

C.C.C. Win Football Cup.

Before the largest gathering of onlookers for the season, the C.C.C. and C.C.C. played the final match in the Inter-Brigade division last night. The game was a hard fought one and resulted in the C.C.C. winning the championship as well as the silver cup presented by the League.

The players were:
 C.C.C.—H. Phelan, goal; Walsh, Thompson, backs; W. Hart, Christopher, Kavanagh, halves; Evans, P. Phelan, Gladney, Reardon, B. Hart, forwards.

(C.C.C.)—Marshall, goal; Ryall, Bradbury, backs; Newman, Trebble, Winter, halves; Keats, Rendell, Andrews, Hunt, R. Marshall forwards.

Right from the start a pretty exhibition was served out to the spectators. The C.C.C. pressed hard, giving their opponents a busy time of it and many thought the Church Lads victorious, as they were the favorites. However, before half time was announced Phelan, the C.C.C. centre man, availed of an opening and notched up the first goal for his team. After changing ends the C.C.C. worked with determination and it was hoped they would equalize matters. For a while the C.C.C. had play in their favor but Phelan got away and scored the second goal for the evening. No further scoring was done and the game ended—C.C.C., 2 goals; C.L.B., 0. The trophy won by the C.C.C. has got to be carried off three years in succession before they can own it.

The Regatta.

There was scarcely a ripple on the Lake last evening. Conditions were ideal for practising, consequently good time was made. The fishermen in the Mary rowed the course in 5.52. The Highlanders made good time in the Nellie R.

The Blue Peter and Shamrock, both with crews of laborers, rowed the course in 10.10.

Already the results of the different races are being wagered upon by enthusiasts on the bank. At daybreak yesterday morning and this morning, several of those closely interested in the races could be seen on the green with their spot-watches. Sometimes, however, the cute man's cousins are astray and very often dark horses win.

Eat Whatever You Relish.

Sometimes the digestive machinery gets away off. No kind of food looks good to you. You need Stafford's Prescription "A."

It is a temporary artificial digestive process to do the work until the stomach recovers normal conditions. Many people think Pepsin is the thing to take. Four times out of five they are wrong. Pepsin will digest eggs, meat, etc., but has no effect on starchy foods like bread, potatoes, cake, pudding—in fact most of the staples that cause the trouble.

Stafford's Prescription "A" is the thing. It contains all the valuable ingredients for the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis, and nervous dyspepsia, etc. Eat what you like. Stafford's Prescription "A" will do the rest.

Price: Small size 25c., postage, 5c. extra. Large size 50c., postage, 10c. extra. For Sale at STAFFORD'S Drug Stores, Duckworth St. and Theatre Hill.

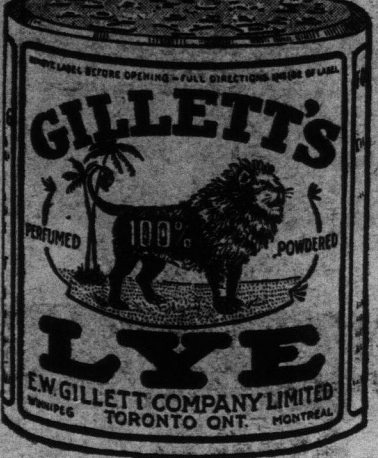

Do Flying Fish Fly.

The much mooted question, "Do flying fish fly?" is dismissed by William Allingham in the "Nautical Magazine." The orthodox scientific opinion is that the "wings" of the flying fish merely serve as a parachute to sustain the fish for a brief period in the air after he has launched himself out of the water by a powerful screw-like movement of his tail. According to this view, the fish has no power of directing his flight after he has left the water.

However, Mr. Allingham, who is a nautical expert attached to the British Meteorological office and is in constant intercourse with seamen, reports many observations that tend to controvert this opinion. Certain observers claim that the wing fins are in constant rapid vibration and seem actually to serve the purpose of flight. One vessel master watched a fish that had attained an altitude of 20 above the water and was flying toward the mizen rigging of his ship when, apparently noticing obstruction, it changed course about 61 degrees, crossing the vessel's stern to regain the water. Many other similar observations are mentioned. A series of cinematograph pictures might solve this question once and for all—Scientific American.

 After a conference with President Wilson, to-day, Secretary Bryan declared that the United States was in no way being pressed for action in Mexico, and declared the assertion in the morning papers that European Governments were bringing pressure to compel aggressive action in Mexico, was without foundation.

MUNCIE, Ind., August 1.
 A miraculous escape from death and injury took place to-day, when tender No. 2 of the East-bound train jumped the track in the middle of a 20 foot bridge, five miles west of Muncie. The train ran a third of a mile when four Pullmans left the track. Although two steel rails were driven through the floor of one of the Pullmans, not a single passenger or trahman was injured.

BERLIN, August 1.
 Although the German Secretary of the Interior declared to-day that Germany had not yet taken any action regarding the question of participation in the Panama-Pacific Exposition of 1915, opinion is freely expressed in official circles that the German Empire will not be represented there. It is pointed out that Britain's decision settles Germany's action, as the only factor which might have induced the German Government to bring pressure to bear on unwilling industrial men to exhibit, was fear of unfavorable comparison with British industry.

At the City Hall.

At yesterday's session Deputy Mayor Martin presided. Applications from A. W. Radford for sewerage connection on Water St. and from M. Peckham, South Side Road asking for repair to roadway, which was caving in, were referred to the Engineer. T. P. Hickey was granted permission to repair house on Henry St., and plans of proposed building submitted by P. McGrath were approved. The R. N. Co.'s water car was reported by Water Inspector Baker to be giving unsatisfactory service. The R. N. Co. will be asked to explain. The oil sprinkling car will be put in operation on Regatta Day. The meeting then adjourned.

