THE FIRST OF JUVENILE PERIODICALS
GOOD THINGS
 FOR THE YOUNG OF ALL AGES.
 EDITED BY GEORGE MACDONALD,
 AND ILLUSTRATED BY THE BEST ARTISTS.

* This Magazine has hitherto been known under the title of "GOOD WORDS FOR THE YOUNG." To mark the important changes and improvements which have been introduced, it has been thought well to alter the name to the simpler and prettier one given above. Good Things will address itself to the young of all ages, from the little beginner, who can just read a picture, to the big boys and girls who study at the desk or about the playground; and so onwards up to the veterans who after all their learning, turn to the children for a fresher wisdom, and play the old games over again in their heads. "GOOD THINGS" hopes, as a periodical, to have its name well thought and dog-eared, and when the binder has thumbed and made it fit for the library, the volume will try for a fixed place there in good company. The avowal of a multitude of assorted "goodies" cannot be put into a prospectus; but in

THE Illustrated Christian Weekly,
 FO 1873
 Will continue to merit its claim of its title to be the "handsomest illustrated paper in the world." New portraits of eminent men—equal to those already given of Beecher, Spurgeon, Low, Mason, and others, are in preparation. Religious work at home and abroad, social and domestic life in various parts of the world, and the preparation of the day, are among the topics which will be illustrated in the best manner by artists as Dingley, Herrick, Heard, Dixon, and others. Each number of the paper will contain seven or more finely executed engravings. In the literary department, Dr. C. S. Robinson, whose original sketches have been an acceptable feature of the paper the present year, will furnish a new series, descriptive of life and customs in the East. On the conclusion of John S. C. Abbott's fascinating "History of William the Conqueror," other historical sketches from the same masterly pen will be forthcoming. S. E. Todd will give us a series of charmingly illustrated papers, and how to build them cheaply. Contributions may also be expected from Mrs. J. G. Crosby, J. E. Rankin, Prof. H. M. Baird and W. C. Wilkinson, Jacob Abbott, A. L. Noble, Mrs. E. L. Beers, Mrs. A. E. Hise, Mrs. M. E. Miller, Mrs. M. A. Denison, and other popular writers.

NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.
 1873.
 Now, as heretofore, THE TRIBUNE strives to be first of all and preeminently a news paper.

France a Republic—England and Germany gradually converted with Republican ideas—Spain awaying in the herculean grasp of a ruler too good for his country and too weak for a Republic, who is unable to govern the great island that blocks the entrance to our Gulf of Mexico, and equally unable to give it up—the German-speaking peoples agitated by a new Protestantism, separating from the See of Rome on the ground of Papal infallibility and assuming to recognize the "Old Catholics"—the whole Continent pervaded by the intellectual ferment that comes of the conflict between old ideas, philosophical, theological, material, and the advance of Physical Science—Russia and Great Britain running a race for the final gains that shall determine Asiatic supremacy—China seeming ready to abandon her advances and to let her half opened gates Japan abolishing feudalism and inviting Western civilization to irradiate Western commerce to enrich her long hidden empire—such are the scenes that are now being enacted upon the globe, and which the TRIBUNE has followed from the cradle to the grave of the old world, and the birth of the new. With able and trusted correspondents in the leading capitals, and wherever great changes are in progress, THE TRIBUNE aims, at whatever cost, to lay before its readers the most complete, complete, and popular presentment of these stirring events, and the movements, through all of which, as it fondly trusts, the toiling masses are everywhere struggling up toward larger recognition and a brighter future.

At home the struggle for freedom seems over. The last slave in our country, the last opposition to emancipation, enfranchisement, equal civil rights, has formally been abandoned. No party, North or South, longer disputes the result of the War for the Union; all declare that these results must never be undone; and, with a whole people thus united on the grand platform of All Rights for All, whereto our bloody struggles and the prolonged civil contests that followed, have led us, the Republic closes the records of the bitter, hateful past, and turns peacefully, hopefully, to the less alarming because less vital problems of the future. To whatever may elicitate the general discussion or action on these, THE TRIBUNE gives amplest space and most impartial record. Whatever parties may propose, whatever political leaders may say, whatever officers may do, is fairly set down in its columns, whether this news helps or hurts its own cause. Its readers have the right to an honest statement of the facts; and this they always get.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE, now more than thirty years old, has endeavored to keep up with the progress of the age in its various departments. It has a large share of its columns to Agriculture as the most essential and general of human pursuits. It employs the ablest and most successful cultivators to set forth in brief, clear essays their practical views of the Farmer's work. It reports public discussions which elucidate that work; or presents with greater average profit than any other journal, articles and other Markets, will, of themselves, save the farmer who regularly notes them far more than his journal's price.

For the family circle of the educated farmer or artisan, THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has no superior, as it is proved by the hundreds of thousands who, having read it from childhood, still cherish and enjoy it in the prime and on the down hill of life. We respectfully urge those who know its worth to commend THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE to their friends and neighbors, as we prefer it to clubs at price which barely pay the cost of paper and press-work.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1873—SIXTH YEAR.
"THE ALDINE,"
 An illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the handsomest Periodical in the world. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.
 Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.
THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity has none of the temporary or timely characteristics of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant chameleon, pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is an unique and original conception, alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT.
 To possess such a valuable epitome of the art world at a cost so trifling, will command the attention of a thousand in every section of the country. But, as the usefulness and attraction of THE ALDINE can be enhanced, in proportion to the numerical increase of its subscribers, the publisher proposes to make "assurance double sure," by the following unparalleled effort.
