Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, fallen hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning grey or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

Nursery Rhymes, No. 11.

Yt is an antiente marinicre,
And he stoppeth one of three;
"By thy long gree beard and glittering eye,
Now wherefore stoppe't thou me?
Still; in thy hand I'd understand
Why should that bottle be?

"The bridegroom's doors are opened wide,
And I am next of kin;
The guests are met, the feast is set,
May'st hear the merry din.
So, quick, I pray, thou'it say thy say
And let me enter in."

He holds him with his glittering eye,—
Ye wedding guest stood still,
And listens like a three year's child,—
Ye marinere had his will;
"My friend," saith he, "this remedee
Will Rheumatism kill."

Ye wedding guest sat on a stone,
He cannot choose but hear,
And thus spake on that antiente man,
Ye bright eyed marinere:
"Neuralgia, too, and Tic Doloreaux,
It causes to disappear.

"Tis a capital cure and always sure,
All others must go to the wall."
(Now ye wedding guest had a pain in his chest,
The result of a dangerous fall),
So without any fuse, he pulled out his puse,
"Your stock—I will take it all."

Ye marinere whose eye is bright,
Whose beard with age is hoar,
Is gone: and now ye wedding guest
Turns from ye bridegroom's door,
And in jigs and reels he kicks up his heels,
For his aches he feels no more.
