SATURDAY MORNING, DEC. 11.

Opposition to the Radial Bylaw

All the opposition to the hydro radial bylaw appears to be centered in The News, which is understood in some degree to represent the Ontario Government. While caution is necessary, and protest is imperative when real weaknesses or vital difficulties are perceived, it is surely a mistake to raise difficulties that do not exist. The News questions whether Toronto has not been asked to assume too heavy a responsibility for a provincial system of electric railways, which, as The News admits, can take care of themselves, and have done so in the past to such an extent that they have lost public sympathy. If the effect of the new radial system will be to bring the corporation radials to reasonable terms, just as the effect of the hydro-electric system in Toronto was to cut the rates of light and power in half, then The News may agree that the province is not assuming so heavy a responsibility after all.

Whether it is necessary to commit ourselves to such far-reaching proposals depends altogether upon whether they are considered from the side of the people or from the side of the corporations. The government is representative of the whole people, and if the people wish to inaugurate a hydro radial system the government will have no objections. In fact, the government has already asked for reports upon the whole subject, and when these are presented it is unlikely that the desire of the people will be opposed.

The question whether we could use the surface lines of the city after 1921 for radial purposes is one of those delaying suggestions that are so frequent in Toronto municipal endeavor. Never do today what you can put off till tomorrow is the maxim which serves to supply a large number of our legislators and officials. Three years ago the street railway might have been acquired at a cost no greater than that involved by the transportation scheme laid before the city council this week, but the people were refused an opportunity to say whether they would or would not free themselves from the shackles that then bound and still bind them in matters of transportation.

People who argue that they will be dead before anything can be done take these slow, obstructive views of improvement. Live men, who expect to carry on business for years to come and with whom the present is a consideration, wish to move a little less deliberately. Even the transportation reports admit that the growth of Toronto beyond the limits of areas served by car lines has been remarkable. The people are compelled to go even where they cannot get car service, and when they ask for it they are accused of being land grabbers and speculators. In other cities the car lines usually precede the population. There is nothing premature therefore in the proposal to make a start on improving the car service of Toronto.

The radial scheme offers an opening of a favorable kind, strategically as well as commercially, to begin the work of development. As it will not cost the taxpayers any money, they are not likely to object to such an improvement.

A Reversed Decision

It used to be a boast of Mr. Justice Leitch, when chairman of the Ontario Railway Board, that none of his decisions had been reversed, although frequently objected to by the citizens. The railway board can no longer make this assertion, for the appellate court has broken that record by reversing its recent decision permitting the York Radial Railway to deviate its tracks from Yonge street. As a rule the Canadian courts are governed by common sense and equity, and when the city has suffered by adverse decisions these have usually come from the legal committee of the city council. A different point of view appears to obtain at the foot of the throne in matters of practice, and the precedents in the experience of the old country have been on lines entirely different from those of Canada.

Common sense should have governed the Ontario Railway Board in the Farnham avenue decision, and the judgment of the appellate court indicates that the grounds for a common-sense decision were sufficiently evident. The Ontario Railway Board has been a sad disappointment to those who expected great things from it. The supposed intention when it was established was to have a strong public utility tribunal where all kinds of disputes and differences of opinion could have been adjusted on an equitable and sensible basis, and where the reasonableness of the decisions would have made it unwise, or at least inexpedient, to resort to legal procedure.

Only a big man like the first chairman of the Dominion Railway Board could have established such a standard. While the Ontario Board has done admirably in routine work, in statistics, in tabulation, in correlation of the statistics, it does not seem to have been able to reach the higher level of its opportunities. It has been one of the few failures of Sir James Whitney's premiership, and it would indicate a new streak of vitality in the present government, if the Ontario Railway Board were taken in hand and altogether reformed.

