SUGGESTS REVIVING CURFEW IN MONTREAL

Troubled There, Too, With Conditions Which Obtain in St. John

(Montreal Telegraph)

"The parents must be blamed for the increasing crime among children in this city," said Chief Campeau this morning, discussing the question that has been attracting wide attention of late. "If the fathers and mothers would look after their children and keep them off the streets there would be fewer cases by far in the juvenile court. But too many parents do not seem to care where their boys and girls are, so long as they are not around the house. They let them run about the streets until midnight and later. No wonder they go by the street after nine or ten o'clock. In my opinion every child should be in bed by eight o'clock."

Evidently the chief was speaking from more than a theoretical knowledge, for he has a family. "I don't want my boys to smoke and they don't. Other parents can surely control their children."

"But perhaps among the poorer classes - You'll find lots of fine children among the poorer families," the chief interrupted, getting the idea before it was expressed. "And if one poor woman can bring up a family to be decent, respectable citizens, there is no reason why they all can't do it."

The whole trouble lies in the fact that the children are allowed to run the streets at night. You will see them after twelve o'clock playing around the corners. There are little boys and young girls all over the city, whose parents do not seem to object to their being out after midnight."

"Would you favor a curfew law by which the police could force children to go home early in the evening, he was asked."

"If the council would pass some sort of a by-law forbidding children to be on the street after nine or ten o'clock it would be enforced, and I think it would do a great deal to prevent children from going wrong."

WEIGHING OF BUTTER AND CHEESE

For a considerable time persistent complaints were made to officers of the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa by producers and vendors of dairy produce in Eastern Ontario and Quebec regarding the unsatisfactory methods by which butter and cheese were weighed in Montreal. So numerous were the complaints that it was considered necessary by the government to have the matter properly investigated. Consequently in the summer of 1912 a royal commission was appointed. The investigation by this commission covered several months and involved the taking of evidence at many points and from many people.

The commission consisting of R. A. Pringle, chairman; A. J. Hodgson, and S. J. Macdonell, completed their work some time ago and presented their report to the honorable minister of agriculture. In this, the advisability of amending the act respecting the weighing, measuring and gauging of certain articles of general consumption is recommended, as well as the appointment, under the control and direction of the dairy and gold storage commissioner, of a competent official, with headquarters in Montreal, who shall be charged with the duty of investigating the weights of cheese when shortages arise.

The report of the commission, consisting of a pamphlet of seventeen pages, is ready to be sent to those who apply for it to the publications branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

CURED DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS

Once Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are introduced into the family and their efficiency becomes known they are usually found too valuable to do without. For everyday ills arising from liver and bowel disorders they bring relief promptly, and when complicated diseases of the kidneys and liver develop they often prove a successful cure after doctors have failed. As an illustration, you may read the following, which was received a few days ago:

Mrs. John Wright, 62 McGee street, Toronto, Ont., states: "We have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for ten years, and would not be without them. My husband suffered from kidney trouble, and after taking treatment from several doctors without receiving any benefit, tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which worked a complete cure. Since that time we have used them for all stomach and liver disorders."
