Co-Operation.

If it is the desire of the trade, as represented by the Board of Trade, or others not members of that body, to induce the Government to reduce taxation on imports and to correspondingly reduce expenditure, all hands must pull together. No use is there in talking on and then pulling in different directions. There can be only one line of purpose and that line must essentially be unanimity. There should be no attempt whatever made at confusing interests or introducing extraneous matters for discussion. All realize that we have gone beyond the end of our resources both in taxation and expenditure. Therefore realising collectively that the come down must begin somewhere, let all be united on defining where that somewhere is. We have, necessarily, to get beyond the ruck and turmoil and confusion of party politics if the desideratum is to be accomplished. Recriminations will not assist nor profit. Rather will they retard and bring about loss. The Committee to be appointed by the Board of Trade to consult with the Government on this very vital and insistent matter of the hour need not fear any hostile criticism from the press if they perform the duties expected of them without fear, favor or affection. Rather will they think will the personnel thereof have the backbone of the whole community in their efforts.

Newfoundland is perilously near the parting of the ways between present failure and future success. The fishermen—the real producers—are between the devil of excessive taxation and the deep sea of denial of supplies for the prosecution of their sole industry. It follows consequently that something has to be done without further hesitation if Newfoundland as a producing factor in fish food commodities will be permitted to exist. The whole country is sweating under the weight of the load of taxation imposed upon it, and it must continue to sweat, or give up the ghost, if the Government persists in pursuing the course of the Budget speech. There is no hope. We say here and say it emphatically that the Colony cannot go on and prosper under the financial conditions which obtain at the moment. Unless there is a let up the break will surely come. It cannot be staved off much longer. The Government surely must perceive that there is no financial salvation unless a halt is called in the present extravagant rate. At least the most intelligent of its members will, unless their eyes are blinded by the glitter of their positions. The plain unvarnished facts of the standing of Newfoundland's people as producers, and competitors of other countries in the fish business are in their possession, and a realization of that which it will mean if we are driven to the wall, or to go further, driven to desperation by stubbornness on the part of the administration. To-day is not the day of threats or disunion. It is the day of co-operation and holding together. The olive branch has been held out over the question of the tariff. It is up to the Government to accept it, and to give co-operation for co-operation, assistance for assistance. Failing that, the hour may be ripe for the public to have not only a say, but a do.

Wabana Subject of Address.

Hugh B. Gillis superintendent of mines and quarries for the British Empire Steel Corporation, addressed the Sydney Rotary Club at yesterday's luncheon, says the Sydney Post on April 12th. In his talk Mr. Gillis dealt with operations of the company's mines in Wabana, Bell Island, Newfoundland, and brought out many facts of interest to his listeners. The luncheon was presided over by R. K. P. C. Campbell.

Extensive Repairs Necessary.

SHIP MORE DAMAGED THAN REALIZED.
S.S. Glenamoch, which struck the rocks near Hay Cove, when she drifted from her anchorage in the Harbor last fall will have to receive considerable repairs. The ship was docked last week and after a survey, it was found that the rudder and stern frame were so badly damaged that they will have to be replaced. The new parts have been ordered and should arrive here within the next fortnight. The ship was taken off dock yesterday but will go on again when the necessary material arrives from New Glasgow.

The Return of Belisarius

MR. COAKER COMING HOME.
Mr. Coaker is coming home! This thrilling news was spread over the city yesterday, and flags were flying from one or two housetops while ringing cheers could be heard emanating from the Advocate office all day. After a rest cure in the West Indies and Demerara, Mr. Coaker has evidently plucked up sufficient courage to come home and face the music. He will probably arrive before the House adjourns. It is not believed to be "critically correct" that a well known supporter of the F.P.U. has purchased the guns of H.M.S. Briton to salute our own W. F. upon his arrival. Neither is it correct that an arch of uncolored fish, the basis of which is to be composed of "white napes" will be built on Water Street by the merchants.

Valuable Ore Sample.

