MONTCALM'S N. S. SISTER. WARIE PAYSANT AND HER MISFOR-

it History or Legend?—The Killing of ayant—The Journey to Port Pisiquid Vith the Indians—The Scene After the

In France, in 1712, Louis, the eldest of the Marquis of Montcalm, was born, and three years later a little sister, Marie, entered the household. Afterwards there dians, fearing their captives would be seen by the men at the fort, forced them to lie in the bottom of the canoes.

Many days passed and still they were on the march, sometimes tramping through gloomy forests, and often moving over lake or stream in the canoes. Wearisome it was, but as the days went by and they suffered no violence from the Indians, the great terror that at first seized the children wore, away. The redskins became triendly and taught the boys the use of the bow and arrow.

wore, away. The redskins became friendly and taught the boys the use of the bow and arrow.

The mother thought it was better for the children not to be alarmed, but deep in her heart was a nameless dread—a horror of the fate awaiting them at their journey's end; for oft had she heard of the treachery of the Indians. On, on they went. At last, leaving the forest, they paddled up a large river until they came to a city, built partly on low ground and partly on a high bluff. They landed and were led through the lower to the upper town. And here a surprise awaited the weary anxious woman. Lo, she was met by her brother Louis, General Montcalm, commander of the French forces at Quebec. Then, like a great flood, surged back the recollection of a fond husband, now dead; a happy home, now laid in ruins; the long weary journey sud the sickening anxiety that had filled her heart; and here is the author of her misery, her brother. Bitterly, sconfully, she accused him of destroying her home and of murdering her husband. She would hear no explanation—she could never forgive him.

Montcalm placed John and Louis in the Jesuit college, where they were educated for excholic priests; and he made his sister

THERE IS a man who has spent the past twenty-five years of his life exploring for gold and other minerals in Queensland, New South Wales, Victoria, Tasmania, and New Zealand. He has no doubt picked up some money, yet he says that the investment of 7s. 6d. brought him in bigger returns than any other he ever made.

family beared the report of a number, tololowed by a scream of terror, and soon they awa a band of Indians approaching the house.

The scream was from a mar captured by the property of the plunder they would find would in duce them to release him. As soon as they reached the inland the Indians about him. Poor wretch lib little thought help the plunder they would find would in the him. Poor wretch lib little thought help the plunder they would find would in the him. Poor wretch lib little thought help the plunder they would find would in the plunder they would find would be thought help the plunder they would find would be thought help the plunder they would be thought help the plunder they would be thought help the plunder they would be to proice the work of the plunder they have been adjusted the masket at hullet entered the father's breast, and he fellb backward into his wile's arms, simply saying. "My heart is growing old, Mary" and his little on this earth and the plunder they had enjoyed together—now his heart had grown cold, and he was left in the gathering from with heart had grown cold, and he was left in the gathering from with heart had grown cold, and he was left in the gathering from which he door. In agony she awated he increase had been so happy as they heart to death by the tomakawk.

Mary Fayant and her family were left to the canoes, and after the findians had plundered the house the mask that the secretal behand the heart had been so happy as they heart to death by the conshawk.

Mary Fayant and her family were left to the canoes, and after the findians had plundered the house the middle the heart and the secretal lakes, the loads of heart and the plundered the house the middle of the control of the canoes, and after the findians had been doubted to the canoes, and after the findians had been doubted the thing the control of the canoes and the secretal lakes, the loads and the control of the canoes and the secretal lakes, the loads and the control of the canoes and the secretal lakes, the load

All this in addition to their own desolation and suffering. Yes, Mr. Peck is quite right.

But to get back to what he says himself.

"At the advice of a friend—Mr. W. Williams of this place—I began to take the far-famed Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. What result did it have? I'll tell you: It has transformed me from a prematurely old man into one quite regenerated.

"I am a rapid eater and can't break myself of the bad habit. Hence I make it a point to keep a bottle by me always and an occasional dose when necessary to set me right.

