

TO FARMERS AND DAIRYMEN

It will pay every farmer or every farmer's wife to sit right down and write for Sharples "Business Dairying." This valuable book contains information that can be found in no other book, and will help any dairyman to make his business more profitable. It tells How to Feed, What to Feed, How to Care for Feed, What Foods Produce Greatest Amount of Milk, How to Care for the Dairy Cow in the way to get best results, and the whole book is practical. To get all the good out of your milk you should of course use

THE SHARPLES TUBULAR CREAM SEPARATOR

It is not only guaranteed to more than pay for itself annually, but the ease with which you can skim, the low can, the self-oiling bearings, the simple Tubular bowl with only one little part inside to wash, the moderate price, are all points you should know about. Send today for the free "Business Dairying" and full information about the Sharples Tubular, giving number of cows you keep. Ask for booklet G. 193

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Veterinary.

HORSE PANTS.

Four-year-old horse pants in hot weather. He is nearly all right until he starts to travel, and then pants freely on slight exertion.

Ans.—This is a congenital weakness for which nothing can be done. It is probable he may improve with age and regular work.

PRESSURE UPON BRAIN.

Two weeks ago my cow commenced to carry her head to one side, and became all stiffened up. She seems sore and lame, especially in hind quarters.

Ans.—There is pressure upon the brain, either from congestion of the blood vessels or from a growth or thickening of the tissues. Give a purgative of 2 lbs. Epsom salts and 1 ounce ginger. Follow up with 1 dram iodide of potassium, twice daily.

ENTERITIS.

Pig died. A post-mortem revealed the intestines covered with a thick, yellowish matter, and they appeared to be grown together.

Ans.—This was inflammation of the bowels. It is caused by exposure, violent exertion, irritating matters in the intestines, diarrhoea, etc. It is usually fatal. Treatment consists in applying heat to the abdomen, as hot poultices or cloths wrung out of hot water, and giving 2 to 6 drams' laudanum every four or five hours. Preventive treatment is the best. This consists in keeping comfortable, feeding food of good quality, and seeing that they get regular exercise. In fact, taking general good care of them.

BLIND STAGGERS.

Mare, eighteen years old, has had a few attacks of blind staggers. Just when being led out of the stable in the morning, she goes sideways and backwards, falls down, but gets up almost immediately, and is all right.

Ans.—This is apparently what is commonly known as "stomach staggers" or "blind staggers," due to a congestion of the blood vessels of the brain, which is supposed to occur through nervous sympathy from stomach trouble. Draw 6 to 8 quarts of blood from the jugular vein, and give a brisk purgative of 8 drams aloes and 2 drams ginger. Feed bran only until purgation commences. See that the food given is of first-class quality, and in only medium quantities. Avoid overloading the stomach, and give regular exercise after purgation ceases.

ACUTE SPINITIS, ETC.

1. Four-year-old mare was found down and unable to rise on Sunday morning. She had no use of her hind parts, and her hind limbs were cold. She was working in slushy snow the day before she went wrong. She died in three days.

2. Would it be wise to shear sheep this early in April? H. E. B.

Ans.—1. The symptoms indicate acute inflammation of the spine, which may be caused by an injury, but often appears without appreciable cause. The disease is usually, if not always, fatal. Treatment consists in keeping as comfortable as possible, purging with 6 to 8 drams aloes and 2 drams ginger, and following up with 2-dram doses nux vomica, three times daily. Heat or camphorated liniment, applied to the spine, may have a beneficial action.

2. If sheep can be kept in comfortable quarters, they may be shorn now. Early shearing is often practiced with sheep for show purposes, but, except for show sheep, it is usually considered best to not shear until the weather becomes fine.

INAPPETENCE.

Two sows are not feeding well. They stand at the trough, eat a little, grunt, eat a little more, grunt again, etc., etc. Am feeding mangels twice daily, and plenty of house slops.

Ans.—Purge each with 4 to 8 ounces Epsom salts, according to size. After the bowels have regained their normal condition, feed milk, bran and a little chopped oats and peas. Continue giving roots, and see that they get plenty of exercise.

Lump Jaw

The first remedy to cure Lump Jaw was

and it remains today the standard treatment, with years of success back of it, known to be a cure and guaranteed to cure. Don't experiment with substitutes or imitations. Use it, no matter how old or bad the case or what else you may have tried—your money back if Fleming's Lump Jaw Cure ever fails. Our fair plan of selling, together with exhaustive information on Lump Jaw and its treatment, is given in Fleming's Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser.
