The former bark has just finished discharging English cargo at the outer wharf, and is going to Vancouver for lumber cargo for South Africa. The latter bark is not going so far, as her destination is Ganges Harbor, Salt Spring Island, where she loads lumber on Robert Ward & Co.'s account for Santa Rosalie. She was towed in from sea by the American tug Pioneer. The latter made fast to the outer wharf shortly after midday.

THE "MIOWERA'S" OUTWARD TRIP. Oa Friday or Saturday next-it is uncertain which—the R. M. S. Miowera will be given dispatch for the Southern Pacific. Whether or not she will land at Honolulu is still doubtful. According to present intentions, it is understood, she will call there, but instead of docking will discharge freight and passengers into a lighter. This will involve a special freight rate to shippers, and will tend to limit the vessel's cargo. On this account some 500 barrels of Roche from the Northern canneries on the steamship Danube yesterday evening. The ship ment consisted of 21,108 cases, divided thus: 2,050 cases from Rivers Inlet Canning Co.; 1,500 cases from Alert Bay Canping Co.; 3,000 cases from Mill Bay cannery; 11,007 cases from Naas Harbor cannery: 1,500 cases from Balmoral cannery: 51 cases from Windsor cannery; and 2,000 cases from Lowe Inlet Packing Co. A large number of cannery operatives also came down on the Danube. On the way down the steamers Princess Louise, Barbara Boscowitz and Al-Ki were passed, all bound north.

RETURNS FROM THE COAST.

While on the coast it rained very hard at times and the weather seemed considerably broken up. Captain Roberts brought back some samples of gold ore from Alberni for Mr. Henry Saunders. He reports great excitement prevailing at some of the mines, but brings no special news.

MARINE NOTES.

The Northern Pacific steamship Tacoma, en route to the Orient, arrived here from the Sound yesterday morning, bringing home J. E. Macrae and bride. In honor of the two passengers the steamer was gaily decked out with colors, Mr. Macrae being the local agent of the steamship company. The steamship, which sailed outwards at 6 o'clock last evening, carried from Victoria about 30 tons of freight and about the usual number of Chinese passengers. She received at Tacoma a variety of cargo, the largest shipment being flour. She took out as saloon passengers Dr. J. Anderson, Charles G. Lewis, Edward Chapman and William Shantz, missionaries, and J. H. Johnson. She also had 43 Chinese passengers, nearly all of whom are being deported under the Spring Ridge is excited over a sensation which culminated on Friday night in an elopement that is now the talk of the neighborhood. The principals in the affair are both married, the man leaving behind him a wife and child, and the woman deserting her husband, but taking her little four-year old girl with her. It was the deserted husbrnd who last evening reported the matter to the police, whose assistance he sought to regain his child. The wife and mother, he says, can go her own course. On the other hand the deserted wife is receiving the sympathy fore his departure having closed up his busion exhibition with the correct ness and converted his Victoria property names of the different varieties, is this definite is known of the whereabouts of the pair, but it is thought they took steamer here on Saturday for Seattle.

On Sunday the United Service lodge of Freemasons, at Esquimalt, attended divine service at St. Paul's church. The lodge turned out in strength, and the muster was increased by the presence of visiting Freemasons from Victoria. At the church the lodge was met by his Lordship Bishop Perrin, who had kindly come on purpose to address his brother Masons, by the chaplain of United Service lodge, and the choir of the church. The sermon was preached by the Bishop, who pressed home the truth that thoroughness and a high ideal have always been the marks of true Masonry, and urged from the Prevost island lighthouse yesterday his brother Masons always to cherish these in connection with the church with which for nearly 1,000 years Freemasonry has been so closely connected. After the service a collection was made for the Protestant Orphans' Home amounting to $15.

The general secretary in his report thanked the press of the city for the uniform kindness received from them in the cher grievance stated was the fact of the furtherance of the association's work.