I can safely assert that the investment of 7s. 6d. in Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup was the best I ever made in all my chequered career. You may depend that I prescribe this medicine to all and sundry people I come in contact with. Prior to using it I spent pounds at different times, but only got partial relief. The Syrup seems to make straight for the seat of the trouble. I pen these lines just to show other sufferers the way out. There are any number of respectable persons here who can attest to the truth of what I have written.—Respectfully (Signed) WM. BROMFIELD PECK, Russell, Bay of Islands, New Zealand, July 2nd, 1892."
We don't call for witnesses. Mr. Peck's tale is frankness and truth itself. We re hold out our hand in greeting across the sea. Dysapesia is a living death, and Mother Seigel gives new life. Millions es sing that chorus. But he had better eat d slower. Write sgain and tell us you are doing so, Friend Peck.

"There were two terminal towns of peculiar cussedness in the history of the extension of the two great sallroads westward across the Kansas prairies," said E. D. Burnham of a big Leavenworth commission house. "Before Newton, on the Atchison road, was started, Abilene on the Kansas Pacific, had its day, and it was there that Wild Bill made his famous record as City Marshal. It was the nearest shipping point for western Texas and New Mexico cattle, and the cattlemen, when they came in with their great herds in the fall and spring, felt like turning themselves loose and running the town. Wild Bill, however, kept pretty good order in Abilene, for there was no mustaking the fact that he was the big hero of the trontier, and a man who as marshal or deputy sheriff meant to do his duty at all hazards.

"I was on the road for our firm at that in and Leave trom Toneka into Abilene.

In France, in 1712, Louis, was born, sand three years later a little sister, Marie, estered the household. Afterwards there were other brothers and sisters, but this destetch has to do only with Louis and Marie. In childhood's days they were constantly together at play in the ground surrounding the noble old house, and though, like other children, they had their quarrels, they were very fond of each other. One regard trial to Marie as she grew older was her brother's contempt for dolls; neither did to surrender without a strugged and the same was her brother's contempt for dolls; neither did to surrender without sarrounder the same wealth, but a hugework, fell in love with Marie, she knew that she commend that like without him would be miserable even though a surrounded by all that before had made her so happy. So they field together, which were the dol home so dear to her, never to return; but as concisions a work of the condition of that like without him would be miserable even though a surrounded by all that before had made her so happy. So they field together, which was the concluded that like without him would be miserable even though a surrounded by all that before had made her so happy. So they field together, which were the condition of the surrounder that he concluded that like without him would be miserable even though a surrounded by all that before had made her so happy. So they field together, which were the condition of the surrounded by all that before had made her so happy. So they field together, which were the condition of the surrounder that the concluded that like without him would be miserable even though a surrounded by all that before had made her so happy. So they field together, which were the condition of the proglect of some time a control to say to the surrounder that the condition of the surrounder that the condition of the surrounder that the surrounder that the condition of the surrounder that the condition of the surrounder that the condition of the surrounder that the surrounder

ous BREAKFAST COCOA is abs

the seventeenth century there were monted de piete, formed more or less after the Italian model, in most countries of Europe. The characteristics of the original institutions remain with those of today, although they have long since eeased to be managed by the prests, or to be under the influence of the churches. The main object which Savonarola and other early founders had ain view—the protection of the poor from usurers and their rehet in periods of distress—is still maintained, and the monte depiete in all Latin countries are associated with charitable institutions and hospitals.

Billboard competition runs pretty high nowadays in the metropolis. An owner of some down-town property was awakened by the loud ringing of his door bell recently in Harlem.

"What on earth is that ?" he exclaimed, "Is the house on fire?"

"What on earth is that?" he exclaimed,
"Is the house on fire?"
"Somebody's dead," said his wife. In the mean time a servant was returning from answering the bell.
"Please sir, there's two gents down stairs as wishes to see you," said the girl.
"See me? Why, it's three o'clock in the morring."
"Important business, they says, sir."
"Well, I should think it would be—waking a man up this time o' night. I'll have to go down, I suppose."

He quickly threw on some clething and went below. Two "gents" awaited him in the hall.
"I beg your pardon, sir, for knocking you up at this hour, but I want to make you a proposition for billboards around the

"And, sir," began the other "geat," "my ompasy would like to make you a procation for the use of the walls that may emain standing after the fire."

"Fire! Fire! What are you talking bout?" The old man was completely omplussed.

nonplussed.

"Why, your place caught fire about two hours ago," said the second "gent"—

"And is gutted by this time," added the first "gent."

"Of course you'll give me the retusal for billboards—remember the two thestre tickets!" yelled the first "gent" as the old man bolted for the stairs.

IT WAS A WEDDING.

Barclay's Mission, of Atlanta, is known everywhere as the original "Sunday School on Wheels." The interest manifested in this famous mission by Mr. J. F. Barclay has led some persons to believe that Mr. Barclay was a minister. Now Mr. Barclay is in the undertaking business, and thereby hance a tale.

is in the undertaking business, and thereby hangs a tale.

The other day a very serious young man entered his establishment.

'I would like to speak with Mr. Barclan," he said.

That gentleman stepped forward.

The young man looked more serious than ever, but he said:

'I—I want you to come around to my house this afternoon at three o'clock,"

'Very well," said Mr. Barclay,

The young man hesitated, coughed, and added:

'It's such a serious matter, that

'All funerals are," observed Mr. Barclay.

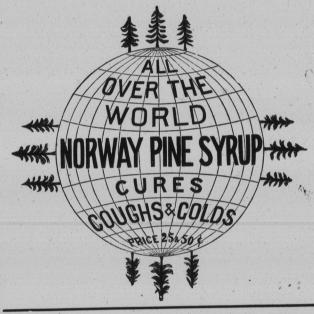

"All funerals are," observed Mr. Barclay,
"But this isn't exactly a funeral," explained the young man, "it's a marriage, and I want you to ite the knot for us."
"But, my dear friend," said the astonished Mr. Barclay, 'I am not a minister."
"Not a minister."
"Certamly not!"
"Then," cried the young man, in a hopeless voice, "I'm done for! Eternally done for! My girl told me that she would never marry me unless you pertormed the ceremony, and if you don't get a license to preach rich away, I'll be a bachelor forever!"

"This," said the enterprising contributor, "is a map illustrating certain phases of the Chinese-Japanese war."
"We never touch upon such matters," said the editor. "This is a fashion paper."
"Good!" cried the enterprising contributor. "That being so, you can use this same map for a pattern. Cutting up here along the Corean boundary, and running down here, and ending up at Pekin will give you the finest pattern for a winter dolman, surred to a woman of forty, you ever saw."

BOLD BY GROCERS EVERYWHERE WALTER BAKER & CO. DORCHESTER, MASS.

Use Only Pelee Island Wine Co's. Wines. THEY ARE PURE JUICE

ENGRAVING.

"PROGRESS" ENGRAVING BUREAU ST. JOHN, N. B.

NEW YOST"

NOW TAKES THE LEAD.

THE No. 4 Machine is acknowledged to possess all the features of a perfect WRITING MACHINE. See what some of the users of the OLD STYLE "YOST" machines say of them. these are but samples of many other equally strong endorsements.

r I use it th the ribbon on account of the cleanliness, and he ry practical purposes.

Yours very truly,
E. T. C. a nowles, The New "YOST" far surpasses the machines referred to above, and the No. 4 has many entirely new reatures.

The Yost is by far the cheapest Writing Machine, because it is the most economical in respect to inking supplies, repairs, bility, ease of learning, ease of action, size, weight, beauty of work, speed, etc., etc. etc. etc.

IRA CORNWALL, General Agent for the Maritime Provinces,

BOARD OF TRADE BUILDING, St. John, or the following Agents: i. B. Ward Thorae, St. John; A. S. Murray, Fredericton, N. B.; J. T. Whitlock, St. Stephen; W. B. Morris, St. Andrews; J. Fred Benson, Chathaman and Chatham