

385. Associates with Almagro and De Luque in a voyage of discovery, 387. Discovers the coast of Peru, 389. Returns to Panama, 392. Goes to Spain to solicit reinforcements, ib. Procures the supreme command for himself, 393. Is assisted with money by Cortes, 394. Lands again in Peru, 393. State of his forces, 400. Arrives at Caxamalca, ib. Is visited by the inca, 402. His perfidious seizure of him, 404. Agrees to Atahualpa's offer for his ransom, 405. Division of their plunder, 407. Refuses Atahualpa his liberty, 408. His ignorance exposed to Atahualpa, 410. Bestows a form of trial on the inca, ib. Puts him to death, and advances to Cuzco, 411. Honours conferred on him by the Spanish court, 414. Dissensions between him and Almagro, ib. Defeats Almagro, takes him prisoner, and puts him to death, 425. Is assassinated by Juan de Herrada, 432.
- , Gonzalo, is made governor of Quito by his brother Francis, 429. Assumes the government of Peru, 446. Marches against the viceroy, 447. Defeats and kills him, 448. Marches to reduce Centeno, at Cuzco, and defeats him, 456. Is deserted by his troops on the approach of Gasca, surrenders, and is executed, 459.
- Plata*, Rio de, discovered by Dias de Solas, 155.
- Ponce de Leon*, Juan, discovers Florida, 144. Romantic motive of his voyage, ib.
- Porto Bello*, discovered and named by Christopher Columbus, 122.
- Rico is settled and subjected by Juan Ponce de Leon, 136.
- Santo, the first discovery of, 37.
- Portuguese*, a view of the circumstances that induced them to undertake the discovery of unknown countries, 32. First African discoveries of, 34. Madeira discovered, and they double Cape Bojador, 37. Obtain a papal grant of all the countries they should discover, 40. Cape Verd islands and the Azores discovered, 41. Voyage to the East Indies by Vasco de Gama, 108.
- Potosi*, the rich silver mines there, how discovered, 521.
- Prisoners* of war, how treated by the native Americans, 241, 244.
- Property*, the idea of, unknown to the native Americans, 229.
- Protector* of the Indians in Spanish America, his function, 229.
- Quetlavaca*, brother of Montezuma, succeeds him as king of Mexico, 355. Conducts in person the fierce attacks which obliged Cortes to abandon his capital, and dies of the small-pox, 356.
- Quevedo*, bishop of Darien, his conference with Las Casas on the treatment of the Indians in the presence of the emperor Charles V., 166.
- Quipos*, or historic cords of the Peruvians, some account, 481.
- Quito*, the kingdom of, conquered by Huana Capac, inca of Peru, 398. Is left to his son Atahualpa, ib. Atahualpa's general revolts after his death, 412. Is reduced by the Spaniards under Benalcazar, 413. Benalcazar deposed, and Gonzalo Pizarro made governor, 428.
- Religion* of the native Americans, an inquiry into, 254.
- Rio de la Plata*, and Tucuman, account of those provinces, 496.
- Rivers*, the amazing size of those in America, 177.
- Roldan*, Francis, is left chief-justice in Hispaniola by Christopher Columbus, 98. Becomes the ringleader of a mutiny, 104. Submits, 106.
- Sacotecas*, the rich silver mines there, when discovered, 521.
- San Salvador*, discovered and named by Christopher Columbus, 71.
- Sandoval*, the shocking barbarities executed by, in Mexico, 379.
- , Francisco Tello de, is sent by the emperor Charles V. to Mexico, as visitador of America, 441. His moderation and prudence, ib.
- Savage life*, a general estimate of, 269.
- Silver ore*, method of refining it practised by the native Peruvians, 490.
- Sonora*, late discoveries of rich mines made there by the Spaniards, 493.
- Soul*, American ideas of the immortality of, 260.
- South Sea*, first discovered by Vasco Nunez de Balboa, 148.
- Spain*, general idea of the policy of, with regard to the American colonies, 505.