Potent Application of the Blackthorn Argument.

The Townspeople Receive Parnell with Jeers—The Voting Classes Decidedly Hostile to Kitty's Lever.

DUBLIN, March 28.—Mr. Parnell made a triumphal entry into Sligo to-day. He was escorted by 50 carloads of supporters from the rural districts, armed with blackthorns. He was received with jeers by the townspeople. Mr. Davitt and his supporters afterwards made a counter display. Three hundred police and a squadron of cavalry were in readiness to prevent any collision between the opposing factions. Previous to the arrival of Mr. Davitt, a fight with blackthorn sticks took place on the steps of the town hall. Subsequently Mr. Parnell complained that he had been assaulted during the progress of the affray

Mr. Parnell complained that he had been assaulted during the progress of the affray by one of the residents of the town.

Sligo was crowded all day with persons who had come to attend the market held there. Mr. Parnell visited outlying friendly districts in the morning with the object of gathering his supporters together for the purpose of accompanying him in his formal entry into the town.

The voting classes of Sligo are unmistakably hostile to Mr. Parnell. The struggle which took place on the steps of the town hall, in which Mr. Parnell claimed to have been assaulted, was a contest between the two factions for possession of the hall. Each side fought fiercely, but the Parnellites being assisted by the police finally entered the building. Mr. Parnell made a speech in which he described a "cowardly attack" which had been made on him by a townsman named McHugh, who, Mr. Parnell claimed, had hreatened to "swab the streets with his ody." The remainder of his speech was ituperation of the seceders from his ranks. On returning to his hotel Mr. Parnell made at attempt to deliver a speech from one of OPPOSED TO PARNELL. at attempt to deliver a speech from one of the windows, but was compelled to desist owing to the hooting and yelling of a body of McCarthyites, who drowned the
