The I. C. S. Exhibit.

One of the big show windows in the store of John Lockett & Son is this week given up to the display of the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., of which Mr. B. C. Shaw, of Yarmouth, is local agent. The display consists of samples of work done by students of the school in Western counties, and also the looks and instruments with which the school equips students while at work. In the centre of the window is one of the phonographs used in teaching foreign languages. The school gives courses in 154 different subjects, and claims to have students enrolled in every country in the world. A colored map showing the number of students in each of these countries is one of the features of the display. The exhibition will no doubt attract considerable attention this week. Mr. Shaw will be in attendance, and parties provided with the coupon in the circulars distributed around town will be treated to a free lesson in the Spanish or French languages. Mrs. George Dunn, of Bear River, is visiting friends and relatives here.
Messrs. Robert Curtis, Reginald Baird, Corey Long and John Curtis, recently arrived from New Hampshire.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The basket ball game between the Tartars and Bankers league teams last Wednesday evening was witnessed by a full house, and resulted in a victory a full house, and resulted in a victory for the Tartars by a score of 13-12.

The playing, especially in the first half, was slow in comparison with some of the rapid games that have been witnessed here of late, and was exceptionally free from rough play. The Tartars made 12 points on field coals and the Rapkers scored three The District Division, S. of T., for Annapolis County, met in Olive Branch

Dear Sirs:—I feel it my duty to tell you of the benefit I derived from the use of Empire Liniment. For three months I was at the point of death with pain in my limbs and feet. I suffered such pain. I had the doctors attending me, but they all gave me up. Mr. L. Livingstone, agent for Empire Liniment, came to our house and mother bought a bottle of liniment from him, as he said it was good for swollen limbs, and it helped me so much that mother bought eight bottles more, and it has made a complete cure of me. Empire Liniment is so The following program was carried out at the evening session:
