Anglican Synod Meets
The Synod of the Anglican Diocese of Niagara opened yesterday morning at Hamilton when Bishop Clark delivered his address. He expressed pleasure at the fact that the minimum stipend for the clergy was now $1,200 and a free house. Social service, he said, must henceforth take its place in the Church along with mission work and religious training. The Church must welcome the returned soldiers and win the clergy were more or less infected with the pleasure-seeking and worldliness of which there was too much in the world. There was too much sectionalism in the national life, which had resulted in feuds between the manufacturers, Labor, farmers and other factions. These should be brought together by a peace conference appointed by the Government. Union of command had won the war, as the world could be won for Christ only by unity of Christians.
