LATE LOCALS

No. 8 Field Ambulance will meet at their armory, Union street, every Tuesday, Friday night at 8 o'clock for lectures and drill.

The members of Bricklayers' and Masons' Union No. 1, of St. John are requested to meet Monday evening, May 10, 1909 to attend to special business.

Brigadier Collier of the Salvation Army, left for Halifax this morning and will sail from there on the steaming ship, on Monday for Bermuda, on a trip of inspection.

The Every Day Club rummage sale will be held today in their rooms on Union street. The proceeds will be devoted to the aims of the organization.

Rev. J. J. McCaskill will deliver an address at the Every Day Club on Sunday evening. An interesting programme of music has been arranged, including vocal solos and cornet and flute selections.

Rev. Dr. W. L. Archibald, field secretary for Acadia University, will preach at the Sunday morning service in German street Baptist church. The subject will be—Christian Education.

The Queen's Rink has been engaged by the Carleton Comet Band for their fifteen mile race on May 27. All entries will be received by W. T. Lanyon, the band secretary.

James Greer, the former policeman, whom the S. P. C. A. charge with neglect of his wife and children, called at the editorial rooms of the Times today and said he provided for his family, and did not abuse them. He denied most of the statements made in the charge against him.

A meeting in the interests of the Laymen's Missionary Movement will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building tomorrow at 4 p.m. The speakers will be Thomas Findlay, assistant general manager of the Massey-Harris Company, Toronto, and W. T. Stackhouse, secretary of the Baptist Laymen's Missionary Movement at Winnipeg.

Judge Ritchie, who is a governor of the Boys' Industrial Home at Crookville, will communicate with the Minister of Justice at Ottawa to obtain his ruling on the liability to prosecution of those who secrete or aid boy fugitives from the institution. Some North End persons, it is said, are responsible for harboring and aiding most of the lads who have escaped to evade re-capture, and have provided them with apparel, and the wherewithal to leave the city. It is supposed to be strictly prosecuted all who are guilty of such a practice to the fullest extent of the law.

POLITICS

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—The persistence of the conservatives who try to lead their unthinking followers to believe in their aggressive action against Dr. Pugsley to oust him from politics is plain evidence that the people's interests may be entirely set aside to benefit the "party" who desires at any sacrifice to rule. This plan has been followed ever since the time at Fairville when the exposure of the great amount of money subscribed for a corruption fund was exposed by Dr. Pugsley. We have asserted repeatedly that the people must look after their own interests when voting and choose the men who will help their country and the people occupying it. In this view no man yet known to New Brunswick has done so much for the province as this much maligned and kindly man, Dr. Pugsley, and all for the sake of the "party" winning their unwelcome name of governing. The people entirely in their own conservative interests to the utter indifference of what may happen to the public; malice, hatred and extreme jealousy have been the driving energies of that body, with the care of the public trust thrown to the winds. Such a party would not be long before it would try and wipe out the Liberals as the Turks wiped out the industrious Armenians. In what has happened to our knowledge as a people living in amity together it is seen that the public, to safeguard their own interests, must know what liberalism does and what conservatism leads to. We suffered all sorts of privations and poverty for eighteen years under conservative arrogant rule. We have prospered beyond all other times in the past for thirteen years as a province becoming famous to the world under liberal conciliating and harmonious conditions of government. Is it not clear that to continue to live in this condition we must follow liberal sentiment. As the world progresses with its education, liberty to all must become the ruling spirit of mankind. The people are the great body of life, and they must not go to sleep while autocracy, socialism and low-down democracy keep wide awake for their prey (the people) whom they every try to devour. Respectfully, J. S. CLIMO.

PASSED AN ICEBERG

Donaldson line steamship Almora, Captain Turner, arrived in port last night from Glasgow, with a large general cargo, including 305 tons and 9,772 bags Scotch hard coal.

Capt. Turner reports having had a rough 16 days passage all the way across the Atlantic with strong westerly head winds. On May 4th, in lat. 43.55, north, lon 60. 05, west, he passed a very large iceberg, over 100 ft. high, very dangerous to navigation.

Miss Sarah J. Lock and Miss Whelmine Quimley, of Boston, passed through the city today for Summersville, P. E. I., where they will spend a few days. C. W. Thus, who left on Monday evening on a business trip to Providence, R. I., returned home today.

CRACK WRESTLERS MAY BE SEEN HERE

Tremblay and Akerman May Wrestle in St. John in the Near Future.

