They were Railroad Hen Working on the Oitawa & New York Read—Their Boat Upset.

Cornwall, Ont., April 21.—Two laborers on Brennan & Foster's contract on the Ottawa & New York Railway on Cornwall island were drowned in the river here yesterday afternoon. They were Richard Martin, a pensioner of the British Government, about 45 years old, and Jerry Fraser of Boston. about 25 They were in town in the morning, and Martin drew his pension. When they went to the paper mill in the afternoon to cross to the island Martin was considerably intoxibered. Their boat leaked badly, but they got along safely till they struck a rapid current near the opposite shore, when the boat upset and they were swept off down the river clinging to it. They were never seen again, and there is no doubt but that they were drowned. The boat was found late in the evening, but no trace of the men.

season at the Bijou Theatre, Pittsburg, last Monday, and The Despatch of that city speaks of the principals as follows: The several members of the company prominent in making things hum are: George Lesslie, who is quite successful in following the eccentric lines of Charlies Aleotore, and the in making things hum are: George Lesslie, who is quite successful in following the eccentric lines of Charlies and the central example assistant. Her dancing is one of the most pleasing features of the performance. Charles A. Loder, as "Yacob Baumgartine," as "T.m. McFadden," an Irish one, are very clever. Much merriment is occasioned by the antics of the Speck Brothers, who remind one of "Bobby Raiston," rolled into twins. Their every appearance provoked shouts of laughter, and their boxing bout in the last act carries the house by storm. Mrs. Murphy, who at times drinks to excess, is artistically done by Mrs. Lizzle Conway. The entire performance is of a quality well calculated to please, and there is little danger of "Mc-Fadden's Row of Flats" disappointing any-body who goes to see it.

John Catto & Son KING-STREET Opposite the Postoffice, Toronto,

At the Grand.
"Prince Rudolph," as presented by Otis Skinner and his magnificent company at the Grand Opera House, is probably one of the most perfect productions ever seen

A Clever Company.

The company which will present "McFadden's Row of Flats" at the Toronto Opera House next week. Is said to be the largest farce comedy organization traveling this year. They opened the 38th week of their season at the Bijou Theatre, Pittsburg, last TWO LABORERS DROWNED Monday, and The Despatch of that city that they were drowned. The boat was found late in the evening, but no trace of the men.

The J. B. King Co. Strike.

As was intimated in The World yesterday the action in the King strike is becoming a little more rapid, and tactics are being developed. On one side this has taken the form of sending a man to the States to obtain workers, and naturally the men feel indignant at this. Mr. King continues calm and undisturbed, waxing a little satisfical occasionally, but displaying no hard feeling against the strikers. The men were watching the trains from Boston yesterday, but no aliens showed up.

At the Princess.

The Cummings Opera Company will usher in the second week of their season at the Princess Theatre next Monday evening with an elaborate production of Lillian Russell's opera, "Dorothy." The company with Torontonians and scored a most emphatic hit in "The Mandarin," one of the most difficult comic-operas to produce, and which took the original company eight weeks to prepare. This, certainly reflects great credit on Mr. Cummings' organization for "The Mandarin" was chosen for its local popularity and not in consideration for the merits of the artists. Notwithstanding the performance is superior in many respects to the original seen here some years ago at high prices. Next week the company will have a greater chance to show them selves in the presentation of "Dorothy," which is equally as popular here as "The Mandarin." It will also be staged in an elaborate manner, everything being new, and it is safe to say that the Princess.