A sample of ore weighing some 200 lbs. taken from Silver Cliff Mine, Argentina, was forwarded from there during last week and is now on exhibition in McNab's store, Water Street. The sample, which shows both walls of the vein, is said to contain 2 oz. gold and 41 oz. silver to the ton besides 42 per cent. lead.

C. C. C. Band Promenade Dance.

The Promenade Dances given by the C.C.C. Band last fall which proved so popular, will hereafter take place in the C.C.C. Hall, and the Grand Opening Dance takes place on Monday next (Whole Holiday) St. George's Night. On this occasion a regular programme of dances will be played by the full band. Hear all the latest hits. Tickets will be only 50c. each. The dance begins at 8.30 sharp, therefore be on time. Remember you are now getting a 12.00 dance, the same music, the same hall, for only 50c. These dances will be run off weekly, and we have no doubt that they will prove equally as popular as last fall. Remember the place and time of starting: C.C.C. Hall—8.30 sharp.

"SO MANY MEN, SO MANY MINDS."
Mr. John Phillips begs to inform the public the title reason for resigning his position as Postmaster here is that he has accepted a situation with Mr. Ashbourne, at a better salary. And also he has his home on the South Side and it was inconvenient as he had no home on the North Side. Also Mr. Phillips says the position interferes with his religious principles in receiving mails on Sunday—Twillingate Sun.

The T.A. and B.S. Ladies' Auxiliary will hold a Card Party and Dance on Monday night, April 24th. A real old forty-five drive. The very latest music in their own good style by the Empire Band. Tickets 50c.

Personal.

Mr. Ern Spry, who has been confined to his home with a severe attack of pneumonia, is now convalescing and hopes to be about shortly.
The friends of Mr. Arthur Hascok, the popular President of our Regatta Committee, are to-day extending congratulations for that he has reached another mile post in life journey. For considerably more than a year he has been in indifferent health, but his buoyant spirit has not left him. It is hoped that ere long his wonted health will return and his old time energies be revived. Our congratulations, with others, to a "good sport."

Rugby Football.

GAME MAY BE ARRANGED.
Provided that H.M.S. Cambrian is still in port by the time that the ground is in a fit condition, it is expected that a Rugby football game will be arranged between a city team and the ship's selection. A game was played last year between a team led by Major A. Raley, M.C., and one from the Cambrian, the latter winning by the narrow margin of 5 points. On that occasion the Navy forwards proved too heavy for the city pack and were successful in letting the ball out to their halves in nine series out of ten. The services of Major Raley will be missed from the City team this year, but it is believed a good aggregation can be gotten together. Any Rugby enthusiasts who are anxious for a game are requested to leave their names at the Telegram office.

Championship Dinner.

FEILDANS WILL ENTERTAIN.
The Championship hockey dinner of the Feildian Club will be held at the Green Lantern at 8 p.m. to-day. Mr. Whitford McKelly, President of the Club, will occupy the chair. Several guests, including the captains of the various league teams, have been invited. The feast list has been carefully prepared and a most enjoyable evening is anticipated.

Bonanza for Lawyers.

CANADA TOO HAS FLOODS.
The Montreal Daily Star of April 14th in its report of the proceedings at the House of Assembly at the previous days session publishes a paragraph which shows that some of the Canadian Legal lights are also getting pickings from the Labrador Boundary question. The following is the item referred to: "In the 'Liberal Party' itself relations are not as happy as they were in the old home down on the farm. Practically every chairman of Committees went to the wrong man. All the members who did not receive it will bear testimony to the fact. Then there was a $10,000 a year retainer—among the isolated plums—for a commissioner on the Labrador Boundary question. It carried further $200 a day for each day that the Commissioner was occupied with the question. The plum went to the Minister of Justice in the last Government, Right Hon. C. J. Doherty. To offset the backfire that broke out at the announcement it is understood that Canada will appoint two commissioners instead of one and that the other $10,000 will go to a Liberal."

