Map out your Plans Now! For Study Abroad:

Robert McKenzie Canadian Scholarship

Funds have been raised in Canada by friends, colleagues and former students of Professor Robert McKenzie to establish an annual award in his memory tenable at the London School of Economics for a candidate for a Master's or research degree. Applicants should have a first degree from a Canadian university. Students already registered at LSE or new candidates may apply.

The value of the award will be $3,300 (Canadian) and may be held concurrently with others providing that the total awarded for fees and maintenance, including the Robert McKenzie Canadian Scholarship, does not exceed £7,000 in 1988-89.

Application should be made to The Scholarships Officer, London School of Economics, Houghton Street, London WC2A 2AE. The closing date for receipt of applications for the year 1988-89 is 1 March 1988.

Université Canadienne en France

Students seeking opportunities to study in France to improve their knowledge of the French language and culture, can apply to this Canadian university located in southern France. Tuition is $7,695 and includes accommodation and airfare. Students who are accepted are eligible for financial assistance through OSAP.

Please Be an informed Traveller!

When making plans to travel during Reading Week make yourself familiar with the Travel Industry Act:

- If buying any type of travel, check to ensure that the agent is registered.
- Only make out a cheque to a company name not a person's name.
- Check with the Ministry of Consumer Affairs to see if the agency is registered, even if you see a registry number on an ad.
- Some agencies such as Inter-Campus and Campus Marketing have sales representatives. These individuals can promise travel but cannot accept money in their own name. They can accept cheques payable to the agency.
