ABOLISH THE GRADES.

Inspector Cowley's Report on Contin uation Classes.

Inspector Cowley of the educational department has recommended the total abolition of graded continuation classes. He also contends that there should be at least one teacher devoting his whole time to pupils who have passed the entrance or any equivalent examination. Mr. Cowley thinks that a new examination should be fixed of about the standard of senior entrance, the certificates to stand good in the unorgan-ized territory in the north. This year the grant for continuation classes has been increased from $32,000 to $40,000, and the county councils will e expected to be correspondingly genercus.

TOWNSHIP THREATENS

Barton Wants To Be Supplied With Water-True Bill Against Street Car Conductor.

HAMILTON, June 12 .- (Special.)-Reeve Gage and Councillor Hill of Barton Township, with W. A. H. Duff, the township solicitor, waited upon the fire and water committee this evening and threatened the city with a lawsuit unless the residents of Barton were supplied with city water. They claimed they could compel the city to furnish the township people with water under the original waterworks charter, and the annexation proclamation, and they also declared that they would not con-sent to allow the city to annex any more of the township for ten years, as provided by the last annexation pro-clamation. The committee was advised by the city engineer that there was advis-no water to spare, and the city soll-citor said they could not hold the city responsible, nor compel them to fur-nish water. It is likely that a suit will

The place was thoroly ransacked and considerable damage done.

Used a "Digger." At the sessions this afternoon the grand jury brought in a true bill against William Smith, a street railway conductor, charged with using a "dig-ger," but brought in no bill against William Cunningham, who had been william Cunningham, who had been committed on the same charge, and he was acquitted. The jury also found no bill against Arthur Solvsburg, who was accused of pouring acid on the legs of the horse Constable Haller rode during the riots. William Edmonstone and Albert New were found guilty of and Albert New were found guilty of assaulting Thomas Maysey, but were acquitted on the charge of robbing President Reminds Mayors That Bankruptcy Will Ensue If No Taxes Are Paid.

PARIS, June 12.—The government appears to be determined to refuse accept the resignations of the nunicipal officers so long as their resignations are not accepted by the prefects, and since no representatives of the central government can be apowinted to carry on the duties of the fficials who have resigned, a deadlock has been created.

The wine growers at the start of he outbreak demanded the resigna-ion of all officials, both municipal and of state, and besides threatening violence if their demands were not mplied with, decided to refuse any further payment o ftaxes.
