

PROGRESSIVES FACE FURTHER LOSS IN PARTY

Forks Supporters to Consider Ousting 18 Who Voted for Budget

CHIEF WHIP CENTRE
OF NEW AGITATION

Only About 35 Now Left from Original 66 Members in Parliament.

OTTAWA, May 4.—What is regarded in many circles here as the beginning of the disintegration of the Progressive Party in Federal politics was the vote of the 18 members of that group voting with the Liberals on the budget last Friday morning.

The central figure in the fight within the party is J. F. Johnston, the chief whip, who was one of the 18 supporting the Government.

Strong objection to his action is expressed by certain members of the main Progressive group and a caucus has been called for tomorrow at which the question of demanding his resignation as whip will be considered. It will be recalled that a few weeks ago 18 of the main Progressive group or rather 11 of them together with the two Labor members of the House, J. S. Woodsworth, Centre, Winnipeg, and William Irvine, East Calgary, formed themselves into an independent group that was the beginning of the break up. Then last Friday morning 18 more of the main group virtually formed themselves into another group by breaking with the main body on the budget.

ONLY FEW OVER 35 LEFT.

There are left a little over 35 out of the original 66 left in the present group. Some significance can be attached to these two so-called secessions, especially with the rapid approach of a general election when the various parties will want to have their seats set so as to gather in the most varied driving power. Unfortunately for the Progressives when cohesion counts most, it is lacking. Of the 18 who supported the Government last Friday about one-half are from Ontario.

As these have been for a long time regarded as virtually Liberals, and are likely to seek Liberal nomination when the election comes, their action is not surprising, but in the case of the remainder, all of who with the exception of T. W. Caldwell, of New Brunswick, come from Western Canada.

DIFFERENT ASPECT.

A different aspect of the situation is presented. It is regarded in Government circles that all those Progressives who voted with the Liberals last Friday now realize after three years or more of Parliamentary experience that only a policy that is to harmonize the various conflicting interests of the whole Dominion is the only practicable policy at this time, and that it is impossible to consider a policy that will assist only one part of the country and hope to retain the confidence of the people.

If rumors heard in the corridors can be relied upon the main body of the Progressive party is determined on a "house-cleaning" and on purging itself of those who have any trust in the two historic parties. If they insist upon the resignation of Mr. Johnston, it is held that the Progressives will do themselves injury and will at the same time by their policy of practically forcing out dissentients make the position of

PLANS TO REOPEN KING TUT'S TOMB

Examination of Mummy From Medical View Point to be made, Says Carter.

LONDON, May 5.—Plans for the reopening of the tomb of Tutankhamen in October are outlined by Howard Carter in an interview published in the "Daily Express" today. Mr. Carter also describes some of the treasures he has taken from the tomb during the winter.

"I have decided to return to Egypt during the last days of September to reopen the tomb in the first week of October," he said. "I shall deal with the mummy of the Pharaoh and other treasures in the tomb. An examination of the mummy from a medical point of view will be made by two eminent professors, Dr. Berry, the celebrated anatomist, and Dr. Saleh Bey Hamdi, sub-director of the school of medicine. The mummy will then be wrapped up again and replaced in the coffin. After that the government will decide its fate."

MOST OLD FOLKS REQUIRE A HEART AND NERVE TONIC

After middle age little sicknesses and ailments seem harder to shake off than when in the heartiest of health, and it is not as steady as they were in the younger days.

Now is the time when all aged people who wish to maintain their health and vigor and retain their energy unimpaired should use

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. M. O'Connor, Whitestone, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled, most of my life, with nervousness of breath, palpitation of the heart, and fainting spells. I was advised, by a friend, to try Milburn's H. & N. Pills, which I did, and at once found relief, and I have never had a really bad spell since. I am 80 years of age and I always keep them in the house, and feel that with their help I will see many years yet. I always recommend them to anyone who is suffering from heart trouble."

COMMUNIST RALLY OUTSHONE BABEL

Capitalist System Strafed in Many Languages by Platform Revolutionaries.

