

THE DARROW ENIGMA 341

"Bless you, my dear Jeannette," I reply; "I should think you had," and I draw her down gently into my lap and kiss her again and again for the sake of the conviction it will carry. She says I am smothering her, which means she is convinced.

.
You see I have learned some things since I was a bachelor.

THE END