RED CROSS WINDOW

A window of M.R.A., Ltd., in King street is attracting considerable interest today. It has been especially arranged in the interests of the local Red Cross.

A call was recently sent out for 2,500 red cross bags which are supplied a soldier when he enters hospital. Five hundred are being raised by the Red Cross here. The window presents a figure garbed as a Red Cross nurse in the act of filling one of these soldiers' comfort bags. Around the window are RED CROSS WINDOW comfort bags. Around the window are artistically arranged the various conforts that go into the bag.

What spectators consider a miraculous escape from a serious accident occurred this morning at the I. C. R. crossing at Haymarket Square. One of the astreet cars was approaching the junction at the foot of Brussels street and was just crossing the railway tracks when an engine hove in sight and came within an ace of crashing into the street car. As it was there was a slight collision and the rear end of the car was slightly damaged.

People who witnessed the accident said that they were sure somebody would be killed. Residents in that section consider that gates should be placed across the street there so as to safe guard the public.

Kilarney roses. John U. Heggarty acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a bounteous wedding repast was served at the home of the bride's parents in St. George street, West St. John. The bride and groom then left on a honeymoon trip to Quebec, Montreal and cities in the United tSates. Returning they will reside at 86 St. George street.

The popular young people were the recipients of a large number of beautiful presents, which included silver, cut glass and furniture. The groom's present to the bridesmaid was a pretty gold pendant and to the groomsman a pair of gold cuff links.

Kilarney roses. John U. Heggarty acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a bounteous great improvement over the old style of axe, as it answers the purpose of axe and hammer combined and can be used for driving tree wedges and for railway construction and ship building.
