ST. JOSEPH'S HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

The largest and most representative assemblage that has gathered in the city for a long time to receive evidence of the progress of the children of our schools, was that which filled the hall of De La Salle Institute on Wednesday afternoon, the 29th ult. Among those present were Very Rev. Vicar-General McCann, who presided, Rev. Father Kelly, C.S.B., Rev. Father O'Malley, St. Catharines; Rev. Father Whelan, Rev. Father La Marche, Rev. W. A. McCann, Rev. Father Hand, Rev. Father ment to the Misses Ella Ford, Kate Hallam, Gertrude Hale and Irene O'Malley.

GENERAL INTENTION OF LEAGUE OF SACRED HEART.

In explanation of "Peter's Pence," which is the general intention of the League for the present month, the Messenger says: Peter's Pence is the name given to the alms which the faithful children of the Church devote for the Pope. Our associates are asked during the present month to consider this excellent and truly apostolic work. The need of funds is sorely felt in Rome. The Common Father of the Faithful naturally tells us that he desires our aid, not for himself personally, but for the advancement of the Church's interests throughout the world. For this motive alone what was formerly a voluntary tax should now, owing to circumstances, be considered by all to be an obligatory one. Practical action on the above will give the associations of Toronto, in common with those of the entire world, something to engage their attention during the current month.

MEETING OF HOSPITAL ALUMNI

The regular monthly meeting of the graduate nurses of St. Michael's Hospital was held at 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Grier, the president, was in the chair and Miss Graves, head nurse of St. Michael's, with about twenty others, were in attendance. Dr. McIlwraith gave a most interesting lecture on Obstetrics, after which an informal discussion took place as to time of next meeting, which it was decided would take place on the second Monday of the coming month. The Alumni Association is now in its second year, the object being to keep the graduates in touch with their Alma Mater and abreast of the times by attendance at the monthly meetings at the hospital.

NO MORE RENTED PEWS.

At the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes it was announced that owing to the increasing demand for pews, a demand which it was impossible to fill, in future the seats would be free, the principal of "first come first served" to prevail henceforth. As in the other churches, where pews are said to be free, a collection will be taken up to help pay for the seating.

DEATH OF MR. THOS. COSGRAVE

On Sunday, Nov. 26th, the death of Mr. Thos. Cosgrave took place at 21 Montrose avenue. Death was sudden and unexpected and due to heart failure. Mr. Cosgrave was born sixty-six years ago in Limerick, Ireland, and came to Canada at the age of sixteen, settling in Toronto and remaining here until the end. He was survived by two sons, Patrick and Thomas, and by one daughter, Mrs. W. H. Durand. He was a member of St. Mary's parish. R.I.P.

DEATH OF MR. PATRICK TRACEY.

A long time and much respected resident of the West End, was called away when Mr. Patrick Tracey died at his home, 192 St. Helen's avenue, on Monday last. Mr. Tracey received a slight stroke a few weeks ago from which he never recovered. Prior to his illness he was a daily attendant at Mass and as otherwise edifying member of St. Helen's congregation. He is survived by four daughters, Sister Mary St. Cecilia of the Good Shepherd Community, Toronto, and Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. McGillion and Mrs. Newton. His funeral took place on Wednesday morning from St. Helen's church to St. Michael's Cemetery. R.I.P.

MISS ROSE MARY O'CONNOR.

The death of Miss Rose Mary O'Connor, a graduate of St. Michael's Hospital, occurred at McKellar's Hospital, Fort William, on Sunday, November 26th. Miss O'Connor, who was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. O'Connor of Sudbury, and Sister of Mayor O'Connor, was assistant superintendent at the hospital where she contracted typhoid fever and underwent an operation for appendicitis, dying shortly afterwards. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning at St. Ann's Church by Rev. Father Cote, assisted by Rev. Father Primeau as deacon and Rev. Father Lefebvre as sub-deacon. Many friends came from a distance to attend the funeral and numerous floral tributes were sent as testimonies of affection to the deceased. While in Toronto Miss O'Connor was admired as a capable nurse and congenial companion, and her former associates deeply regret her untimely and unlooked for end. A Mass for the repose of the soul of her former companion was attended at St. Michael's Hospital on Monday of this week by the nurses and graduates who, together with the Sisters of the Institution, formed a special choir for the occasion. Miss O'Connor is survived by her parents and by her sisters, Mrs. Morin and Mrs. Silverter, to all of whom the sympathy of Miss O'Connor's many friends in Toronto is sincerely extended. R.I.P.

Hamilton Wedding

A very pretty wedding was that of Miss Eva M. Mackay, eldest daughter of Mr. James Mackay, manager of the Canadian Transfer Co., Hamilton, and Mr. John Gayheart of Toronto. The ceremony took place in St. Mary's Cathedral, Hamilton, Rev. Father Mahoney officiating. A large number of friends were present, for whom Messrs. John Mackay and John Dolan acceptably performed; the part of ushers, Millard's Ave Verum was sung by Mr. John Walsh. The bride was attended by Miss Dolly Harwood of Toronto, and Mr. Wm. Gayheart supported the groom. After the ceremony a reception was held at Cloyar Villa, the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Gayheart will reside in Toronto.

May we ever be earnest with our work, and ever be found ready, willing, and anxious to do all that God has appointed for us.

Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

ARCHBISHOP BRUCHESI

tions, as well as Christian sentiments, who have considered it their duty to publish favorable comments on these plays, which they would have otherwise declared bad and condemnable. They have tried to convince that which can never be conciliated, and they will permit us to say to them that they have caused us the greatest sadness.

LIST OF PARTICIPANTS.
"But a French morning paper has done even more, for after having published our pastoral letter, it gave a long list of citizens noticed at the theatre. Protestations which have reached us lead us to believe that this list contained the names of most honorable families, not one member of which was present. We resent, of course, this affront, which a Protestant sheet from another province did not fail to notice. But the injury does not stop with our person; it reaches in fact the authority with which we are clothed, and we leave the task to Catholics to qualify it as it deserves."

"Now, very dear brethren, let us say to you that it is less against certain theatrical plays than against bad theatres in general that we have put you on your guard. In the name, therefore, of our holy religion, in the name of the young, who are dear to us, and in the name of the innocence of your children, we wish you to be faithful to our paternal counsels.

"There is in our midst, no one denies it, a theatre in particular where representations are given of the most obscene nature, and where very often dramas of the most perverse kind are played, and against which complaints have reached us from many quarters. Let the managers of this theatre remember, that here in Canada the criminal code punishes very severely scenes of this nature. The civil authorities charged with the protection of good morals will permit us to remind them that they are under the greatest obligation to watch these plays and act when duty so requires it.

"For our part, in the legitimate exercise of our right and of our episcopal authority, we now warn these managers that if they continue in the course they have been following for some time past, we will have recourse against them to measures more efficacious perhaps than the sanction of the laws of the state.

"We will not recede from the performance of our sacred duty, and we will then see who wish to be the submissive children of the church or who wish to scorn its commandments and its morals.

"It is our most ardent desire, however, not to be under the necessity of exercising this painful duty, and we ask our Lord to console us in hearing our prayer.

"PAUL, Archbishop of Montreal."