The Massey Hall Grand Concert,

It was a magnificent concert that those who were in Massey Hall listened to last evening. Ysaye and his wonderful fellowartists swept all before them, and their innuence will be lasting, not only among the cream of music circles in the city, but in every circle of Toronto. The program was purely classical, yet, although it can be safely said that not more than half the audience were devotees of higher music, the applause was wildly enthusiastic. MM. Ysaye and Marteau had to respond four times to their rendering of Bach concerto, in D minor, for two violins, and, though the audience clamored for more, they refused to be further drawn. Marteau was delightful in his viola solo Bach's Adaglo and Fugue in G minor. It is five years now since Toronto has listened to his brillhaut playing, exquisite in tone and execution, and the audience showered three encores on their favorite. Gerardy, the superb, first among 'cellists, who, though still a boy, gets his $500 a night, appeared both in Beethoven serenade for violin, viola and celle and in Vellous mediane and calle and in Vellous pine quantor op. 7. The Massey Hall Grand Concert. in Beethoven serenade for violin, viola and veello and in V d'Indy, plano quatuor op. 7. Nothing could exceed his grace of technique or the magnetic effect of his clean, smooth playing. M. Aime Lachaume, planist, contributed ably to the triumph of the evening. During the first piece on the program an old lady sitting in the lower gallery facing the stage, was so carried away by the charm of the playing of Ysaye, Marteau and Gerardy, that she rose in her seat and waved both hands. The gifted performers took in the situation and to the amusement of the house, broke out laughing. Great praise is due the Massey Hall management for their energy and forethought in securing this exceptional quartet. No city in Canada has enjoyed such music as Toronto has this season and the best was reserved for last night.

England's Finest Military Band. Arrangements are now in progress with a view of securing for Toronto England's firest military band, under the leadership of Lieut. Dan Godfrey, who arrives in Halifax on May 16, will be here late in that month or early in June. The director, Mr. Charles A. E. Harriss, has received warm expressions of support and commendation in his great and patriotic undertaking. Among the fifty patrons of the tour are His Excellency the Governor-Geral, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Prime Minister, and Sir Oliver Mowat.

St. John's Church Concert. St. John's Church Concert.

St. Andrew's Hall was well filled last evening by an enthusiastic audience, which heartily enjoyed the splendid program rendered by a number of our prominent local musicians. Miss Cochrane, Miss Scott and Miss Grant were at their very best, and contribated very pleasing solos. Mr. Paul Hahn's artistic work on the 'cello was very nuch enjoyed. Messrs. Curt. Brown, Wenbourne and Drummond were well received. Mr. Martin Cleworth's comic recitatious put everybody in good humor. The building fund should be well augmented by the proceeds.

Two important musical events at least are yet to be given in Massey Hall this season. They are a piano recital by the virtuoso, Josef Hofmann, on Tuesday, May 10, and a grand concert by Mile. Toronta a week later. Subscribers' lists for both these events will be opened on Monday morning, and those placing their names on them will receive first choice of seats, and in the order that the names are given in at the box office.

Declaration of Independence The Victoria Debating Society held a The Victoria Debating Society held a debate last evening in the lecture room of Wesley Church. The subject was: "Resolved that Canada should be independent of Great Britain." The affirmative arguers were Mr. A. A. Allen and Mr. H. Cates; while Mr. H. A. Keeler and Mr. Charles Fraser maintained the negative. After hearing both sides of the story, Rev. S. D. Chown, who acted in the capacity of judge, decided in favor of the affirmative.

What We Know

About Linens

Trade in Linens is active; stocks and prices both in-

Few merchants keep full assortments of the finest table linens, probably because they are held at too high prices in the wholesale market to permit large retail trade in them.

We are able to buy largely of the finest, as well as of all the lower grades, because we buy at lower rates than any current in this country, and sell so low that we create our own market.

The sum of our invitation is that we have the largest variety, the choicest linens and the lowest prices.

The linen section is one of the strongholds of this business. Staple linens and cottons are regularly sold cheap here, without regard to season. We can afford to be most reasonable in our prices because of buying advantages second to none.

Millinery Success

A showing of new season styles that ought to be seen by every woman who wishes to be a leader instead of a mere follower. Imported models, and our own careful copies and improvements on them, are now shown in a very pleasing array. Seeing their beauty is a pleasure, even if you are not to buy, but beware, the low prices will tempt you, if you love pretty millinery. We could hardly be giving more perfect satisfaction than is the case in ordered millinery. Customers give us credit for doing things in a way that meets in completest manner their most exacting de-

S. Ackerman, commercial traveler, Belleville, writes: "Some years ago I used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for Inflammatory Rheumatism, and three bottles affected a complete cure. I was the whole of one summer unable to move without crutches, and every movement caused excructating pains. I am now out on the road-and exposed to all kinds of weather, but have never been troubled with rheumatism since. I, however, keep a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Oil on hand, and I always recommend it to others as it did so much for me."
