There came a ring at the telephone in a farmhouse in northern Indiana one day last summer, and the farmer himself responded:

"Hello," he said.

"Hello," said the voice at the other end of the wire. "Can you furnish me a bass finger for tomorrow night?"

"A bass finger? Why, yes, I reckon so," answered the farmer, laughing. "What do you want one for?"

"Because the one we've had up to now is sick. What would be your terms?"

"Well, I usually furnish them by the dozen. I won't charge you anything for one. How do you want him sent?"

"What are you talking about?"

"Who do you think you're talking to?"

"Isn't this the Indianapolis Opera House?"

"No. This is the Barataria frog farm." — New York Tribune.

Withdraws Decorations.

Vienna, June 27.—The King of Roumania has withdrawn all the Roumania decorations bestowed on officers of the Sixth Serbian Infantry, of which regiment his majesty recently resigned the honorary colonelcy. The Serbian war minister will be informed that this action is taken because of King Charles' indignation at the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, in which the Sixth Infantry took a leading part. Count de Vaxvine, the French minister to Serbia, who recently withdrew from Belgrade, returned here this evening.

PERPETUAL SUMMER

In Yukon Compared to Antarctic Region

Summer Time Comes in the Extreme South When Mercury is at Zero.

Special to the Daily Nugget. San Francisco, July 11.—The Yukon has been outdone in cold. Capt. Colebeck, commander of the relief ship Discovery in the recent South pole expedition, says the cold is far worse than in the arctic. In the Yukon country the temperature goes up to 90 degrees above zero in the summer time. In the antarctic region zero is summer weather. The expedition went farther south than any man ever trod before. Captain Colebeck is in San Francisco on his way to London.

NORTH BOUND TRAVEL

Surprised by Abyssinians

London, June 30.—The war office today received a dispatch from Col. Richford, one of the British officers serving with the Abyssinian forces in Somaliland, which says a series of forced marches, struck the Mad Mullah's forces near Jeyda, surprising them at dawn and killing 1,000 spearmen and capturing almost all their cattle and sheep and 1,000 camels.

Col. Richford adds that the Abyssinians have effectually closed to the Mad Mullah all the watering places south of the Gerlogubi-Galadi line, and he hopes they will soon be in contact with the British forces, and be able to co-operate in the pursuit of the Mullah, who is delayed in his movements by the fact that he is crossing a waterless part of the country.

"I can't say I am satisfied with any of your pavements," said the member of the aldermanic committee from the distant city on a visit of inspection. "For a first class pavement what do you consider the best material?"

"An honest contractor," replied the prominent citizen, with a dreamy, far-away look in his eyes. — Chicago Tribune.
