A Mad Doctor of Divinity.

We publish in full this morning the denunciation of Sir John Thompson made by Dr. Douglas of Montreal and printed in The Montreal Witness of Saturday night. It is a very fiery manifesto, characterized at once by misrepresentation and flippancy. Were our public men to indulge in such tirades as that of this clergyman there would be an end of all government in this country.

We ask our readers to go through carefully these three columns of philippic and then calmly survey the situation. For their guidance we ask them to remember: first, that Dr. Douglas is an ultra-Protestant in religion, is altogether lacking in the spirit of toleration, and what is quite apparent on the surface he, as a Methodist, resents in the bitterest terms the fact that Sir John Thompson was once a Methodist and is now, to use Dr. Douglas' term, "an apostate." The reader is also asked to remember that Dr. Douglas is a very rabid Grit.

His charge is that Sir John Thompson is a Jesuit; that he has been made Premier of the Dominion by the intriguing of the Catholic bishops; that he has not protested against clerical interference in Dominion elections; that he has favored discrimination in the law on the side of the rich as against the poor; and that he is responsible more than anyone else for the non-disallowance of the Jesuit bill. Dr. Douglas also blames the new Premier for the non-reference of that measure to the Privy Council.

In answer to Dr. Douglas we have this to say, that Sir John Thompson, in this land of toleration and religious freedom, has a right to change his religion if he thinks good to do so. Sir John Thompson is responsible, however, to the people of this country for any public act of his that interferes with religious or civil liberty, and when he is convicted of having done so he is no longer entitled to the support of the people of this country or of the press. The World will never condone any such interference from Sir John Thompson or any other man, but it will not condemn until he is found guilty.

When Dr. Douglas says that Sir John Thompson was made leader of the Conservative party and premier of the Dominion and that he was so made by the bishops of the Catholic Church he states a deliberate untruth. Sir John Thompson occupies his present position because Sir John Macdonald, the late leader of the party, trained him for it as far as his influence went and, most of all, because the Conservative members of Parliament selected him as Sir John Macdonald's successor. The bishops were never consulted, had no voice in the matter, and anyone who knows or has studied political life at Ottawa must know and will admit that it was because of Sir John Thompson's political and parliamentary ability that he was selected by his party as its chief, and for no other reason. He was the best man in his party and was so chosen.

As to the Jesuit Bill, Sir John Macdonald must take the main responsibility therefor. Sir John Thompson was his Minister of Justice and spoke for the entire Government, and the decision therein reached, namely, not to interfere with provincial rights in the premises, is the very reason why Manitoba is enabled to-day to set up national schools and do away with Separate Schools, a piece of legislation which of course Dr. Douglas commends. Sir John Thompson, in the face of his record on the Jesuit Bill, will be open to the denunciation of Dr. Douglas should he attempt or propose to interfere with Manitoba's liberty in the matter of schools, but until he does so he should not be subject to the wholesale condemnation of his violent critic. Sir John Thompson as Premier of this Dominion is to be judged and is answerable to the Canadian people for his record as Premier, and we claim in all fairness that he must be given an opportunity of making a record before condemnation. This is proven to be sound doctrine by the argument of the reverend gentleman, who in a fiery passage refers to Burke's impeachment and crushing of Warren Hastings, to Pitt's prowess in resisting Napoleon; Canning's effort in the cause of Catholic Emancipation; Lord John Russell's Reform Bill and Palmerston's maintenance of the prestige of England; Gladstone's abolition of the state church in Ireland and purchase in the British army; Papineau's fight for responsible government and Sir John Macdonald's federation of the provinces and of his service with Mackenzie in the construction of the Pacific Railway. But why does not Dr. Douglas give Sir John Thompson the same chance? All these statesmen whose deeds he quotes were in office, had a government of their own and a majority in Parliament at their back, and were fairly held responsible for what they did. But the fiery Doctor now proposes to condemn Sir John Thompson before he has ever had an opportunity to mould legislation with a full and free hand as every prime minister is supposed to have. As we said before, if Sir John Thompson as Premier ever proposes anything contrary to public policy, contrary to British views of civil and religious liberty, then will he be open to such fiery onslaughts, but it is worse than unfair, it is illiberal, intolerant and narrow-minded, for a professed Protestant and a Radical to get up and condemn a man before he has had an opportunity of making a record.

When Dr. Douglas says that Sir John Thompson barked the reference of the Jesuit question to the Privy Council he does not state the truth. It was the Protestants of Quebec who accepted the $60,000 from Mercier for their own schools, and refused to be a party to the reference, and as a matter of law they were the only persons who could demand such a proceeding.

In short, it is because Sir John Thompson bears the "brand of apostate," that he was once a Methodist, that this intolerant Methodist clergyman compares him to "the ipecac of materia medica," that he spews him out of his mouth. And as such spewed matter must Dr. Douglas' tirade be regarded. But people do not care to handle what is vomit, and with all due regard to Dr. Douglas, to the high position he holds in his denomination, to his intense Protestant feeling, we can find no other comparison so apt as the one he has suggested. No man of balanced intellect could have uttered such unreasoned sentences, and no man of the first spark of toleration could have been so intolerant to another. In one of the old histories of the Christian church we read this of St. Paul: "His consummate fortitude was tempered with the rarest gentleness and the most active charity. His very copious and vivid imagination was chastised by the most accurate judgment, and was connected with the closest argumentative powers." No one can say this of Dr. Douglas.

Again we ask, and we know Canadians will concede it, that Sir John be taken as the choice of his party as its leader and not as the selection of the bishops, and that he be judged by the legislation he proposes when in that position. When he has committed a substantial fault let him be condemned. But don't hang, draw and quarter him before the trial.

THE TIMES' XMAS PICTURE.

What The Thunderer Has to Say Regarding Canadian Affairs.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—At this glad time of the year, when the air is full of rejoicing, it is curious to note the wail of pessimism which the great Times sends up. It ranges over the entire world and finds only misery and threatened destruction. As a picture, unique in Christmas literature, it is worth preservation. Here is the view that a visitor from another planet would take of our little world:

"Our stranger will hardly find in Canadian public life the very sweet-smiling flower of Christian virtue and principle, while if he looks across the frontier he will observe that the one event which more than any other has impressed the imagination of the two hemispheres has been the death of a man whose life can hardly be regarded as an ideal illustration of the Christian doctrine of the deceitfulness of riches and the vanity of their pursuit.

"If he crosses the Atlantic he will find in London, West and East, two societies—the one almost wholly given over to idleness and ignoble frivolity and the other overwhelmed in the degrading and demoralizing squalor of almost hopeless poverty.

"Crossing the channel, he will find in Paris the society, morals and literature of the decadence illustrated in sufficiently ghastly fashion by a popular and almost universal belief in the wholesale turpitude of public men.

"Throughout Europe he will find nations armed to the teeth, devoting their main energies to the perfection of their fighting material and to the victualing of their fighting men and the keenest of their intellectual forces to the problem of scientific destruction.

"Beneath the surface of society, wherever the pressure becomes so great as to open an occasional rift, he will catch ominous glimpses of toiling and groaning millions, seething in sullen discontent and yearning after a new heaven and a new earth, to be realized in the wild frenzy of anarchy by the overthrow of all existing institutions and the letting loose of the fiercest passions of the human animal."

The Manitoba School Question.

Members of Parliament have received the following circular:

To the Honorable Members of the Dominion Parliament:

We, the undersigned, representing the Protestant ladies of Ontario, humbly show:

That, whereas the Provincial Legislature of Manitoba has seen fit to pass an act, entitled the Public School Act, in which they clearly set forth the wishes of the people of Manitoba;

Whereas said act has been declared intravires of the said Manitoba Legislature by the highest judiciary of the empire;

Whereas in the matter of the Jesuits' Estate Act, passed by the Legislature of the Province of Quebec, in the year 1888, the Dominion Parliament refused to interfere on behalf of the minority of that province, and declared by a large majority that said act was intra vires;

Whereas the Manitoba Legislature has not by said Public School Act deprived the Roman Catholics of that province of any of the rights secured to them at the time said province entered the Confederation;

Whereas we have been compelled to submit to acts, passed from time to time, by both Provincial and Dominion Parliaments, that have been favorable to the Roman Catholics and adverse to Protestants;

We do most solemnly protest against any interference on the part of your Honorable Parliament with said Manitoba School Act, and we respectfully ask you to lend us your valuable influence in this matter.

You will pardon us for thus calling your attention to this matter. Our excuse is that we consider that the time has fully come when the Protestant women of this Dominion are called upon to speak in behalf of the sacred rights handed down to us by our fathers and mothers,—rights that we feel bound to transmit to our children. Hence we intend to speak on such questions as the above from time to time. By order of the PROTESTANT LADIES OF ONTARIO.

