JUDGMENT IN FAVOR OF THRESHER

The judgment given in Alberta on the 2nd inst. In the case of Van Camp va. Benjamin by Chief Justice Sifton is of great importance to threshers and farmers. Benjamin had threshed for Van Camp and when he had finished his work demanded payment of his bill, amounting to about $407.90. Van Camp offered to pay $150.00. Claiming that Benjamin owed him $50.00 the value of a straw stack which Benjamin had burnt during the course of the threshing. Benjamin denied liability for burning the straw and refused to accept anything less than the full amount of his bill. He then left the premises, but returned the next day with teams and in spite of the determined opposition of Van Camp took by force out of the granary sufficient grain to pay his bill.

The Van Camps sued for trespass and damages.

The case turned on the interpretation of the Threshers' Lien Ordinance.

The Chief Justice held that a threshe had a right-at any time within 60 days after the threshing was finished to take of the Threshers' Lien Ordinance.

The Chief Justice held that a thresher had a right-at any time within 60 days after the threshing was finished to take sufficient grain to pay his bill.

As commont upen this judgment it may be remembered that the criminal code at Section 37 says: "Everyone who is in peacable possession of any moveable or thing under a claim of right and everyone acting under his authority is protected from eriminal responsibility for defending such possession even against a person entitled by law to the possession of such property or thing it he uses no more force than is necessary."

Under the civil law, therefore, the thresher can take the grain, while under the criminal law the former can suf all the force necessary to prevent the grain being taken if he has a good reason for not paying for the threshing, but not otherwise. He must have a "claim of right," otherwise he would be criminally responsible for refusing to let the thresher take sufficient grain to pay the bill.—MacLeod Advertiser.
