STREET RAILWAY MEN AND POLICE GIVE EVIDENCE

(Continued from page 1.) He said that Mr. Powell had before coming to court he had made a statement to Percy W. Thomson about the trouble.

Mr. Powell said he had been picked up two stones and a piece of coal in his car. Mr. Barry asked again for information in the case. He said that here were sworn statements going out to the public for the purpose of hurrying the labor men.

The Magistrate—"Why do you say that? If you get two men to swear this witness a liar he will go to Dorchester."

Mr. Barry insisted and the magistrate said: "All I can say is that the police department is taking no responsibility for what was wanted by the defence. He said there was apparently no prosecution. He did not know who was prosecuting."

George Wilson. George Wilson sworn said he was operating one of the cars. Windows were broken in it at the corner of Sheriff and Main streets. The band had passed his car.

Mr. Barry again objected and said he would like Mr. McLean to state his name. "For the third and last time get along with the case. Not Mr. Barry's objection," said the magistrate.

The witness continued—"There were two passengers in the car. One man carrying a banner had pushed a banner through the front window. The same other witness said the car breaking them. Names were called from the parade. The parade passed and the witness proceeded on. Eight windows were broken."

Mr. Powell witness said the man who broke the windows was on the outside carrying a banner. He could not swear a broken stone in the car. The banner did not know his name. Did not see any of these defendants in the parade.

Harry Williams, sworn said he was driving a street car that night. Thirteen windows broke in his car in Main street in front of the N. P. Paradise Row and a broken stone in the car. It was a dark place and it was impossible to tell where rocks were coming from. He said he saw a man in the car who he said he could not see and he could not see where they came from. He was laid off the arm by a rock and was laid off a day.

Mr. Powell—White flag carried in front of parade. Saw flag with red stripes. Saw none of the defendants there. Do not know them. Got three stones in the front vestibule of his car.

John Rowley. John Rowley, sworn, said that he was driving car No. 114. Was held up at three places. First at Paradise Row and a broken stone in the car. One window broken there. Again held up at same place on way back from North End, another window broken, apparently by a stone thrown a stone. Held in his head down as he passed. His car held up on King street. A stone came out of parade, he saw one flying throw it. Mr. McLean had said he is not representing the prosecution; still he prosecuted. The police were not forcing it. There was too much secrecy and camouflage. He said he did not want to get an order from Supreme Court to stop proceedings, but would like to have the information sworn to and see who behind the cases. The Bolsheviks had nothing to do with it.

The magistrate said he hoped it would be the last case of its kind. By two o'clock the night. He was to get sworn out. He thought the city fathers were not doing their duty. He said he had a name of one before me and I have to issue a warrant today for his arrest," said his Honor.

Mr. Powell quoted several passages of law covering parades. He said that no procession could be called unlawful which started lawfully with no intention of committing an unlawful act.

R. G. Hunter, sworn, said he was a motorman with the power company. The parade passed him in Main street. Damage was done to the car. Windows were broken by stones, and one window pushed in by the end of a banner pole. The witness was here placed aside to produce the stones.

K. G. Thompson. K. G. Thompson said he was a motorman on that night. His car was held up by the parade. He had one elderly lady with him. Going up Main street saw parade coming headed by boys. Band followed. Recognized the union men carrying banners. He told of inscriptions on banners. A stone was thrown at the front window. Some glass cut him on the neck. Another window was broken near an elderly lady on the car.

To Mr. Powell, he said he could not identify anyone in the parade as the witness. The man who broke one of his windows wore a red ribbon on his coat. Saw none of defendants present that night, as he did not know them. He was a stranger here.

Police Evidence. Policeman John Sheehan said he was called out on Monday night last. He proceeded to the union depot. Saw Mr. Campbell, Mr. Tighe and Mr. McDonald in the parade. He spoke to all these three.

To Mr. Powell, he said they were marching along in an orderly manner. Police Sergeant, McCleese said he saw Mr. MacDonald, Mr. Campbell, Mr. Pitt, Mr. Kane and Mr. Stephens. He was later on duty at the power house and saw the parade in Union street something was north of Union street something went through a window on the Union street side of the power house. He was on duty until 3:30 in the morning. Saw nothing unusual about defendants' conduct.

Policeman Totten said he saw the parade pass the power house. He spoke to Mr. LeClair and Mr. Tighe. He saw Mr. Campbell there.

Policeman Lindsay said he was doing duty on Main street. Saw the parade at Elm street. Followed it to Adelaide road. Remained there until the parade returned. Saw Mr. Campbell and others in the parade. As the parade marched he saw one young man in the street throw a stone through a car window. Don't know who he was.

To Mr. Powell, he said he could not swear whether he was in the parade or not. To the court, he said he placed him under arrest. A crowd took the prisoner away from him. Could not say whether those who took prisoner away were parade members or not.

Policemen Young, McNamee and McGinnis told of seeing the parade at various parts of the city, and identified certain of the defendants as being in it in an orderly manner.

SOME PLAIN TALK ABOUT STRIKES

Late Stoppage of Coal Mine Work a Colossal Blunder, Says Wilson.

London, Sept. 30.—(Canadian Press.) J. H. Wilson, president of the National Sailors and Firemen's Union, indulged in some plain talk concerning strikes while giving his presidential address today.

If the trades union movement had been wise, he said, when the war was ended it would have made a good compromise with employers to secure industrial peace, but unfortunately a good many of the laborites lacked the moral courage to reach what they actually believed.

Chiefs of the miners' federation, he said, have told him that one of the most colossal blunders labor had ever made was the late stoppage of work in the coal mines.

"There are many who want turn of mind to end of the country," said Mr. Wilson. "How that is going to help the workers I cannot understand. Such ideas are those of fools and mad men, which, in no way, reflect the real feelings of the workers."

GET BACK WISH FOR REAL DAY'S WORK

The Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon Speaks on Means to Make Conditions Better.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—Declaring that no more tinkering with the pay envelope would ever bring calm to a restless industrial world, Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon, (Ralph-Gannon), speaking in College street Presbyterian church last night, urged that the recovery of the part of the worker of the desire to do a real day's work could the world look forward to that speeding up of production, which is regarded as one of the essentials for the future well-being of society.