An Old Fisherman's Vinev.

A Boston Globe reporter getting into conversation with an old gentleman recently in the Public Garden elicited the following opinion apropos of the easy time the present day fisherman has compared with the fisherman of a quarter of a century or more back: "Take the fishing industry," said he. "In the old days the fisherman went out with a hook and line and caught one cod at a time. Now what does he do? He takes a line about 1,000 feet long with 500 hooks hanging from it, all baited—he calls it a trawl. A couple of them get into a dory and drop out one end of it and row along and drop the other end. They then sit down and light their pipes, and perhaps they have something on their lips, and they sit there about an hour. Then they haul up the trawl and there are 500 cod on it. Call that work? That work? That isn't work!" This would be a good illustration were it true. But if there is any fisherman along the New England coast to-day who can get a 500 hook trawl and, after letting it stay down an hour—or a week for that matter—then take off 500 codfish he can command any price he asks for his services. If the old gentleman of Boston had substituted the word "dogfish" for "cod" he would have come nearer the truth. It is a matter of record that on a 500-hook trawl set off Seguin two haddock, one cod and 497 dogfish were taken in one hauling.—N. Y. Fishing Gazette.

A POPULAR MOVE.—Along the margin of Quidi Vidi Lake, there is a considerable quantity of old rubbish. To-day a gang of Council employees are engaged putting the place in clean condition for Regatta Day—a move in the right direction.

Sunshine.

Put a bit of sunshine in the day; Others need its cheer, and so do you—Need it most when outer sky's dull gray

Leaves he sunshine—making yours to do.
 Give the day a streak of rosy dawn; Give it, too, a touch of highest noon—Make the ones about you wonder why Sunset crimson should appear so soon.

Sunshine-making is a blessed task; Cheery hearts, like a lovely mild blue sky
 Baulish weary gloom and give fresh hope,
 Check the rising tear or thoughtless sigh.

Put the golden sunshine in each day; Others need the cheer that comes through you
 Need it most when outer sky's dull gray
 Leaves the sunshine making yours to do.

Economy Important.

Whether your business is in its infancy or in the hundreds of thousands its records are equally important to you. In our Newfoundland trade the necessity has been proven of keeping intact the correspondence of every fall with that of the succeeding spring; so intimately do the transactions of these two seasons dovetail into each other that they practically form one record. The "Safeguard" system of the "Globe-Wernicke Co." fits the smallest as well as the most extensive business. If your needs are limited you can be suited with an economical equipment just as easily as the largest concern in Newfoundland. A single seventeen inch vertical drawer, which occupies very little floor space, will care for over three thousand papers; a twenty-five inch drawer has a capacity of five thousand papers. This unit system grows with your business and solves your filing problems for all time. Mr. Percie Johnson will take pleasure in explaining the advantages of this popular and complete filing equipment.

Counting Years

The years a man shouldn't count when we're counting our age; for some men are young when they're gray, and others are old when they've journeyed a stage in this world and its wonderful way. I know an old graybeard who ought to be dead if years laid a man by the heels; he cheerily sings as he stands on his head: "A man's just as old as he feels." The years do not age us so badly, in truth; it's worry that makes the blood cold; the man who is blessed with the spirit of youth is young when a hundred years old; the graybeard I wot of, he laughs and he yells, and dances Virginia reels, and always and ever his roundelay swells: "A man's just as old as he feels." No man should admit that his days are near, or talk of the past with a sigh; no man should admit that he's growing too old to eat summer corn from the cob; the graybeard I speak of, he's slicker than grease, he cheers up the world with his speli; he says (and his words suggest comfort and peace): "A man's just as old as he feels." I know a young man who is thirty or less, in years, but he's old as the hills; he goes around looking for grief and distress, and talks by the day of his ills. The graybeard, God Bless him, he chortles while kicking a hole through his hat. "A man's just as old as he feels!"

WIRE WOUNDS.

My mare, a very valuable one, was badly bruised and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines. Dr. Bell advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT, diluted at first, then stronger as the sores began to look better, until after three weeks, the sores have healed, and best of all, the hair is growing well, and is NOT WHITE as is most always the case in horse wounds.

Auto With Staterooms.

What is probably the most remarkable motor vehicle in the world is an auto Pullman or land yacht designed by Lieut. Henri Dandurand, of the 6th Regiment, C. M. R. of Canada; for his father, U. H. Dandurand, of Montreal.

Mr. Dandurand, who is one of Canada's pioneer motorists, enjoyed touring, but apparently did not care for the indifferent accommodation of the inns and small Canadian hotels; so he conceived the idea that a hotel on wheels would fill his wants in a far more satisfactory manner.

The car's general layout can be gathered from the following: Immediately behind the driver's seat are the chauffeur's quarters. The tiny compartment contains ample room for a six-foot berth. Next to this is a ladies' stateroom having a series of berths with sleeping accommodations for five. Another stateroom of the same size—namely, six feet square—has sleeping accommodation for four. This compartment is used as a smoking-room, also as a dining-room, having two extension tables, each three feet long by nineteen inches wide. The room also contains a folding desk. Behind the compartment is a kitchenette, wonderfully designed to economize every possible inch of space. Drawers are divided into pigeon holes for crockery, etc. A linen cupboard and provision boxes are also fitted, and a splendid refrigerator, 36 by 28 inches, together with a neat gasoline stove, complete the fittings. Behind this again is an exceedingly well-fitted toilet room. The car can easily accommodate twenty-five people.
