COVERT ATTACK ON JAS. ROBINSON

Mr. Jas. Robinson is credited in a local paper with an opinion on Reciprocity that is ballasted with a remarkable collection of big words, even including 'eventuate,' supposed to belong exclusively to one of our young newspaper men. He is made to say, at the close, that "Mr. Loggie will be returned, the Government will be sustained and simultaneously this great paramount measure will be adopted." Whooop! Surely that's going some! If he were on the stump, making a speech to a big audience, we could understand, but that so much extempore eloquence should be poured forth in an everyday interview, is what puzzles us. But surely Mr. Robinson never predicted that the election of Mr. Loggie and the adoption of this great paramount measure(?) would occur 'simultaneously,' as many days if not weeks would elapse in any case between the two events. Mr. Robinson has good cause of action against the newspaper that has represented him as a user of big words without regard to their meaning. He is entitled to heavy damages, especially as this attempt to make him ridiculous in the eyes of the public is made under the cloak of friendship.

CARD

To the Electors of the County of Northumberland:

Gentlemen:

The Liberal-Conservative Convention of our County, held last month, nominated me as the Party's Candidate at the approaching election of a member of the House of Commons for this Constituency. I have accepted the nomination and as such nominees solicit your support of the principles laid down at that convention and held by the Conservative Party in Canada.

I find it will be impossible for me to personally interview all the electors, as I would like to do, but hope to be able, with their co-operation, to give them a chance of hearing my statement of the case at issue, at public meetings throughout the County, and I earnestly appeal to you to give the great question your careful and loyal consideration and vote against the Reciprocity Pact and for the platform of the Liberal Conservative Party and mark your ballots for me, its Candidate, on the twenty-first of September.

That Convention spoke not only for the Conservative Party but also for the large number of Liberals who have taken issue with their Leaders both on the vital question of the day and also on the manner in which they have attempted to force this policy upon the Country without consulting the people.

The Election now about to be held is the most important since 1876. It is a referendum on the question of Reciprocity with the United States to the supreme decision of the people. The Government entered into this Reciprocity Pact by secret negotiation at Washington, on its own initiative, without request, without discussion, and without the approval of the people. It is altogether due to the Conservative Party and some patriotic Liberal members, that the people have obtained an opportunity of expressing their opinion and giving their decision on the question.

There are many questions emanating from the position taken by the Government; the effect of this radical change in our fiscal policy on the industries of our Country; the exploiting by indifferent and foreign corporations and trusts of our forests and other natural resources; the debasing of our people into hewers of wood for the aggrandizement of foreign labour and capital in the higher processes of manufacture; the cheapening and control of our market by foreign producers; the closing of markets for our products which are only now being established. Shall Canada remain a free country? free to make her own laws and tariffs—or shall she don the republican livery that Fielding and Patterson would make us wear? Shall Canada remain in the British Empire—the greatest of its world, encircled dominions—the brightest gem in the Imperial Crown; growing with the Empire, protected by its Army and Navy, sharing its greatness, glory growth and prosperity,—or shall she enter upon the path that lead to entanglement and separation? These are kindred subjects I hope to discuss with you on the public platform during my canvass.

The Vital Question is,—Shall Canada direct her own destinies? Shall our relations with other countries be the friendly but free dealings of one self-respecting people with another? President Taft says, "Canada is at the parting of the ways." And this is true. Which way will you take? The path that leads to Washington fellow-citizens of Northumberland? fiscal dependence and ultimate annexation; or the path of tariff independence, national self-respect and closer trade relations with the other members of our great Empire? Years of a hostile tariff have taught Canada independence and are beginning to bring her wealth. Why this sudden insistence by the United States upon giving us what is no longer a necessity? For years we sought it and were denied. We have found other markets; other capital has sought us; other investors have established their industries among us; our credit is now firmly established in other and larger money centres and the conditions which induced us to desire Reciprocity with the United States have long since disappeared.

The meaning of these sudden overtures by the United States is plain, and the answer of the Liberal-conservative Party, and the Liberals who join it on this issue is the voicing of the decision of the country that Canada will protect and maintain for her own people, her wealth, her natural resources, her constitution and her autonomy.

Your Obedient Servant,
D. MORRISON.
Aug. 26th, 1911.

The reciprocity agreement does not provide for the free admission of 'kraft,' the paper manufactured at the Beveridge mill, to the United States. It admits no paper except news print of the value of four cents a pound or less. A newspaper paragraph that is intended to convey the impression that Mr. Beveridge's product is included in the agreement is a sneaking attempt to deceive the public. Will any Millerton elector be fooled by it?

The Telegraph claps its hands with joy over a Northumberland Conservative convert to Liberalism. Now whom do you think he is? Take an hour or a day to see if you can name him. Guess again. Give it up? The name is James Robinson! Strange, strange, but it haunts our memory like the odor of sanctity around a saintly shrine, that Mr. Robinson was converted in 1908, the day Donald Morrison was nominated by the Conservative Convention.

I took several bottles of it, and I gained strength so rapidly that it seemed to make a new woman of me. I can do as good a day's work as I ever did. I sincerely bless the day that I made up my mind to take your medicine for female weakness, and I am exceedingly grateful to you for your kind letters, as I certainly profited by them. I give you permission to publish in any time you wish."

Hewson's Pure Wool Unshrinkable Underwear

The destruction of the house fly is a public duty. Almost every American State Board of Health is carrying on a crusade against him.

His filthy origin and habits, and the fact that his body is generally laden with disease-producing germs, makes him one of the greatest enemies of the human race.

If the housekeepers of Canada will use

WILSON'S FLY PADS

persistently, this peril would be tremendously reduced.