Dec. 19, 1892.

A Few Facts Wanted, Please.

Mr. D'Alton McCarthy, Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, The Montreal Star and The Toronto Globe are alleging that the N.P. is a serious tax on Canadians, and especially on the farmer.

We are still pressing for one specific case of hardship. For two or more specific cases. Please give them to us Tell us while you are about it how much the average farmer pays toward the N.P. revenue and on what articles. No general statement, but specific instances. We've been asking for these for six months.

After we have got answers of this nature we may have another nut to crack, namely, what easier way is there of raising a revenue, and we must have a revenue, than the N.P. tariff?

Come now, gentlemen, get down to the facts.

There can be a difference of opinion on most subjects, but there is only one opinion as to the reliability of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It is safe, sure and effectual.

CHRISTMAS IN TORONTO.

How the Citizens Spent the Holiday—The Hand of Charity Was Open Wide.

The weather yesterday was gloriously fine. The sky was clear and the sun shone brightly for several hours. True, the air was nipping, for all day the thermometer's register was below zero. But the well-clad and jolly holiday-makers seemed to enjoy it. Business was almost entirely suspended, the theatres were crowded at each performance and the trolley and railway cars were in great request. There was less drunkenness than in former years and more of real home enjoyment.

At the public charitable institutions there was abundance of good fare. Destitute ones were looked after by the Salvation Army and by the Union Mission. The prisoners in the jail and Central and those at the Mercer had unequivocal manifestations that Christmas is a season of goodwill. How they relished the extra fare which kind-hearted benevolence provided for them! And with what zest they sang their Christmas hymns just as in the good old days of happier years!

At the Boys' Home.

There was a joyous Christmas dinner at the Boys' Home yesterday noon. The 90 boys sat down to a long table, on which were placed 27 turkeys, 5 geese and 100 pounds of plum pudding, besides pastry, cake and sweetmeats. When those boys got up from the table the dainties had vanished. Among the visitors present were E. B. Osler, J. L. Davidson, Robert Gilmour, Angus MacMurchy, James Scott, Rev. Thomas Manning and Horace Gooderham.

Candy For the Orphans.

The following officers of Victoria L.O.L. 588, Major W. Henderson, W.M.; Charles Doughty, D.M.; J. M. Kennedy, I.P.M.; Henry Hogarth, P.M.; E. W. Powers, P.M.; Elijah Westman, P.M.; Donald Barron, Chap.; Henry Drummond, D. of C.; J. W. Bowden, fin. sec.; R. F. Mackenzie, rec. sec.; William Plunkett, treas.; William Noble, 1st com.; Thomas Doughty, lecturer; John McBean, 2nd com.; J. F. Loudon, P.M.; Robert Riddell, P.M., 342, paid a visit to the Protestant Orphans' Home yesterday to present their annual donation to the institution. They also took 30 lbs. of candy for the children and were shown through the building by Mrs. Vankoughnet. The party were delighted with the cordial reception they received from the management of the Home.

Christmas Supper for 1000 Children.

The Children's Christmas Feast at the Salvation Army was celebrated last night. There was enough and to spare. Tables were spread to seat 1000 but, although a large crowd, more children might have availed themselves of the free banquet. Those present evidently had a good time. The repast consisted of pork pies, plum pudding, cakes, oranges and apples. Each child was presented by Mrs. Booth with a box of candies and a flag, the latter being waved enthusiastically by each child.

Mrs. Booth personally superintended the proceedings, assisted by Brigadier Holland and a staff of workers. Of course the noise at times was rather uproarious, but good attention was given whilst Mrs. Booth related stories suitable to the occasion, leading each one to think of the Christ-child.

The hall was tastefully decorated with flags of various nations. Upon the platform stood three Christmas trees, the centre one towering above the others, and laden with various articles, set off by Chinese lanterns, and the whole encircled by a powerful arc light emitted from a limelight lantern placed in the gallery. This, when the gas was turned down, made the whole a very pretty scene. A brass band played selections during the evening.

The Nurses' Kindness Appreciated.

Mrs. Ford, on behalf of the Ancient Order of Foresters, presented the library of the Nurses' Training School at the General Hospital with 47 beautifully bound volumes.

Several members of the order were present and asked the acceptance of the volumes as a slight token of the Foresters' appreciation of the way in which members of their society were treated when under the nurses' care.