Negotiations are in progress with Eugene Tremblay, the world's lightweight wrestling champion and holder of the historic Police Gazette belt to meet Charlie Akerman, the Ohio lightweight wrestler, in St. John, in a few weeks. Tremblay and Akerman wrestled the greatest bout ever witnessed in Montreal early in the winter and the result was a draw. Tremblay was forced to retire through a fractured arm after two hours' wrestling. Tremblay obtaining the Police Gazette belt by virtue of his two victories over George Bothner the ex-champion who retained the world's title for over seven years. Chicago promoters are endeavoring to match Tremblay and Max Luttbeg, of Kansas City for a bout in the Windy City and are offering a $1,500 purse with the privilege of a division by percentage as an alternative if the wrestlers' share exceeds $100 which is a guarantee. Tremblay defeated Teddy Tonneman, of Chicago, who is a promising mat artist.

THE JUVENILE COURT

Magistrate Ritchie Had a Collection of Truants Before Him This Morning.

Truants may come and go but Ambrose Leithan, aged 11, is the most incorrigible boy to present himself before the juvenile court since its inception. Leithan, whose parents reside at 221 Union street, was summoned to appear in court last Saturday, but did not obey. A warrant was issued for his arrest, which was served between five and six o'clock this morning by Patrolman Hughes. The boy was sleeping and was roused by his mother, who gave him up into the custody of the policeman. He had been evading the officers all week and evidently decided that he had been overlooked. So, lulled into a false sense of security, he was so astonished at the advent of the policeman at his bedside when he opened his eyes that he did not attempt to elude him. Leithan has been absent from school for a year and is very refractory. He was reprimanded to attend court this afternoon.

William Pitt, aged 9, who was absent 27 days and William Cummings aged 13 who played "hooky" for 31 days since the re-opening of the term were confined in cells in the lock-up this afternoon and the non-appearance of their noon day meal is expected to add to their discomfort.

John Oram aged 11 and Roy Oram aged 10 who were respectively 1-2 days and 30 days absent were unable to attend through lack of shoes according to their mother, who is a widow, but she furnished the footwear today and hereafter they will be regular pupils. Upon the juvenile court is the Saturday reception by the magistrate to the boys whom he freed with the provision that they must furnish certificates of attendance each week-end from their teachers. The process has reformed the majority of the youngsters and the hand of justice has been of special benefit to the boys with respectable home surroundings. Frank Fenney who was liberated last week is behaving in such a manner that behooves a term in the reformatory.

POLICE COURT

Sarah Lobb May be Sent to Salvation Army Home—Other Cases Dealt With.

In the police court this morning Sarah Lobb, in custody for wandering without a destination on Prince street, west end, at a late hour on Tuesday night was further remanded to jail. She asserts that the testimony adduced by Patrolman Marshall was in many instances incorrect, particularly that alluding to her alleged propensity for the society of members of the African race. Other policemen do not pay glowing tributes to her respectability but on the contrary state that she has been acting discreditably for several years. This afternoon a Salvation Army officer will speak with her and ascertain if she would be accepted at the Army Home, St. James street. Otherwise a term in jail will be imposed on her. Frank DeFaber who threatened his mother on Tuesday night was remanded again. Dr. Christie has examined Dana her twice and discovered no traces of insanity except the havoc wrought temporarily on his system by constant drinking. A lady of color residing on Union street complained of the impertinence of one George Hector also of color, who is a neighbor in addressing her in terms unbecoming to a gentleman. Hector is a youth who has been under the police spotlight far too frequently and was dealt with leniently on each occasion. He must appear on Monday morning.

THE FREE KINDERGARTEN

The month of April was a very busy one in the kindergartens. The Easter thought was duly emphasized, the children making gifts for parents and friends. Through the sympathetic study of Easter symbols, the chicks in the dark shell, the lily in bulb, etc., the awakening of new life is presented. The rain tapping at the door of the brown house tells the flowers to get ready to get up. The birds returning from the south to build their nests, leads up to a talk on all the different kinds of houses or nests. April 21st, Froebel's birthday, was especially observed in the three kindergartens. His love for little children, his first kindergarten and the story of his life devoted to childhood formed the theme of the morning's study. Each child had a picture of Froebel given to him to paste in his book and many of them made the German flag in watercolors and crayons to carry home in his honor. Friends of the work are still sending donations of clothing and books, as they are always wanted. Some volunteer assistants are helping by giving one morning a week, and we still have room for more.