Whiskey Instead of Beer

The Saskatchewan dispensary system, while on the whole working well, has developed one rather startling defect which perhaps ought to have been anticipated. In reply to a complaint from the Saskatchewan brewers respecting the small orders they were getting the provincial dispensary commission has stated that but little beer is called for. The Saskatchewan Saturday Press confirms the statement, saying:

The reply made by Commissioner Bole is that "there is a very small amount of beer sold now, compared with that sold under the old system." We are aware of this; and it constitutes a very severe arraignment of the new system. The sales in Saskatchewan, as we mentioned a few weeks ago, show that there is about ten times as much hard liquor being sold here as malt liquor, and this is a very unsatisfactory condition of affairs, as even the strongest temperance advocate will allow.

The Saskatchewan statute does not permit any liquor to be consumed on the premises where it is sold nor can it be consumed upon any street, alley, or vacant lot, or in any hotel, club, storeroom, railway station, railway train, or other public place. The citizen is supposed to take the liquor he provides for on the dispensary to his own home. The bulkiness of malt liquor, the fact that it quickly "turns" or spoils after the bottle or keg has been opened; the necessity in the case of larger beer at least for cooling apparatus to make it palatable, all combine to render beer or ale almost unsaleable under the laws of Saskatchewan. The dispensary will naturally sell the hard stuff almost exclusively and many teetotal drinkers will become whiskey drinkers.

The suggestion has therefore been made that a wise government will distinguish between whiskey and beer. Much can be said in favor of making the sale of distilled spirits a state monopoly which does not apply to the sale of beer. Some, therefore, hold that the province should license barrooms for the sale of malt liquors while monopolizing for itself the sale of more fiery spirits. The question is a thorny one, but we think that few will endorse any system which tends to encourage the sale of whiskey by discouraging the sale of beer.

Presidential Possibilities

It seems reasonably certain that President Wilson will be named for reelection by the Democratic party. Beyond that all is chaos. The Republicans developed great strength in the elections of 1914-15 and might easily elect their candidate. But at this writing no one can even guess who that candidate will be.

Probably a hundred men are mentioned, but no one of them has developed any particular strength. Each state has a "favorite son" and some states have a number of them. One might easily forecast the first ballot in the national convention when complimentary votes will be in order, but what will happen after that?

"Is Connie going to do what Uncle John tells him or is he going to the woodshed with him?"

TO HEAT OR NOT TO

THE VITAL QUESTION

Dr. McKay Would Rather Furnish Open-Air Pupils With "Esquimaux" Costumes.

TO FRAME HONOR ROLL

Principal of Lansdowne School Makes Suggestion That May Be Adopted.

Hot air versus cold air in connection with the open air school experiment that is being conducted at Ord Street School was the subject of considerable discussion at the meeting of the property committee of the board of education yesterday. The matter came up in the form of a request from the management committee that heat be provided for the open-air school rooms at the school mentioned.

Dr. Alex. McKay, chief medical officer for the public schools, gave it as his opinion that heat would have to be provided unless the children were supplied with "Esquimaux" suits, which he suggested as an experiment. It might be well to heat one room and supply suits for the pupils in the other, he suggested.

Dr. Hopkins believed that pure cold was better for the tubercular patient than pure warm air, and was going to any expense for heating. It was finally decided to report back to the management committee against heating the room, and in the meantime Dr. McKay will gather information as to the cost of equipping the children with the necessary clothing required in the open-air rooms.

Trustee Dr. Caroline Brown gave the results of some experiments made in several of the United States in support of her motion that no new school building be erected or existing buildings enlarged without having on the open-air principle, but as the year is drawing to a close and the matter could not be brought to any conclusion by the present board, it was decided to put the motion on record and let it stand over.

GERMAN PRETENSIONS

DERIDED IN BRITAIN

Determination to Crush Prussianism Unalterable, Declares British Press.

