REV. DR. RIBOURG AT SAINT ALBAN'S

Absence of Reality is Condemnation of Man's Religion, He Says.

Rev. Dr. Ribourg, preaching Sunday evening at St. Alban's Cathedral on Formal Allegiance and True Discipleship." said, in part:

"The absence of reality is the condemnation of any man's religion; its presence contains the promise of final perfection. God can do nothing with people whose dealings with Him, whether in worship or in any other relation, are not in spirit and in truth. Deep must call unto deep, spirit to spirit, man and his maker dealing in reality—that, in Christ's view, is religion. Whatever else it may be, it is nothing if it is not real. Religion to be real must be not superficial, but serious, not on the surtace but in the depths, not in sentiment but in soul and spirit. Jesus charged the Scribes and Pharisees of His day, not so much with what they had done, but of what they had left undone. The church of God has very little to fear from the outsider, from the sceptic and the atheist, but its real enemy is the man of Meroz, who calls himself relation, are not in spirit and in truth. and the atheist but its real enemy is the man of Meroz, who calls himself a friend—the man who talks much but performs little—the man who pays tithes but omits the larger matters of the law. If there were fewer imitators of the cowardly men of Meroz among Christian people, the national life, the home life would be more honest and righteous, and the vicious practices which disgrace our social and industrial life would be swept away.

"Indifference and neglect of duty invariably spell ruin for the nation as well as for the individual soul. The church in many communities is gaspwell as for the individual soul. The church in many communities is gasping for breath—its temples, in many instances, deserted—its ministers ridiculed—and all this because the masses of the people have failed to see reality in religion and have been scandalized and disappointed by those who parade as paragons of religion on Sunday and practise unrighteousness the other six days of the week.

"If our allegiance to Christ is true."

. "If our allegiance to Christ is true, our religion will be not convention but conviction, not pretence but conversion, not appearance but the living truth, not mechanical service but a heart of love.

"Religion thus practised would work out a new reformation, and would operate a revolution in the world simi-lar to that which followed the preach-ing of the fishermen of Galilee."

BISHOP OF PETERBORO BLESSES BENILDUS HALL

"Religion is not some pious practice to be indulged in only on Sundays, but is something that permeates the whole being every day and in every walk of life," declared Rt. Rev. Michael Joseph O'Brien, D.D., Bishop of Peterboro, who officiated at the blessing of Benildus Hall, 487 Jarvis street, on Sunday afternoon.

The hall was recently purchased by the Roman Catholic Church and is to serve the purpose of a house of studies to accommodate the junior members of the church after they matriculate from the De La Salle School at Aurora. The students will be in charge of one or two laymen of the Christian Brothers, who will give them an excellent secular education as well as teaching them the essentials of a religious life. The hall has tasteful interior furnishings and is equipped to accommodate 30 students, who will continue their education either at the normal school or the Toronto at the normal school or the Toronto University. The guardianship of the students has been entrusted to the Christian Brotherhood, under whose auspices the young men will be direct-

During the course of his sermor Bishop O'Brien stated that the rights of the child to a religious education was a serious obligation devolving on the parents. He outlined the activities of the Christian Brothers in this respect and referred to their acceptance of a condition of poverty and avowed chastity as being the supreme factor in the maintenance of separate schools. Referring to the great need of a religious education the bishop said that the war had taught that culture and education, without religion, was a real peril. In conclusion the speaker made the appeal to all that they encourage the members of families to enter the school and to lend their utmost support to the cause.

After the trying experience of being adrift for 22 hours in an open boat at the mercy of wind and wave on the lake and finally to be picked up ten miles from Port Dalhousie by the steamship Dalhousie City, the eight missing adventurers, whose motor boat broke down off Scarboro Beach on Thursday night, were given a warm reception at the wharf when they arrived on Saturday morning.

The fact that the launch did not carry an anchor was responsible for its drifting over such a wide expanse of water and inadvertently endangering the lives of the passengers. According to Mr. Milot, if they had even had anything to serve the purpose of an anchor all the trouble would have

"There is nothing in the marine law," said Deputy Harbormaster Allan, "that compels owners of motor boats to carry anchors of lifebelts. What the regulations are particular about is that every boat carries the regulation lights. I will bring the matter before the harbor commission-ers with a view to having a bylaw passed compelling all classes of boats to be provided with anchors and with for every passenger they are permitted to carry.

Life-After-Death Articles Awaken Great Interest

The series of articles on "Life After Death." which have been appearing in The Toronto Sunday World, have awakened tremendous interest among that paper's readers. The thinkers and writers who are acceptanced in the control of the control o writers who are expressing their views as to what will happen to us after this life are all men of outstanding emi-nence. Out of the wealth of their wisdom as scientists or philosophers, they have constructed theories on human ortality, and some of them have delved deep into the laws that govern human life in an effort to make our knowledge of the hereafter as sure as is that of life in this world. Booth the year as were on view yesterday. Tarkington, the great American author, writes next week on this great subject. His article is one of that should not be missed.

KINGDOM OF MESSIAH

ABOUT TO BE REALIZED

"The long-promised kingdom of Messiah is about to be established on the earth," stated M. G. Whelpton of Hamilton during the course of a lecture on Sunday afternoon, delivered at the Masonic Temple, Yonge street. The meeting was under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association, and about 800 were in at-

Mr. Whelpton emphasized the fact that the Bible clearly portrayed the events that were transpiring now and what is to follow. He stated that it was not God's purpose to take all good people to heaven, but that this kingdom is to displace all other kingdoms and fill the whole earth with a knowledge of the glory of God and shall remain forms.

a, knowledge of the glory of God and shall remain forever.

The speaker recalled the existence of two worlds upon the earth. One of these, he said, came to an end at the time of the great floor. The second world ended in 1914, and since that date we are in the third world design. date we are in the third world, designated as the new heaven and the new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. The speaker presented Scriptural evidence of this and pointed out that the present trouble in the world was a sign of the presence of Christ, "who is now taking to Himself His great power to commence His reign upon earth." In conclusion Mr. Whelpton declared that "since our Lord's first advent, until the present time he has been gathering his faithful footstep followers to be associated with Him in uplifting and blessing all the families of the earth."
