, Miss Hazelwood; assistant pianist, Miss Scott.

H. L. SPENCER STRUCKEN

The venerable poet, H. L. Spencer, whose home is with Miss Wilson, 183 City Line, West St. John, suffered a stroke of paralysis last night, and both his limbs and his speech are affected. Dr. F. L. Kenney was summoned, and Mrs. E. A. Smith visited him this morning. It may be deemed advisable to remove him to a hospital. Mr. Spencer has not been able to go out of his house for months, but could walk about indoors, though very feeble. He is eighty-three years old. His condition is therefore serious.

CAN'T GET HIS MONEY

Edgar M. Day of Day's Corner, built the bridge on the highway in what is called Weldon's Hollow in 1913, and has not yet been paid for the job. He says the bridge was passed by J. F. Saunders, the commissioner, but the latter changed his mind afterward and said the work was not done up to contract. There was some further correspondence and Mr. Day was finally offered $80. He was to have got $100 for the bridge, with additional pay for some additional work. He refused to accept the $80 and also $60, which was offered later, and there the matter stands, after more than two years. He says he has proof that the commissioner passed and accepted the bridge, and charges that he is being most unfairly treated.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning three men arrested yesterday for drunkenness were fined $8 or two months in jail. Mortimer Sieber, colored, was fined $8 or two months in jail for using obscene and abusive language to the captain of a schooner lying at Starr's wharf. He pleaded guilty and wanted the captain to withdraw the charge, but the captain was not disposed to do so even if it had been within his power.

Harry Graham, a soldier, who was arrested for interfering with Policeman Armstrong and also resisting arrest and using profane and obscene language on Tuesday evening, was sent back into jail. He was warned that he was liable to a fine of $80 or ten months in jail.

MEDICAL SOCIETY

The opening meeting of the St. John Medical Society for the season was held in Bond's last evening, and took the form of a banquet. The feature of the evening was an address by President L. M. Curran, dealing with present day medical topics. About twenty-five members were present, and in addition, two new members were admitted.

MRS. LOUISA GOUGH

The death of Mrs. Louisa Gough at the age of eighty-one years is announced. She passed away Oct. 5 at the home of her son, George E., in North View. Mrs. Gough also leaves her husband, Nelson Gough, and one other son, Captain Fred Gough of St. Martins. The funeral took place at Linton Corner, Victoria county, on Oct. 4.
