London Club Directors Announce That Ohioian Can Lead Locals Next Season If He Wishes the Position -Will Likely Accept.

[BY SCOTTY.]

London Canadian League franchise owners will hold their annual meeting ere long, and from an authentic source the writer learned yesterday that they had decided to a man to give the managerial reins to Doc. Reisling, if the Ohioian would accept the position for the 1915

Thomas Gillean, one of the club shareholders, stated yesterday that so far as he was concerned, Doc. Reisling would be welcomed back to when the curtain was rung up next year.

"Mr. Reisling acted like a gentleman throughout the past season, and so far as I was concerned, he had a free hand in dealing with the players. If he will take the team over the next term, I hardly think he will find any of the shareholders attempting to tell him how he should run the men on the diamond. From the attitude of the fans, I believe the Doctor will be welcomed back." said Mr. Gillean. One of the club directors received a letter from Doc. to the effect that the latter already had garnered some promising talent for next season and that, if he came back here, many new faces would adorn the London line-up The London owners declare that the past season financially was a bad one for them.

'Why, we lost over $3,000," avers one of them, and when some fans heard this they were mean enough to laugh har, har, and ho, ho. Now that Frank Chance has joined the free lance squad, several pennant-hunting towns, among them are a couple of Federals, are seeking the ex-Cub boss and late Yankee manager to guide their players to a flag. Chance only asks the small sum of $20,000 per season. That the Peerless one did his best to give New York a winner goes without saying. But one can't build real ball players out of lemons. It's like soldiers; even the Kaiser can tell Owner Farrell that much.

Rumors of peace plans between the Federals and the Majors are going the rounds in Chicago these days, and those who declare that they are in the know declare that the strife between these two organizations will soon be a thing of the past.

The financial losses suffered in the minor league and the inroads the outlaws have made on some of the National and American League clubs are said to be the reason of the truce between the baseball kings.

Amateur football has been killed over in England as the result of the European war, but the pros. are still going to it and, like all other true sportsmen these clubs are donating the gate receipts of their contests to the Prince of Wales' Relief Fund or some one of the many other war funds. Many of the players on these teams are also handing over 5 per cent of their wages.

Some of the clubs have donated large sums to the different funds, namely Everton, Glasgow, Celtic and Chelsea. The shareholders of these clubs have also turned their grounds over to the War office and are working with it for the success of the army and navy. Numerous recruits have been secured at recent football games.

English featherweight champion Alf (Kid) Lewis has arrived in New York to take on a number of the American vest pocket edition scrappers during the next few months. Lewis will likely have his initial fight in Gotham, where he will match gloves with some of the best talent the promoters there can

Frank Wildfle Schulte, Hank O'Day's temperamental outfielder, holds one baseball record, and it may be many years before it is broken. The record in question is in the line of consecutive hitting, and was made In the World's series, when the German missed the sphere only in two of the twenty-one combats for baseballs greatest honors. He got one or hits in each of the contests played in 1907 and 1908, missed once in 1906, and again missed in 1910

The war is having no effect on horse racing in Canada or the United States, so far as attendance is concerned. At Louisville the attendance record was shattered twice during the past few days, and other Yankee track managers claim that the boys are flocking out to bet their coin of the reaim on the ponies, as in the days of yore. The Canuck track managers state that so far they have had no reason to complain.

Despite Manager Herzog's run in with President Tener, the owners of the Cincinnati Reds say that Charlie will be the 1915 manager of the Cincinnati club. This news surely cannot be reliable, as managers in Cinci are supposed to last but one season.

With Result That McGraw's Men Are Now Out of Running for the Flag.

BOSTON, Sept. 29.-The Boston team captured the National League pennant today by winning the last game of the season on the home grounds from Chicago, 3 to 2, while New York was losing to Pittsburg, 5 to 2. The Braves can now afford to lose all of their remaining nine games, and New York may win its eight games. and Boston still will have a margin of one-half game.

Boston's victory was a remarkable one. A tail-end team in mid-season, the Braves advanced steadily from July 1 to September 2, when they reached a tie with the Giants. Within two weeks of the latter date they had attained a lead which was never lost. Manager Stallings's success has been gained with a team, many of the mem-bers of which had been discarded by other major league clubs. The greatest single factor in the building of the nant-winning organization, however, probably was the acquisition of Johnny Evers, manager last year of the Chicago