At the close of the reports Mrs. Jenkins, assisted by Mr. Carter, presented the prizes the storekeepers could afford to sell. Our to the successful centestants in last Satur-day's regatta, the names of whom were pub-nel and manner of forwarding their petition lished in Sunday's Colonist.

The election of the board of directors was not taken up and the following were duly returned to the same day, passelected by ballot: W. H. Bone, Dr. Ernest ed Nakusp at 1 a.m., arrived at Robson at Hall, F. Davey, J. Hastie, A. Lee, H. Siddll, A. B. McNeil, D. McMillan, W. J. rived at Trail at 4:45 p.m.

White, Herbert Roper, J. T. Bethune and J. Pinec.

The trip down the river and through the lake on the magnificent steamer Nakuep was a pleasure long to be remembered and the Auxiliary had tastily decorated the plat-form with cut flowers, and at the close of sight that met our view at Trail was an eye opener—numbers of six horse wagons disform with out flowers, and at the close of the meeting served coffee, cake and sandthe meeting served coffee, cake and sandwiches. The new board meet on Friday stage wagons and dozens of men hanging stage wagons and dozens of men hanging around. We left Trail at 5 p.m. for the some on the stage wagon. Uncle Billy (Brown) having joined the party at Robson he formed the most conspicuous figure on the stage, and his fine tenor voice enlivened the mining camp on the way. Needless to say he is the life of the partyto say nothing of the spirit. We arrived at Rossland at 7 p.m., on the "dead jump," singing a rattling chorus, all the town coming down to see us. It is impossible to at--left for home yesterday. One and all extempt a description of the town in this short and hurried article, but if the reader can picture a sea of mountains, and on one of these innumerable wooden, unpainted houses, shacks, cabins, etc., just as if they had been dropped from the skies, and dot-ted on the outskirts with tents of all descriptions, and with hundreds of men standorary photographer to the club. With the ing on street corners and through the streets championship meeting the racing season in with apparently nothing to do, a slight idea Victoria is practically brought to a close. may be formed of the wildness of the scene. The best of accommodation was obtained. and a grand ball given on the evening of our arrival tended to enliven the proceedings naimo, Westminster and Vancouver races. and put us in good humor with the world. The following day excursions were made to city to Sidney, everyone to start from the principal mines—the War Eagle, Le Roi, Josie, Cliff, etc., and a most enjoyable scratch. It is expected that eight or ten local flyers will participate, and Mr. T. W. morning spent. The regret at the non-at-Patterson, of the V. & S. has promised a valtendance of a photographer was universal. Especially good would have been the picture of Col. Prior and Mr. Cassidy descending the shaft of the Le Roi mine in old overalls, slouch hats, and both crushed together in a large dirty iron dipper. It was regretted that the admiration of the two latter gentlemen for Rossland kept them so long in eaving, that they missed the steamer at Trail and had to ride to Northport and joined us 12th inst. at Nelson. We arrived at Trail at 3:50 p.m., and left Trail at 4:30 p.m. on the Nakusp. After a grand trip up the Columbia against the rushing tide and stemming the roaring rapids we arrived in Robson at 7:30 p.m. Mr. E. V. Bedwell joined the party here. We left Robson on the train at 9 p.m., and after one or two mishaps, one of which might have been quite serious, we arrived at Nelson at 12 noon. I will relate our mishap: Uncle Billy, E. B. Marvin and another gentleman were enjoying a quiet smoke in the smoker, when all of a sudden a car of lumber immediately preceding the smoker undertook to enter this car without any intimation or warning. The end of the smoker through which the lumber entered presented a very wrecked appearance, and the hurried exit of Uncle Billy and Mr. Marvin was something quite worth remembering.

Taking it from a business point of view the trip bids fair to be entirely successful; the big members have secured very good orders in every town so far and are more than pleased at the manner in which the merchants have met them. Their desire is to trade with Victoria and the coast, and it is quite apparent that with proper looking after the bulk of the trade of this country can be made profitable and can be controlled from the coast. Present arrangenents make the party due in Victoria on Friday evening.
