POLICE COURT

Two cases were disposed of in the police court this morning, when, as is usual on Thursdays, the session was short.

George Gillespie, who was arrested yesterday for drunkenness and violently resisting the police, pleaded guilty, saying he was drunk at the time and didn't know what he was doing. When told by Judge Ritchie that he had $22, which he offered to pay, but this his honor would not allow at present. He told Gillespie that he was hardly in condition to be at large just now, and remanded him to jail.

The second prisoner seemed to have a fondness for changing his name, as when arrested recently on the supposition that he was mentally defective, he gave his name as James O'Brien. Today his name appears on the arrest book as George Martin, and in court this morning he turned back to the officials and sat facing the stairs. He was remanded for further hearing.

LITTLE GIRL LOST

The supposed loss of little Stella Anderson, of Moore street, caused some excitement at St. Paul's church picnic yesterday. The little one left home for the Sunday school early in the morning, and the mother, supposing her to be with the crowd, went on to the Union depot, but was extremely anxious when she learned that Stella had not been seen. She was persuaded, however, to take the outing, and the father, who remained behind, found that the little one had fallen in with a party who were to go in the afternoon train.

The picnic was largely attended and proved in every way to be a success.

A PRESENTATION

Men in Phoenix Foundry Give Suitable Remembrance to Frederick Binks.

Frederick Binks, an employe of Fleming's foundry was pleasantly surprised yesterday when his fellow workmen called on him at the noon hour and presented him with a very handsome travelling companion. The gift was accompanied by the following address:-- "Frederick Binks: It is with the deepest regret that we learn of your intended departure from our midst. Before leaving, we beg you to accept this small present as a token of the esteem and high respect in which you are held by your fellow apprentices in the Phoenix Foundry and Locomotive Works. Signed on behalf of the boys, 'H. G. BROWN, 'O. F. DICK.'"

Mr. Binks, although taken entirely by surprise, thanked the donors fittingly for their expressions of goodwill. He leaves Friday evening for a visit to his old home in Essex, England.

GEN. BOOTH AND CANADIAN CLUB

It is altogether likely that the Canadian Club will have the pleasure of hearing an address by Gen. Booth of the Salvation Army on the occasion of his visit to St. John in September. He has been invited to address the Canadian Club of Halifax, and Lieut. Col. Gaskin stated this morning that he had no doubt the General would do so. It is understood that the executive of the club in St. John will at once extend a similar invitation, and Gen. Booth will doubtless accept. His addresses before Canadian Clubs in cities farther west have been heard with marked enthusiasm.

TOO MUCH C. P. R.

"Who owns this hotel?" asked an Irishman on his arrival at the Frontenac, in Quebec. "The C. P. R.," was the reply. He continued his journey through Canada, asking who owned the steamboats that he saw crossing Owen Sound, the huge elevators which towered above Fort William, the stupendous irrigation ditches of Calgary, and the mechanism by which he sent his telegraphic messages and express packages, and in each instance the reply was the same--"The C. P. R. Finally, he met some men on the street one day and asked if they would be kind enough to tell him what time it was. "Do you want C. P. R. time?" they asked. "For hivin's sake," the amazed Irishman asked, "do the C. P. R. be ownin' the very hours of the day in this country?"--Winnipeg Commercial.