The Firemen's Christmas Party.

'Twas a lively and pleasant time the firemen of the Lombard-street hall had last night. It was the annual supper and entertainment. The program was choice and varied. The humorists, Mr. Driscoll, was particularly happy in the selection of his numbers. The hall's minstrel troup was a feature of the entertainment. Among the 80 or so persons present were Rev. Mr. Manning, curate St. James'; Ald. Shaw, Bell, Foster, Stewart, School Trustee Hambly.

MR. SHEPPARD AT YORKVILLE.

A Great Reception at St. Paul's Hall Last Night.

There must be enthusiastic support behind a candidate when it is possible to fill a building like St. Paul's Hall to overflowing on Christmas night. Yet this was the case when Ald. Shaw took the chair last evening at the meeting to support the candidature of Mr. E. E. Sheppard. On the platform were also ex-Ald. Hall (of the Reform Association), J. S. Fullerton, Q.C.; C. C. Robinson, S. T. Scully, W. B. Newsome, Thomas McMullen, William Adams, George Severn, John Armstrong, S. W. Burns, C. F. Prescott and others.

Ald. Shaw made some introductory remarks, expressing his entire confidence in Mr. Sheppard and his principles. Mr. Shaw made a neat and pointed speech, which was exceedingly well received.

W. B. Newsome, J. S. Fullerton and C. C. Robinson followed with short speeches in support of Mr. Sheppard's candidature.

The candidate was the last speaker of the evening. He was received with a burst of applause, and his arguments were frequently greeted with applause. In scorching terms he referred to his opponent's course of recrimination. Speaking of the Mayor's statement to the effect that Mr. Sheppard's property had been placed in his wife's name, the speaker said that the property now in Mrs. Sheppard's name had always been so.

Mr. Sheppard's speech was received with great enthusiasm, which culminated in three hearty cheers.

The meeting was one of the heartiest of the campaign, and the promises of good results in the neighborhood are very bright.

A branch committee room for the district north of Bloor-street has been opened at 846 Yonge-street.

Mr. Sheppard's next meetings are to-night at St. George's Hall, corner of Queen and Berkeley-streets, and on Thursday at Ayre's Hall, corner of Winchester and Parliament-streets.

Try it.—It would be a gross injustice to confound that standard healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—with the ordinary unguents, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. This oil is, on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed.

In this lies the great secret of the popularity of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills.

MANTELL IN MELODRAMA.

Two Immense Audiences at the Grand Yesterday.

Two immense audiences greeted Robert Mantell, who opened at the Grand yesterday in "The Face in the Moonlight." As the argument of the play is neatly sketched on the program, it need but be said that Mr. Mantell has the dual roles of two half-brothers, one a criminal, the other a man of honor and distinction. Such a situation has been turned to farcical effect on the stage before this, but in this play the crimes of the one get the other into several tragical positions. Even his wife gets to think he is a murderer. The plot is not very clear, and it is a good idea to print the argument.

Mr. Mantell makes a great many quick changes and the criminal is the most distinct of the characterizations. Mr. Mantell gives him quite a farcical turn; in fact there was a comic opera flavor about the criminal which indicates that Mr. Mantell might have been a Digby Bell if he had started earlier. As Victor Ambrose he was a distinguished-looking and emotional officer. Rabat's intensity of despair had sometimes a sincere touch about it. Miss Behrens had the tears of the audience; her voice is as emotional as ever. Miss Caroline Miskels is a very beautiful and at the same time a talented ingenue.

At the Muses.

The Muses was crowded all afternoon and evening. The attractions in the lecture hall were of the usual class, with the exception of the "Steam Man," which is quite a novel mechanical contrivance, and attracts much attention. The tattooed man, woman and dog and the Arabs are also objects of admiration. Stephen Stephens' wooden-headed show can always be depended upon to amuse a few of the audience. In the theatre the Tooleys give their German sketch. Val Jean is a clever juggler. The Four Cohans give a pleasing performance. Josie Cohan's dancing and high kicking is one of the best features of the entire show. On Friday afternoon each lady gets a souvenir. In the evening each gentleman accompanied by a lady will also get a souvenir.

The Clarke-Macgillivray Concert.

