Bounty on Crows

Mr. Heatherbell, seconded by Mr. Way, urged the imposition of a small bounty upon crows.

Mr. Anderson—"This question has been pretty well threshed out on several occasions, and while crows are unquestionably a nuisance, in some places, a source of serious loss to fruit growers, in other places and in certain parts of the province their preservation is often recommended. Interference with the general course of nature is always a dangerous thing, and whether this motion is adopted or not.
