

ember 14th. to Walter E. Coram. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life together. Miss Watters has been the recipient of a handsome present from the Officers and Teachers of the Sunday School.

S. Paul's.—The "Needle Work Society" will hold its Annual Sale and 5 o'clock Tea on December 11th. During the past year or two, through the energy of the women of this congregation, $1,000 was raised for beautifying the interior of the Church, and something for the wants of the Diocese as well.

Loch Lomond.—During the last few months some long needed repairs of the Church at Loch Lomond have been made. The entire roof of the Church has been shingled. Stone buttresses have been built underneath the Church, and new sills placed on them. New sills also have been put under the spire. A new floor has been laid down in the Chancel and also in the Vestry. The entire inside walls of the Church and Vestry have been plastered. Windows have been repaired. A new stove has been put in the Church. We have received valuable help from friends in St. John and St. Martins. The members of the congregation have done a great deal of work themselves, besides contributing to the cost of materials and hauling them from St. John, and their wives and daughters kindly provided the materials for a festival when the work was approaching its close.

All, however, is not done yet, for we need a new stove for the Vestry, new locks and keys, and (a far more expensive item) we need an enlargement of the stabling, so as to accommodate ten horses instead of (as at present) three. We need also a new carpet for the Chancel. Any generous friends who will supply these wants will do a real kindness to a congregation who are doing all they can to help themselves.

Campobello.—A short time ago we were afraid that our Rector was going to leave us, and that, in consequence, the Church would be closed during the winter. We are glad to know that he has decided to remain with us. Church work in this Parish is going on successfully.

Grand Manan.—The services of the Church in this Island Parish are regularly conducted, though at times it is hard work for our Parson to keep his engagements, especially in the stormy winter weather. The walk between Grand Harbour and North Head, (our Parson has no horse), is not always the most pleasant occupation.

St. Andrews.—We have not much to write about just now that would be interesting to the readers of the DEANERY MAGAZINE. Since the closing of the Summer Hotels the congregations are of course somewhat smaller, though the attendance is good still. A short time ago we enjoyed a visit from the Venerable Metropolitan, who administered the Rite of Confirmation to a goodly number.

St. George.—The Church and Rectory at St. George have been painted and are looking much improved. The congregations, both at St. George and at Pennfield, are large. The Dean has been suffering a good deal lately from sciatica, which makes it very painful for him to get through his Sunday work.

St. David.—We have just had a visit from his Lordship the Bishop-Coadjutor, who has consecrated another Church in this Parish (the second this year), and confirmed another class of candidates. These ceremonies took place at what is called "The Bethel," an outlying district, and in which are but a few Church people, but who, nevertheless, have shown their zeal in erecting a very comfortable and Church-like building. The Rector of this "Missionary" Parish would be most thankful to any friends who would send him some old Magazines, or other reading for his people, or books for Sunday School use.

St. Stephen, CHRIST CHURCH. We have not much news to send from this Parish for the DEANERY MAGAZINE. The services of the Church are regularly conducted. The congregations are increasing. The attendance at the weekly Bible Class is good. We were in hopes of having some special services before Advent, but owing to the difficulty of obtaining help, we have been obliged to give them up. Mr. Symington, who is working in Calais, Diocese of Maine, is doing a good work as lay-reader under the direction of the Rector of Christ Church, who is in charge of that Mission. Our Mite-Society, which was instituted to take the place of sales and other questionable modes of raising money for Church purposes, is prospering beyond our expectations. We feel that in this matter we have taken a step in the right direction. We hope before long to send an account of the proposed work in Milltown. For a long time no regular services have been held in this Town, and in consequence the Church is nearly dead there. Our Rector has been trying for some time past to rent some building in which to hold service, but has been unsuccessful. An effort is now being made to erect a building of our own for the use of the Church, but the few Church folk are not able to do much and must depend upon outside aid. A liberal Churchman of the Parish has promised to provide the lumber to the extent of $200, for the finishing of the outside, if the money can be raised for the putting up of the building. A subscription list is in circulation at the present time, and we hope to soon see the work of building begun.

TRINITY CHURCH.—A very successful Sale and Tea was held in the School Room of this Church a week or two ago, at which about $75 was realized. The Young Men's Society has begun its winter meetings. The services of the Church are well attended.

Albert.—As a grant of $100 was made by the B. H. M. to this Mission, there is room to hope that a feeling of love for the Church may yet be kept alive in the hearts of those few sheep in the wilderness. Mrs. Reid, a typical Churchwoman, lives in and takes loving care of the Parsonage in the absence of a resident Missionary. Notwithstanding her long continued experience of disappointment, she yet hopes to see the Church flourishing in Albert County. May it be even so!
