London Opinion on the Award. (Continued from page 1.) London, Oct. 22.—The Scotsman says Chamberlain moves from success to success. The most remarkable feature of the situation is that outside of party politicians there is no real hostility to his scheme; nowhere is there a shadow of a sign that the workmen of the country are opposed to the new fiscal policy.

Mr. Ritchie says December 12 at Freddy, he will make a complete answer to Chamberlain's offer.

In London, the general opinion holds the belief that Canada, in view of the Alaska adverse decision, can now ask the British government for all she wants and the suggestion is being widely made that the United States concede the two islands she obtained in the Portland canal in return for a concession by Canada. Another suggestion is that Canada receive nearly the whole of the territory arbitrator in return for a British subsidy in another part of the world.

The cost of the recent arbitration is estimated at close to $400,000. Canada spent nearly $200,000 in preparing the case and the fees of the British lawyers. The United States expenditure is about $100,000.

Mr. Aytonworth, before starting from Liverpool yesterday, said that the Canadian side was heavily over-represented, that, though there would not be a cry for separation, they would likely demand larger powers of self government to prevent a repetition of such decisions in the future.

Are Never Without Peruna in the House for Catarrhal Diseases.

MR. AND MRS. J. O. ATKINSON, INDEPENDENCE, MO. Under date of January 10, 1897, Dr. D. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife had been suffering from a complication of diseases for the past 25 years. Her case had baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing.

"She also was passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life. In June, 1896, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Peruna and Marshall, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her. She firmly believes that she would have been dead only for those wonderful remedies.

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of 25 years' standing. At times I was almost past going. I commenced to use Peruna according to your instructions and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me.

"Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more. Catarrh cannot exist where Peruna is taken according to directions. Success is yours and your remedies."
