Skin All Covered With Eruption

Tried Many Remedies 3 or 4 Years. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

A Quebec man, N. Henri Tardif, of St. Casimir, writes in a letter dated Mar. 31, 1911: "I had a very had skin, all covered with cruption, eight years ago. I have had all of both my shoulders covered with it, and the high part of my arms, and my face, but it was the worst on my shoulders. I tried many different remedles to cure it, but nothing was any good. At last I went to an apothecary. He asked me if I had ever used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I told him no, and I bought a box of Cuticura Olatment and a cake of Cuticura Scap. I used three boxes of Cuticura Cintment, but I am glad of the same, for Cuticura Soap and Cintment I spread the Cuticura Cintment on all my sore parts and I think that in washing my face with the Cathura Soan, it hindered my cruption from ite my and borning. I tele! but Cutieura Seap and Ointment cured me."

Cutioura Scap and Gintment are seld throughout the world, but to those who have suffered much, lost hope and are without faith in any treatment, a liberal sample of each with a 32-p. booklet on the skin and scalp will be mailed free, on application. DRAGGED BY TAXI CLOSE TO DEATH

Max McEvoy Pulled Over Roadway for Hundred Feet By Heel of Shoe.

CAR ADDS TO HIS PERIL

Trails Behind Young Man as He Is Being Pulled Along-Saved By Act of the Chauffeur.

Dragged for more than a hundred feet by a taxicab in the running-board of which his heel was caught, while a street car trailed behind, threatening to crush him should his foot become free, Max McEvoy, son of J. M. McEvoy, had a spectacular escape from death or serious injury on Dundas street last night. Mr. McEvoy was riding from the east on the taxicab, and when he came to the National bowling alley he arose to get off. The driver did not stop the car, and as the young man stepped off his heel caught in a heavy strip of brass which was partly pulled off the running-board. He fell on his shoulders to the pavement, and before the car, which had been running a fairly fast rate of speed, could be stopped, he had been dragged as far as the Boomer

A Dangerous Position. A car was coming behind, and the young man was dragged right in its path, while it was but a dozen feet to the rear. The motorman did not see the young man apparently, and the car was creeping up on the automobile. The driver realized the dangerous predicament of Mr. McEvoy and while he was unable to stop his car, for fear that it would be struck by the street car, tried to swerve it to the pavement, and at the same time he reached over and grasped the young man by the coat. He pulled him into the seat, wrenching off the heel of Mr. McEvoy's shoe in the act.

The young man was somewhat scratched and bruised, but not seriousy injured. His clothes were not imroved by their contact with the roadway. The action of the driver was responsible for the saving of Mr. Mc-Evoy from a serious accident.