BIG RECRUITING RUSH

Von Bethmann-Hollweg is Given Most Emphatic Answer.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's threat that if the allies do not bend the knee before Germany now they will be forced to do so later, when the peace terms will be much more severe, is derided by every newspaper today, and the recruiting stations in their thousands during a peeling rainstorm yesterday and all last night sent the answer—which is the voice of the whole British Empire—that the great volunteer army of Britain, fighting shoulder to shoulder with her allies, will never lay down arms till the murderer machine of which Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg is the mouthpiece is completely smashed.

All the important newspapers of London, following the lead of The Daily Telegraph, agree that the modern "Bombast Furore" will not affect Germany's power, and that the determination to go on with the war until the brutal foe is thoroughly beaten.

For Home Consumption. British officials, interviewed indignantly resented the attempt of the German chancellor to throw responsibility for continuance of the war upon the allies. They said that the chancellor's speech was plainly designed for home consumption, and construed it as an effort to appease the growing demand in Germany for peace.

Their statements and the attitude of the London press today apparently correctly represents the attitude of the nation. The newspapers scoffed at Bethmann-Hollweg's statement that Germany is invincible, and will, if the war is continued, take more tribute from the allies.

"This truce, which he either feels or deems it desirable to assume," said this afternoon's Globe, "should make it plain to the wildest pacifist, even to Henry Ford, that there can be no peace until Germany's power is broken once for all. Under his guidance Germany is to continue towards the inevitable catastrophe. So be it."

THE JOY OF BEING HUNGARY DETERMINED UPON MAKING PEACE

Great Demonstrations in Favor of Ending War Are Occurring.

FEELING IS WIDESPREAD

Peace Manifestations at Berlin, Dresden and Leipzig Are Reported.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The Exchange Telegraph's Geneva correspondent telegraphs today that he has learned from reliable sources that Hungary is resolved to make peace without the consent of either Austria or Germany, and that peace is occurring in Hungary, the correspondent reported.

A neutral who has just returned from a trip to Germany and Austria-Hungary brings the news that despite the fact that the business men of the population of the two empires, who have engaged in peace riots, have been ruthlessly laid down, and some shot down by troops, the people against the war is assuming alarming proportions.

He declares that Herr Scheide mann, a socialist deputy, in a speech, demanding speedy peace, voiced the heartfelt desires of nine-tenths of the population of the two empires. While Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg represents only Junkers who have based their power on the masses of the producers of Germany.

The Rome correspondent of The Paris Journal sends the following: "A Bernese, Switzerland, story says: 'Peace manifestations have occurred not only in Berlin, but at Dresden and Leipzig, according to the German correspondent of The Tagewacht. The correspondent adds that the conviction prevails among the masses in Germany that only a revolutionary outbreak would force the government to make peace.'

REPLIES TO CRITICISM OF REPORT ON VICE

W. E. Raney, K.C., Takes Exception to Remarks of Ald. Sam McBride.

W. E. Raney, K.C., in a letter to Rev. R. H. Hall of Danforth Avenue Methodist Church, tells of "the reception" that the report of the social survey committee met with in the city council, and replies to the most criticism leveled at the report by Ald. Sam McBride. According to the newspaper report, Mr. Raney says that Ald. McBride had this to say about it:

"A blasphemous report; 'Disgraceful'; it is immoral literature; 'One of the most filthy reports ever presented to any body of men'; 'Would all those for life who would seek to give it publicity? A most damnable report.'"

In his letter, Mr. Raney says that "the alderman is reported to have moved for a judicial investigation of the report by one of the county judges. That would be all right. And whilst the county judge is at it he might also investigate the amount of the gambling profits of the association and send to their destination because in the case of some other racing associations of this province of which I have knowledge, the gambling profits from race track gambling amount to as much as seventeen hundred per cent. on their investments."

"This is a very serious matter," the letter reads, "because the report is in large part a protest against the attempt to make certain quarters to turn this into a wide open town. It is true that the council, apparently adopting Ald. McBride's view that the publication of the report would drive away tourists from Toronto, are guarding it rather jealously. But I have no doubt that any lawyer will see to it that a copy of it is sent to any head of a family who asks him for it."
