8. That there is a mutual obligation between Minister and people— 8. That there is a mutual obligation between Minister and people-one to administer in things religious and spiritual, according to the gifts God has given. The Church to communicate of their temporal or worldly substance for his comfort and support, and that by an equality, as nearly as can be ascertained, that one may not be bur-thaned and another eased. But this is not to be effected by force or thened and another eased. But this is not to be effected by force or thened and another eased. But this is not to be enected by force or compulsion, or by the sword of civil power; but it is to be a free-will compulsion, or by the sword of civil power; but it is to be a free-will offering, agreeably to the Scriptures of truth; and every member deficient in this matter ought to be disciplined by Gospel rule, as for any breach of covenant, or neglect of performing Christian duty:

COVENANT.

We do now, in the presence of the great, all-seeing and most glorious God, and before angels and men, give up ourseives to the Lord Jehovah, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, and avouch him this day to be Jenovan, Father, Son, and Mory Gnost, and avouch min this day to be our God, our Father, our Saviour, and our Leader, and receive him as our Portion forever. We give up ourselves to the Lord Jesus Christ, and engage to adhere to him as the head of his people in the covenant and engage to adhere to min as the nead or ms people in the covenants of grace, and rely on him as our Prophet, Priest, and King, to bring us to eternal blessedness.

us to eternal blessedness.

We acknowledge our everlasting and indispensable obligations to glorify God by living a holy, righteous, and godly life, in this present world, in all our several places and relations; and we engage by the assistance of the Divine Spirit, to improve our time, strength, talents, and advantages to his clary and the good of our fallow ways promise. assistance of the Divine Spirit, to improve our time, strength, talents, and advantages to his glory and the good of our fellow-men; promising, by Divine help, to walk in our houses as becomes those professing godliness, and to maintain the worship of God in our families, and to train up those under our care in the ways of religion and

We also give up ourselves to one another in covenant, promising to conduct towards each other as brethren in Christ, watching over one another in the love of God—reproving, rebuking, and admonishing one another for good as occasion may require; and if we at any time know we will not expose it by tathing it to others; and if we at any time know we will not expose it by tathing it to others; and if we have any personal difficulty with our brethren, we will not cherish enmity or speak ing to the direction of our brethren, we will not cherish enmity or speak ing to the direction of our Lord—Matt. xviii. 15, 17—that sin may be the church. We engage to watch not only against the most gross evils, but also against all coolish talking and jesting, which are not condisregarding promises, and not fulfilling engagements—tattling and backbiting, spending time idly at taverns, or elsewhere, and vain, conduct towards each other as brethren in Christ, watching over one
