

APPEAL MADE BY REV. J. DUNLOP

Central Baptist Preacher Calls for Higher Ideals of Young People.

Gives Striking Sermon at Rally
Day Service—Main Street Church.

Rally Day in Central Baptist church yesterday was observed in a threefold manner—by an address from Rev. Waldo Machum, field secretary of the Maritime Religious Educational Council, a mass gathering of the various branches of the Sunday school in the afternoon, and a special service in the evening. The address was given by Rev. J. M. C. A., and a special sermon at night by the pastor, Rev. James Dunlop, who took for his subject, "Patrician Ideals of Young People," using for his text the twelfth verse of Psalm 144. "That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth; that our daughters may be as corner-stones, polished after the similitude of a palace."

DEVELOP YOUNG LIFE

Rev. Mr. Machum in his morning address eloquently stressed the necessity of developing the young life of the country along spiritual lines but not without due attention to its physical and social welfare. He drew the picture of the boy Jesus as a model, and declared the opposition sometimes encountered from adult church members in making the social and wholesome organized play of boys and girls in church and Sunday school activities, part of the programme. Properly supervised by godly people the youth of the church enriches its usefulness and stimulates its spirituality by the fourfold activities laid down in the carefully planned routine of the organization in whose interests he is laboring.

Rev. James Dunlop's address in the evening on patrician ideals of young people was a powerful appeal to the youth of the country for a higher patriotism. He said an ideal was an idea, a mental type, an intellectual end not yet realized or reached, yet remaining as the goal for the individual and the nation. An artist's ideal was his mental picture of beauty too high to be attained, yet remaining as the artistic end to be aimed at. The moralist, the educationalist, the industrialist, all had their ideals. A patriot was a citizen who had not merely sworn allegiance to a flag or sovereign. He went further in national loyalty. He rendered sacrificial service to his own people by seeking to transfer national ideals into life. A Christian patriot paid homage to God—refused to allow the state to usurp the place of God. It was God and country!

CITIZENSHIP THE TEST.

A man cannot be loyal in world affairs, said the speaker, who is not loyal to his own people and loyalty to country, as to God, must be part of our programme for the young. Our young people have no true Christian conception of patriotism. When we boast of our nation's greatness we think in terms of material prosperity. Yet a nation's golden age, as in the experience of Rome in material things, may be a period of moral and spiritual degeneracy. National trading must not take the place of communion with God. The market place must not overshadow the Holy place. The test of national progress was not census but citizenship.

In national life character was a permanent asset, continued Mr. Dunlop. Britain's word was her bond. That made her great. No person should care for a politician who had been discarded as a man. A bad man cannot be a good statesman. His ideals were wrong and his highness was not greatness. The world's nations had been small nations, he said. Putting a tape around a man's hat will not make him a man. It was not Canada's square miles but her square deals that made her great. It was not quantity of land but quality of life that counted in the world.

"Oh Canada We Stand on Guard For Thee," who should be under guard and behind the bars.

"The church is a moral and spiritual institution is the creator and inspirer of patriotism," declared the speaker in conclusion. "The business college is essential as the day school. The pattern of Christ is our ideal. He is the Savior of man and nations. His Spirit guides and His presence inspires. To be true to Him is to become patriotic and render sacrificial service to God and country. It is to hasten the day when—

"Man to man, the world o'er,
Shall brothers be for A' that."

Suddenly stricken by a heart attack, Patrick Cleary, 42 Bentley street, died in the ambulance at 8:40 on Saturday night, while being rushed to the General Public Hospital. Coroner F. L. Kenney who viewed the body at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning decided that an inquest was unnecessary as death had been due to natural causes.

Mr. Cleary, who was 38 years of age, was employed as nightwatchman for Horgan & Telfer on the sewerage construction work in Russell street. He left his home at 5 o'clock on Saturday night apparently in his usual health. He was not feeling well after he arrived at his work, however, and he went to the C. N. B. round house to ask for a drink of water when the seizure came upon him. A hurry call was sent for the ambulance and although it responded promptly death occurred before the hospital was reached.

