BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

Montreal: General trade holds a steady tone, although there is a noticeable tendency in some lines towards the usual mid-summer lull. Prospects for the fall continue good. Rain during the week has much brightened the crop outlook, although it was rather late for the hay. Produce is coming forward well and prices hold steady to firm. General collections show some improvement. Toronto: General business is moving satisfactorily. Holidays are responsible for some slackening, but there is still a good sorting trade in most seasonable lines. The outlook for fall business looks very cheerful. Good rains have considerably helped the grain crops and reports from Outario and particularly the West are optimistic. In dry goods there are good orders coming for fall and winter lines. In many cases orders are fairly large, as retailers are anxious to forestall further price advances. In most other lines retailers seem inclined to lay in fairly good stocks in preparation for an active fall trade, Winnipeg reports say a good volume of business is moving in all branches of business is moving in all branches of most other lines retailers seem inclined to lay in fairly good stocks in preparation for an active fall trade.

Winnipeg reports say a good volume of business is moving in all branches of trade. Crop reports continue to grow more cheerful, and the general tone regarding fall prospects is one of pronounced optimism.

Vancouver and Victoria reports say there continues a good tone to general trade all along the coast.

Quebec: The trade situation remains unchanged. Orders to hand are more of a sorting up nature.

Hamilton: Business at retail in summer lines of dry goods, clothing, etc., continues good, and sorting orders are coming in notwithstanding the lateness of the season. In other lines of goods trade is fairly good and few complaints are heard on the matter of collections. Local factories are busily engaged. In one or two instances manufacturers have been unable to close down for a fortnight as they usually do, owing to the rush of business. Crop reports from the surrounding country continue very cheerful, and the outlook for fall trade is good.

London: The volume of trade moving

Good.

London: The volume of trade moving is of excellent proportions.

Ottawa: Conditions have changed but little during the week.

RECORD HARVEST.

Reports received yesterday from the Northwest by the Massey-Harris Company, Toronto, are quite as optimistic as any received during the summer, and tend to prove that this year's harvest will be a record breaker. The report, which dealt chiefly with conditions in Assiniboia, was to the effect that rain in satisfactory quantities has visited the wheat fields and that the best of weather prevailed. It is stated that all the wheat would probably be headed out by the 18th. RECORD HARVEST.
