A Touching Camp Story.

A Well Profes Death to Undergoine Story and Story Household Househ

a travelling S. A. String Band. The following is Capt. Brokenshire's own statement: "I had been elightly troubled with rheumatic pains for several years, and had to give up the army work on different occasions on account of my trouble. When stationed in Morraburg, four years ago, I became completely unifitted for work, as I suffered tarribly with pains in the back of my neck, down my shoulders and arms and through my body. In fact I had pains of a stinging muscular nature from the back of my head to my toca. I could not bend my head forward if I got the whole of Can ada to do so, and when in bed the only slight rest I got was with a large pillow under my shoulder, thus letting my head hang backwards. I could not get up, but had to roll or twist myself out af bed, as my spine seemed to be effected. My medical adviser pronounced my 'rouble neuralgia and rheumatism combined, which he said bad gone through my whole system. He prescribed for me, but the medicine gave me no relied. I tried various other remedies but they were of no avail. Believing my case to be hopsless I determined to start for my home in Rosedale, but the jarring of the train caused such terrible agony I was compelled to abandon the trip at Pekerboro, where I was laid up for three weeks, when I finally made a herculean effort and reached home. As my mother eays, I looked like an old man of 93 years of age when she saw me struggling with the aid of two heavy cines to walk from the earriage to the house. At home I received every possible att-ution and all the treatments that kind friends sungested, but I was constantly going from bad to worse. In Januery, 1896, after many menths of untold agony, I determined to try Dr. Williams' Pluk Pils, having read so much in the newspaper-rof the great benefits received by others from their use. To make sune of getting having read so much in the newspaper-of the great benefits received by others from their use. To make sure of getting the genuine article I sent direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., at Brock-ville, for the pills. After taking two wille, for the pills. After taking two hores I noticed a slight improvement in my sondition which gave me some encouragement, and I kept on until I had taken twelve hores, although before I got through with the sixth I could go to bed and enjoy a good .ight's rest anch as I had not done for year. I never at any time enjoyed better health than I am doing at present. Since my recovery I have induced several friends to takepink Pills for various traible, and in each case they have effected cures."

The above is a voluntary and correct statement of the frets of my case, and I trust that many others may, by reading this, receives the blessing that I have. If necessary I would make an aff-davit to the above fact at any time.

A Thought for New Years.

It is a blessed provision of the almanase to have a new year come around anoually. It gives to countless numbers of persons an opportunity the indulge in their darling vice by stilling their or many their declared having spent in their darling vice by stilling their consciences with the promise of turning over w new lead on New Year's day. Yet even if one does not live up to one programme of purity is it not better to have resolved at all 1—Exchanges.

"The trouble with us is that we live to fast in this age," he said oracularly. "Yes, very much, and the the many described by the single declared that the licensed liquor traffic in our great stities was the peculiar form the resolved at all 1—Exchanges with the poor victims of the Wittechapel murders belonged. Multi-tides would be drawn out of the mire would be discerar of that particular class of social outcasts to which the poor victims of the Wittechapel murders belonged. Multi-tides would be drawn out of the mire would be disceranged from the network of evil round their feet, would be started that we are all scorchers."

"Pages men," as in the sage," he said oracularly "you have no night to take it for granted that we are all scorchers."

"Pages men," as in the sage, where it is the way of the dist the daughters of our country ham, would avail so long as the case. And no receive work, no attempts to raise from the dust the daughters of our country should be discent angled from the network and the public house. And no receive work, no attempts to raise from the dust the daughters of our country should be all the provided by the single with the provided by the single provided by the single work of the