Mr. Cleary is survived by one daughter, Miss Florence Cleary, who is now in Boston, one sister, Margaret, in Saint John, and five brothers, Hugh, John and Joseph, of this city, William, in the West, and Frank, of Boston. The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning at 8:30 from his late residence to St. Peter's church.

Miss Muriel Brown

Miss Muriel Brown, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, of Winslow street, died in West Saint John, passed away at her home at 10 o'clock on Saturday night. Although she had been in delicate health for about three years, death came unexpectedly and was a great shock to her relatives and friends. She was of a loving disposition and a great favorite with her class mates at school. She had attended the First Presbyterian Sunday school until three years ago when because of ill health she was obliged to stay at home. Besides her parents she leaves two brothers, Gordon and Charles, and one sister, Pearl.

Mrs. H. Fletcher

The death of Mrs. Henry Fletcher occurred at her home, Forest Glen, on Saturday after a lingering illness. She was 71 years of age. She leaves besides her husband, three sons, Lloyd, of Amherst; George, of Sussex, and Leander, at home; four daughters, Mrs. Winifred Stevens, of Forest Hill; Mrs. Clyde Colpitts, of Sussex; Mrs. LeBaron Hoppey, of Forest Glen, and Mrs. Charles Colpitts, at home, all deceased, Mrs. George Kemble, of Kittery, Me.

Wm. J. Peacock

Only six days after the death of his wife, William John Peacock died suddenly on Saturday afternoon after eating a hearty dinner at his home in the Sandy Point Road. While he had been in failing health for some time Mr. Peacock had appeared to improve during the last week and his sudden passing was a great shock to many friends. Mr. Peacock was in his seventy-fifth year and had been for a long time a resident in the Sandy Point road, held in very high esteem throughout the community. He was a member of St. Barnabas church. There are surviving one son, J. Albert Peacock, at home, and one brother, David Peacock, of the Sandy Point road. The funeral will be on Tuesday from his residence at 2 o'clock. Service will be held in St. Paul's church at 2:15.

Mrs. Wm. A. Weir

The death of Leda Devilla, wife of William A. Weir, occurred Saturday at the General Public Hospital after a short illness. She is survived by her husband, five sons, Harold, Ronald, Hazen, John and Burton, and three daughters, Muriel, Frances and Ethel, besides her mother, six brothers and five sisters.

Mrs. D. M. Manks

Mrs. D. M. Manks died Sunday evening at her home, 10 Spruce street, after a few months' illness. She was at all times an active worker in St. Paul's church, being secretary of the Mothers' Meeting and organizing member of St. Paul's Mothers' Union. She was a daughter of the late J. Edmund Pudington, and leaves besides her husband, one son, Archer F. and one daughter, Miss Ruth, both of this city, also two brothers, Archer C. Pudington, of Medicine, N. J., and David W.

ORPHANS ARE KEPT FROM FAIR BY STORM

Treat, However, is Sent to Them
—Prize Winners of Saturday Evening.

Although the stormy weather of Saturday prevented the children of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage from attending the fair in St. Andrew's Park, they did not lose their treat. The candy, ice cream, cake and good things were sent out to them at the homes and each child also received a gift from the fish pond. The storm lessened the attendance at the fair to some extent, the crowd being estimated at about 1,000. The door prize, a carving set, was won by ticket 8,220 and had not been claimed. Other prize winners included the following: Ladies' bean board, Mrs. Geary; men's bean board, W. B. Stearns; ten pins, Murray Clark; bagatelle, Mrs. William Price.

As the drummer of the Pipe Band was unable to attend on Saturday night the band did not play and it will be on hand to provide a programme of music for Wednesday night, the last night of the fair when all the goods unsold will be auctioned off. The
