New Yorker Says Housewives No Longer Do Their Marketing

AS IN THE OLDEN DAYS

Once Waged Campaign Against Deal-Who Cheated by Short Weights and Measures.

Detroit, Nov. 29 .- "The telephone largely responsible for the present high cost of living," declared Fred W. Cham-bers, formerly connected with the New York department of weights and meas-York department of weights and measures, while visiting friends in Deroit. Mr. Chambers was one of those who were active in the metropolitan crusade against dealers who resorted to cheating their customers by short weight and measure in order to increase their profits.

"I venture to assert that if the telephones were removed from the houses of most families, the butcher's and corner grocer's bills would show a marked despective of the state o most families, the butcher's and corner grocer's bills would show a marked descrease at the end of the month," continued Mr. Chambers

"Why would this result? Because the housewives would be compelled then to do their own marketing. With the telephone handy the housewife calls up the butcher or the grocer and gives him a general idea of what she wants, leaving the selection to his judgment or discretion, and she seldom inquires the price of the commodity ordered. The result of this kind of marketing often produces bills that stagger the head of the family when the time for settlement arrives.

Rush to Department Stores.

Rush to Department Stores.
"It is a puzzle to me," said Mr. Chambers, "why some women will rush to the department stores to take advantage of bargains in dress goods and notions, when they probably could save two or three times as much by shopping in person at the establishments which provide the family eatables. In the olden times our mothers and grandmothers never thought of ordering a steak or a roast for dinner family eatables. In the olden times our mothers and grandmothers never thought of ordering a steak or a roast for dinner without first inspecting it on the counter at the butcher's and inquiring very particularly about the price. They also saw their purchase weighed.

"Nowadays the housewife, especially if she lives in an apartment or flat, where the little telephone is at her elbow, will send her order over the wire. Thus she depends entirely upon the honesty of the dealer or his clerk for quality, weight, and, in some instances, price.

"How many homes have a weighing scale in the kitchen or a measure that will show whether the peck or bushel of potatoes really measure a full peck or bushel? A small percentage, I venture to say, and then, if there is weighing or measuring done at home, it is left generally to a hired girl, who has not the interests of the family purse at heart.

"You may consider this a small matter, but you have no idea what full weight and measure means to the average American family in the course of a single year.

"There is the item of čoal. Of course, weight and measure means to the average American family in the course of a single year.

"There is the item of coal. Of course, it is manifestly impossible to weigh coal, as it is delivered to most families by the ton or ten-ton lots. Still it is a fact that nearly every retail coal dealer in New York has been prosecuted within the past three years for short-weighting customers. We weighed ten loads of coal supposed to weigh 2,000 pounds that were 400 and 500 pounds short; the New York retail coal dealers had got into the habit of delivering tons that contained only 1,600 or 1,700 pounds.

"I would advise every Detroit housewife who has an eye to management and economy personally to visit the markets and see her purchases weighed and wrapped up, and to install in her kitchen a scale that weighs accurately, and a set of measures that will tell instantly if the supplies from the market are up to standard measure."

Why Don't You Drink Coffee?

Is it because ordinary Coffee does not agree with you? Or because you can't stand the taste of boiled Coffee? Or because you find ordinary Coffee too expensive?

Order 2 tins of Dalton's French Drip Coffee at 50c. a tin and your grocer will send you, FREE, this French Drip Coffee Pot worth $1.30

A cup of Dalton's French Drip Coffeemade in a Dalton French Drip Coffee Pot-

is the most appetizing, wholesome, delicious beverage in the world. This is because Dalton's Coffee is so different.

Instead of roasting Coffee in a cylinder, over a slow fire (which drives out much of the flavor) we throw the Coffee through an intensely hot flame, which roasts it so quickly that the volatile oils and rich flavor are held captive in the berry. A strong air-blast cools the freshly roasted Coffee and also blows away any dust, or chaff. The Coffee is then ground and another air-blast drives off the inner coat or shell of the berry. It is the inner coat-tough, indigestible and laden with Tannic Acid-that makes ordinary Coffee bitter and gives you headaches and indigestion when you drink it.

Dalton's French Drip Coffee is free of tannin and tough fibre. This is why you can drink Dalton's French Drip Coffee for every meal, every day, and be all the better for it.

> It gives you all the good of the Coffee—the fragrance, satisfaction, deliciousness of the finest Coffee in the world. It will agree with you, even though you cannot drink ordinary Coffee.

If you enjoy the flavor of a rich cup of Coffee-if you would drink it in preference to any other beverage if it agreed with you-just try this new and better Coffee-

Capt. Parker, who is a brother of Earl Morley, arrived at Jaffa on his private yacht early in October. He was accompanied by Clarence Wilson and several English laborers. They planned to proceed at once to Jerusalem and resume work in the underground passages of Mount Ophel.

As was the case before, the work was to be done under the supervision of Government inspectors in accordance with the contract which Parker has with the Turkish Government. The headquarters of the expedition were to be at Siloam, where they were when the work was interrupted by public clamor following reports that the strangers had bribed guards of the Carlo Capt.
