THE ST. JOHN VALLEY RAILWAY.

The project to construct a railway down the valley of the St. John river has been before the people of New Brunswick for some years now. It is a project which hitherto has usually been the sport of politicians and intention of the company is to proceed has generally become more prominent struction of this road, all of which have died a sudden death as soon as occasion which called them into existence had passed.

is, however, on a very different principle from those which have hitherto been put forward; and the construc tion of a railway down the valley is now nearer realization than has ever been the case before. This time it is not the politicians who are exploiting the subject for their party ends, but business men, who realize that the project is one which has been the plaything of politics long enough and who feel that it is time the people themselves whose interests are most vitally concerned, had a say in the matter. As to the destrability, nay the absolute necessity, for a rallway down the St. John Valley, there can be no two opinions; the requirements of the people living in that section of the province imperatively demand it. Now that the matter has been taken up by the boards of trade of St. John Fredericton and Woodstock, the people have some guarantee that business is meant; these bodies have men interests to serve other than the furthering of the general convenience and the besterment of trade conditions of the personnel of the previous servers. The provincial government though whether that body will be prepared to go so far as to guarantee the bonds of the road for so large as sum as $25,000, or even $20,000 at mile. Is another matter. However, the government may be depended up not to assist in the construction of this road to the utmost limit consists.

So persistently fortunate, though, have been the wielders of the mother country's foreign police in their negotiations with the powers of the world that it may be reasonably suspected that shrewed diplomacy rather than bull-headed link accounts for her successes.

The latest triumph is to be found in the treaty made by France and Germany over Moroeco. Although not even mentioned in the pact it now turns out the unsuspected, but real beneficiary, is Great Britain. There is a clause which provides that no fourcess shall arise at Tanglers or Centa to dispute with England the Mediterranean gateway.

Mr. Crocket—Was there any public body in the county which made representations to the department?

Mr. Pugsley—I cannot state as to that now. I know that we were urged to get additional wharf accommodation there. It appears that the Great Northern Railway goes to the water and there was no public wharf there, and the accommodation was very limited. There is no doubt we have a very valuable property and one that it was necessary wa should have. In connection with the railway it will be a great advantage to Richtbucto.

His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these allments—these weak and failtering inside nerves. This no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderbecome fully convinced of its wonder ful power. Anyway, don't drug the organ.