Communist celebrations of May Day wound up last night at Prince Arthur Hall with a crowd of fervid pro-Moscow citizens of both sexes wildly cheering orators who roundly "strafed" Canada's capitalist system in a dozen different languages, says the Montreal Gazette.

The hall was not large enough to hold the streams that poured into the building. Inside the red flag-bedecked chamber, there was a truly international gathering. For more than an hour knots of people stood or sat and chatted vivaciously in most of Europe's tongues when sudden silence fell.

On to the stage, where stacks of banners pleaded with women to "quit the kitchen and join the Soviets," etc. came what the programme called the "revolutionary chorus." White-clad girls whose gowns were decorated with crimson "kerchiefs and stars, and a handful of males formed up on the dais. The maestro bowed graciously, threw his hands wide in the air. The revolutionary chorus took one deep revolutionary breath—and belched. The crowd roared, hats were doffed. The "international" was being sung.

FIERCE SPEECHES

Then the men and women, lads and lassies, settled down to a long evening of fiery speech. A gloomy picture was painted for them. On the red horizon a black cloud, at first no bigger than a man's hand, was growing. "May, 1924, finds the working class in an even worse position than that of last year," was the burden of the words. International capitalism was rampant, even more rampant, and another "blood bath" was threatening the world.

English, French, Russian, Yiddish, Italian—all the languages had their exponents, and if the demonstrations were any criterion, every man, woman and child in the audience was a linguist of distinction. The atmosphere grew steamy as the speakers, free from the restraint under which they had labored during the afternoon's police supervision, enlarged in gushy terms on the beauties and prosperity of Russia, dear Russia, and equally enlarged on the vile characteristics of the rest of the world.

Pop and peanut dealers did a roaring trade amid the din. Of course the hated capitalist currency had to be employed as the medium of exchange, but the buying and selling of goods on the principal seemed to bear up fairly well.

The police did not entirely relax their vigilance. Outside of the hall was a trio of uniformed men. But their duty was in seeing that the Niagara of speech did not spill over the doorstep. They had an easy evening.

CONTEST IN COURT OVER HALF MILLION

Case Over Hiram Walker's Will
May be Taken to Privy Council.

WINDSOR, Ont., May 5.—Steps to carry the Robins-Walker will suit to the Privy Council in England have been taken on behalf of the late Hiram Walker & Sons, Limited, distillers. Five hundred thousand dollars is involved.

Recently Robins lost his second court case on the subject.

He is endeavoring to have the just will of the late E. Chandler Walker, one of the sons of Hiram Walker, set aside in favor of a previous will which bequeathed him 1,000 shares of valuable distillery stock. The first will was made in 1901 or thereabouts and the last will in 1914, a year before the millionaire died. In this will no mention was made of the stock.

Aid President Retires After 11 Years Service

Mrs. E. N. Rowley retired from the office of president of the Ladies' Aid of the Portland Methodist church at the annual meeting held last night. Mrs. Rowley had been president for the last 11 years and under her leadership the society had accomplished splendid work for the church. Many of the members present expressed warm appreciation of her devoted service and regret at her retirement.

Miss E. Carolyn McIntyre was re-elected secretary and is entering upon a seventh term in that office. The reports presented were very gratifying, showing that during the year the total receipts had amounted to about $900. Mrs. L. D. Munro gave the financial statement.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Charles Higgins; vice-presidents, first, Mrs. E. N. Rowley; second, Mrs. H. A. Goodwin; treasurer, Mrs. Warren Williams; additional members of the executive, Mrs. Herbert Ring, Mrs. Duncan G. Lingley, Mrs. Samuel A. Kirk, Mrs. H. D. Cunningham, Mrs. H. T. Breen and Mrs. Ina Calhoun. The committees named were as follows: Flower committee, Mrs. William McIntyre and Mrs. James Stevens; ways and means committee, Mrs. Allan Lingley and Mrs. A. J. Myles, and advertising committee, Miss Lillian Maxwell and Mrs. D. Munro.
