MONSTER MAMMAL PROBABLY WHALE. SHOT AT RED HEAD

James Stephenson Shoots Leviathon in Baby Stage, Weighing Half a Ton-Dangerous Looking, But No Upper Teeth.

Thursday Nov. 25.

A leviathan of some description was trapped on Sunday afternoon in the shallow water of Anthony's Cove. It was shot by James Stephenson of Marsh road and John McIlveen of Red Head and its tail, fins and lower jaws were cut off and brought to the city to be prepared and mounted by a faxidermist. No one who has seen the mammal has been able to decide just what it is. It measured about ten feet from the snout to the tip of its tail, said Mr. Stephenson yesterday in describing his captive. It was about as his around as a puncheon and the fins were long and serate. Some who saw it, he said, were inclined to think it a shark, but the mouth instead of being low down was squarely in front. It was large, too. The monster in many ways resembled a young whale. There were no teeth whatever in the upper jaw and in the lower jaw there were eight formidable dentals set about an inch apart.

During Sunday, Monday and yesterday many people were in to have a look at the "catch." As far as their meagre day many people were in to have a look at the "catch." LIEUT, HUGHES WELL KNOWN ALONG RIVER

Nephew of Minister of Militia, Killed in Battle, Was on Valley Read Survey Two Years Ago.

Gagetown, Nov. 24—Much regret was expressed here when the news came that Lieut. Chester Hughes, son of Dr. James L. Hughes, of Toronto, had been killed in action while serving in an engineering corps in France. Two years ago Lieut. Hughes spent the summer here working on the Valley Railroad survey, and made many friends. He was just such a one as would have volunteered to undertake some dangerous engineering feat on the battlefield and adds another

Sheriff Williams returned to Gagetown yesterday afternoon from the Narrows with Otty Thorne, who was committed for trial by Magistrate Rainsford Coles on the suspicion of sheeting. Stapley on the suspicion of shooting Stanley Akerley, and lodged in Gagetown jail. Thorne, who is an alleged deserter from the 55th Battalion, is only nineteen, and is of good appearance. During the magnitude of the control strate's examination he was quite un-concerned and amused himself during the proceedings by whistling. He is married and his bride and father, mothe and two sisters were all present at the examination. The prisoner wished to be tried by the speedy trials act, but it will be some days before the decision regarding the date of the trial will be made known.
