

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

A Pain Remedy.

For over fifty years this wonderful remedy has proved itself the best, safest and surest antidote for pain in the world.

The True Relief, Radway's Ready Relief

For Internal and External Use.

In using medicines to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Morphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice: it masks the symptoms, shuts up and, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

There is no necessity for using these dangerous and uncertain agents when a positive remedy like RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will stop the most excruciating pain quicker without entailing the least danger in either infant or adult.

It instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays inflammation and cures colic, spasms, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels or other glands or mucous membranes.

Pain Cured In An Instant

No matter how violent or excruciating the pains the Rheumatic, Bed-ridden, Infirm, Crippled, Nervous, Neuralgic or prostrated with disease may suffer.

Radway's Ready Relief

WILL AFFORD INSTANT EASE.

A CURE FOR
Summer Complaints, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus.

A half to a teaspoonful of Ready Relief in a half tumbler of water, repeated as often as the discharges continue, and a flannel saturated with Ready Relief placed over the stomach and bowels will afford immediate relief and soon effect a cure.

No bad after effects (which are invariably the sequel of dosing with opium, etc.), will follow the use of Radway's Ready Relief, but the bowels will be left in a healthy, normal condition.

A half to a teaspoonful in a half tumbler of water will, in a few minutes, cure Cramps, Spasms, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Sick Headache, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Flatulency and all internal pains.

Malaria, Chills and Fever, Fever and Ague Conquered.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF
Not only cures the patient seized with this terrible foe to settlers in newly settled districts, where the Malaria or Ague exists, but if people exposed to it will, every morning on getting out of bed, take twenty or thirty drops of the Ready Relief in a glass of water, and eat, say, a cracker, they will escape attacks. This must be done before going out. There is not a remedial agent in the world that will cure Fever and Ague and all other malarial, bilious and other fevers, aided by Radway's Pills, as quickly as Radway's Ready Relief.

SAVE YOUR NERVES.

If one observes the crowd in the streets it is curious and most disagreeable to see how small the number is who are not constantly making grimaces and working their faces or jaws in some manner. I have heard it said it was bashfulness that caused this, but it has not been my observation that bashfulness was so widely distributed an American trait; besides, how does twisting the face help to keep one in countenance? No, it is not bashfulness; it is misdirected nervous energy, which ought to be aiding the movements of their legs or getting stored up somewhere in the central nervous reservoirs for future use.

Learn to keep still when you rest; when you move, move with the part of the body needed; do not waste your force by walking with your arms and face as well as with your legs. If circumstances force an unusual and fatiguing amount of exertion upon you, break it now and then by periods of absolute rest. No matter how brief they are, they will be useful if you make them complete and perfect in the way described. This is true of mental as well as of bodily exertion. A minute or two minutes of quiet, with closed eyes if possible, with your tentious relaxed and the gearing of the machinery thrown off for the moment, will help and refresh you greatly. Here, again, more may be gained if the ability to relax mentally can be secured in a fashion similar to the withdrawing of muscular tension. Learn to employ your mind when not using it.—Harper's Bazar.

A PARROT AT BREAKFAST.

A funny parrot lives in Brooklyn and is very fond of the lady she lives with. When the breakfast bell rings in the morning she will push open the door of her cage with her bill, fly down to the breakfast table, take her own chair, which she always knows and occupies at each meal, and wait until the family assembles. If they should not gather as quickly as she thinks they ought, she will call out, "Hurry up, folks, hurry up!" and at the same time hop over the oatmeal dish and attempt to lift the cover; for she is very fond of oatmeal and will make her entire breakfast of it. She would not touch the oatmeal, even if able to lift the cover; for she is a very good Polly. After finishing her breakfast she flies right back to her cage.—Exchange.

AN ESSAY ON HABIT.

A story is told of an English schoolmaster who offered a prize to the boy who should write the best composition in five minutes, on "How to Overcome Habit." At the expiration of five minutes the compositions were read. The prize went to a lad of nine years. Following is his essay: "Well, sir, habit is hard to overcome. If you take off the first letter it does not change 'abit.' If you take off another you still have a 'bit' left. If you take off still another, it is not wholly used up; all of which goes to show that if you want to get rid of a habit you must throw it off altogether."

This is the wonder of divine grace that brings so small beginning to that height of perfection that we are not able to conceive of—that a little spark of true grace, which is not only indiscernible to others, but often to the Christian himself, should yet be the beginning of that condition wherein they shall shine brighter than the sun in the firmament.—Robert Leighton.

It is sometimes good to be content with doing little; the great and splendid occasions in which a man can benefit his country are few; the humble duties by which her benefit may be advanced are of daily occurrence.—Sydney Smith.

DREAMING OF HOME.

It comes to me often in silence
When the freight spatters low—
When the black, uncertain shadows
Seem wreaths of long ago;
Always with a throb of heartache,
That thrills each pulsing vein,
Comes the old, unquiet longing:
For the peace at home again.

I'm sick of the roar of cities,
And of faces odd and strange;
I know where there's warmth and welcome,
And my yearning fancies range
Back to the dear old homestead,
With an aching sense of pain;
But there'll be joy in the coming,
When I go home again.

When I go home again! There's music
That never may die away,
And it seems the hands of angels,
On a mystic harp at play,
Have touched with a yearning sadness,
On a beautiful broken strain,
To which is my fond heart's wording,
"When I go home again."

Outside of my darkened window
Is the great world's crash and din,
And slowly the autumn shadows
Come drifting, drifting in,
Bobbing the night wind murmurs
To the splash of the autumn rain,
But I dream of the glorious greeting
When I go home again!

—Rugene Field.

A London paper gives this story, which may possibly have a moral concealed in it for some one in our own country:

As a well-known London clergyman was recently ascending the steps to his church, an old lady requested his help. With his usual courtly grace, he gave the old woman his arm. On reaching the top step she halted, breathlessly, and asked him who was to preach.

"The Rev. Mr. —," he replied, giving his own name.

"Oh, dear," exclaimed the lady, help me down again! "I'd rather listen to the endless grinding of a windmill. Help me down again; I'll not go in."

The minister smiled and gently assisted her down, remarking as he parted with her, "I wouldn't go in either if I weren't the preacher!"