The Kilkenny kittens are loose. There isn't enough milk to go around in the family brood and when a bowl of pure cream leaks out to the Opposition the plaintive "moo" resound from "Parliament Hill" right down to the Gieble.

Charged With Larceny.

ACCUSED REMANDED.
Three boys were charged before Judge Morris to-day with the larceny of a box of cigarettes to the value of $11.00 from a West End shop. They were ordered to be remanded pending further investigation by the police authorities. There has lately been, owing to the activities of the police, a considerable decrease in the number of petty larcenies occurring in the city.

A Fish Complaint.

REMEDY SUB.
An interesting fish case occupied the attention of Judge Morris in the Civil Court to-day. The plaintiffs, J. & P. Moore, claim $180 for fish which they state Jas. Baird Ltd. contracted for but later would not accept. The defendants case was that the fish delivered was not according to the sample submitted by plaintiffs. Mr. L. E. Emerson conducted the case for the plaintiffs and Mr. H. A. Winter, B.A. asked for the defendants.

Particulars of Fire.

DIRECTIONS OF WIND SAVED RAILWAY STATION.
A message to the Deputy Minister of Justice received this morning from Magistrate Fitzgerald, Grand Falls, gives the following particulars of the fire at Bishop's Falls. The fire entirely destroyed the self contained dwelling house, store, barn and out-houses owned by Norman Mills. These premises were situated near the Red Newfoundland Co.'s station, and the directions of the wind at the time was responsible for the safety of this and adjoining buildings.

DRUNKS DISCHARGED.—Two drunks appeared before Judge Morris to-day. They were discharged. A drunk and disorderly was ordered to pay a fine of $2.00.

"The Crucifix."

(Quoted by the Rector, Rev. E. C. Harp, B.A., at St. Thomas's Church during the Three Hours' Devotion on Good Friday).

The following poem was written by Private J. R. Nicholson, son of the Rev. T. B. Nicholson, of Dunfermline, and one of the staff of the "Dundee Advertiser". He fell in the field on July 12, 1916.

THE CRUCIFIX.

(Inspired by the sight of a Crucifix somewhere at the front).
He hung there at the crossroads
On a cross of rain-beat red,
And the nails that pierced His hands
And feet
And the thorn-crown on His head
Showered awfully in the moonlight,
And it seemed that He was dead.

But I knelt beneath the Crucifix,
And I prayed with bowed head,
And the nails that pierced His hands
And feet
Fell out, all rusted red,
And shining in the moonlight
Was a golden crown on His head.

And He came from off the Crucifix,
He who had seemed dead,
And gently placed His pierced hand
In mine; and so He led
Me in the pale moonlight
To a place all bloody red.

"Here was a soldier's sacrifice,"
He gently to me said,
"Here a man fell, as was his meet,
For justice; and he bled
There in the ghastly moonlight
Till they said that he was dead."

"But I saw him from yon Crucifix,
And I came with noiseless tread,
And took his heart and placed it
In a babe unborn instead,
And his soul sped in the moonlight,
And with God in Heaven was wed."

"And the babe shall be a hero,
Of that soldier's valour bred.
He shall lead to lead his brothers,
But not in battle red;
He shall lead them to the sunlight
When the Hell of War is dead."

I awoke there at the crossroads
By the Cross of rain-beat red,
And the nails that pierced His hands
And feet
And the thorn-crown on His head
Showered awfully in the moonlight.
But I knew He was not dead.

The first anniversary of the Postal Association was fittingly celebrated last night by a dinner at the West End Restaurant. Practically all the members of the Association in the city were present and amongst the guests were Sir R. A. Squires and Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C. The chair was occupied by President Jordan Killey. The speeches were exceptionally good and had particular reference to the general Postal Service of the country. In this particular it was mentioned that in the Money Order Department alone over four million dollars are handled annually. An excellent menu was prepared while songs and choruses helped to pass a most enjoyable evening. Mr. Max Colton presided at the piano, and Mr. P. J. Sadly at night the stars are shining
In thy lonely, silent grave,

Still sore because we miss him more.

But in our hearts he liveth still.