Mr. Herbert L. Clarke, assisted by Miss Laura Macgillivray, Miss Lilli Kleiser, Mrs. H. M. Blight and the Toronto Male Quartet, gave a Christmas concert in Association Hall last night. The program was opened by the quartet, who gave a delightful rendering of "Killarney"; Mr. Clarke followed with a cornet solo, "Nocturne," his accurate handling of which won him great applause. Mr. H. M. Blight's interpretation of "The Girl He Left Behind" was much enjoyed. Miss Macgillivray excelled in her conception of "Pauline Pavlovna," also showing her capability of handling a lighter part in an amusing sketch. The monolog of "The Closed Door," however, was the number in which Miss Macgillivray was given an opportunity to prove her versatility, he rapid transition from one emotion to another being highly interesting.

Miss Lilli Kleiser gave several vocal selections of a character most pleasing. Mrs. H. M. Blight followed with a clever organ solo. Mr. W. H. Robinson's vocal solo was also greatly appreciated.

The Rambler from Clare

The Toronto Opera House was crowded to the doors at both performances yesterday by Dan McCarthy and his company in "The Rambler from Clare." Dan was seen here at the same house at the beginning of the season, and the audiences yesterday augur well for the balance of the week. Mr. McCarthy, as usual, was very good, and excited a great deal of merriment in his role of Tony Sullivan. Miss Polly Holmes, who played the part of Rose Dwyer, was excellent and gave several songs in good style. The remainder of the company are clever and greatly contribute to the general success of the play, which will be repeated every evening this week, with Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees.

The Great Orchestra at the Pavilion To-Night.

The Chicago Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Theodore Thomas, will give one grand concert in the Pavilion to-night. It certainly is the musical event of the season. Agnes Thomson, who is so favorably known here, is the soprano, and many of her friends will greet her. Seats can be secured at Nordheimers' music store.

Notes.

Mr. Charles Roberts and Miss Jessie Alexander will give the choicest selections of their varied repertoires at their combined recital at the Pavilion on New Year's night. This will undoubtedly be one of the dramatic treats of the season. Plan opens to-morrow at Nordheimers'.

STRIFE AT CHRISTMAS.

How It Broke Out in the Stable Yesterday.

Thomas Forbam is foreman at the street railway stables in Front-street. There is a standing feud between him and George Whitters, 3 St. David's-place, and yesterday afternoon it brought with it serious consequences. Whitters is charged with attacking Forbam and beating him. John Forbam, son of the man just mentioned, interfered and was knocked down and was kicked so badly he had to be carried home. Whitters was arrested.

Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup stands at the head of the list for all diseases of the throat and lungs. It acts like magic in breaking up a cold. A cough is soon subdued, tightness of the chest is relieved, even the worst case of consumption is relieved, while in recent cases it may be said never to fail. It is a medicine prepared from the active principles or virtues of several medicinal herbs, and can be depended upon for all pulmonary complaints.

Queen's and Walker Ball.

Invitations have been issued for the fifth annual ball of the Queen's and Walker Hotels, which is to be held at Webb's on Jan. 25. It is expected that this will be the most successful ball and supper yet held by Queen's and Walker, as 150 have already made applications for invitations. Music will be furnished by Gilonna's popular orchestra, and as this ball has become an annual event James Gilonna, it is understood, will dedicate his latest and best waltz to the "Queen's and Walker." William Carkeek, the pianist, has been engaged to perform during the intermission, and the committee of management have arranged for an elaborate supper.

RHEUMATISM
Sciatica, General Debility, Lumbago, Nervous Diseases, Dyspepsia, Varicocele, Constipation, Female Complaints, Sexual Weakness, Impotency, Kidney Diseases, Liver Complaint, Lame Back, Urinary Diseases, RHEUMATISM
We venture the assertion that, although electricity has only been in use as a curative power for a few years, it has cured more cases of rheumatism than all other means combined. Some of our leading physicians, recognizing this fact, are availing themselves of this most potent of nature's forces. It is the only known remedial agent that will supply what is lacking, namely, nerve force or power, impart tone and vigor and arouse to healthy action the whole nervous system.
Electric Insoles—Dr. Owen's Electric Insoles will prevent Rheumatism and cure Chilblains and Cramps in the feet and legs. Price $1, by mail.
Beware of imitations and the worthless, cheap, so-called Electric Belts advertised by some concerns and peddled through the country. They are electric in name only, worthless as a curative power, and dear at any price.
Our trade mark is the portrait of Dr. Owen embossed in gold upon every Belt and Appliance manufactured by us.
Send for catalogue—Mailed (sealed) free.
