SEA SCOUTS
LITTLE FRIEND OF ALL THE WORLD

Our Chief Scout's Birthday, Feb. 22.
In connection with this red-letter day in Scouting the world around, the following paragraphs are quoted from the New Year's message of the Assistant Chief Commissioner for Canada:
Sir Robert Baden-Powell started scouting because he had become alarmed at the number of boys entering manhood without a promise of amounting to very much. He saw that as boys they were not very happy; they did not have enough chance to play, and their play seemed to be of the wrong kind. Also they were not paying sufficient attention to what they were going to be when they grew up. He saw boys everywhere entering blind alley occupations—positions which did not offer opportunities for advancement, or they were just picking up odd jobs here and there with the only of earning a little ready money. I saw that they were just fooling away their time, and were not healthy, happy or strong, and that when they grew up they were going to be poor men both in character and money. In 1907 he took some boys to an island and taught them scouting, and when he saw how happy it made them he decided to write a book about it. He wrote "Scouting for Boys," and everyone liked it and scouting grew and grew until now it is known in nearly every country in the world.

The scouting programme of educational recreation means learning while playing. The kitten with a marble is learning to catch mice. Two pups tumbling and playing on the lawn are learning to protect themselves by fighting. Scouts play games and qualify for badges and later become skillful men. The greatest way in the world to learn while playing is to do it, and if we can learn while playing so much the better. Scouting, then, is a form of recreation which aims to mould the character of the boys engaged in it and to teach them things which later will prove useful to them in the great game of earning a living.

First, we must remember that we are scouts because scouting helps us to make the most of our lives, and we want to leave the world a little better than we found it. Scouting helps us to do both of these things better than we otherwise would.

Scouts should keep ever before them the spirit of scouting, which is contained in the promise and law. We cannot see the spirit of anything, only can look for signs of its presence. The signs of the presence of the spirit of scouting are the smile and the good turn. These lie at the very heart of scouting. You know at Christmas people try to make others happy, but a good scout tries every day to make someone happy, and to be happy himself. If everyone would do a good turn for somebody else every day what a wonderful old world this would be.—From the Canadian Boy.

Troop 1—Knox Church.
A "patrol competition" evening was the item allotted to Friday, February 15. There were all 100 points possible, but owing to the large number of events only half could be worked in the short meeting time and the contest was completed on the 22nd inst. The Eagles were in the lead with a total of forty-five points. A beautiful pennant, done in the troop colors, is to be awarded to the patrol with the greatest number of points. This was presented by the scoutmaster, Harold B. Wetmore.

Troop 17—Trinity Church.
The troop has been carrying on for some weeks with varying success. In the points competition the names of the various scouts and their standing were given out. By patrols the Wolf was first with 1276 marks. Owl 1068, Otter 1083. The shooting contest seems to have aroused keen interest and we hope to create good shots. In the first basketball game played with an outside team we are glad to announce that our team won with a score of four points to the good.

Entertainment.
A good entertainment is to be held at East St. John in the Community Hall on Feb. 28. The programme is entirely composed of citizen talent, volunteering their services. They are M. MacKenzie, Mrs. Walter Millican, Miss H. Heale, Major P. Pugh, Norman Magnuson, Miss Littlefield, Miss C. Caldwell, Miss M. Bailey, Percy Flewelling and Miss Jessie McKay. The proceeds are to go to the Boy Scouts of East St. John towards their camping expense this summer.

His Wife Was Ill With Heart Disease But Now He Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills

Jules Fougereau Claims That His Wife After Using Dodd's Kidney Pills Gained 25 Pounds. That's Why He Recommends Them.

Nominique Nord, Que., Feb. 24—(Special.)—Few persons in Canada are more enthusiastic in their praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills than Mr. Jules Fougereau, here, a well-known and respected resident here.

"Yes, Dodd's Kidney Pills are good," he almost shouts. "It was my wife who was ill of heart disease. She took Dodd's Kidney Pills and she has gained twenty-five pounds."

"I am only too glad to recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Heart disease is not kidney disease, but like dropsy, rheumatism, urinary troubles, etc. it is caused by the kidneys failing to strain the impurities out of the blood. The natural way to treat it is to treat the kidneys. Make the kidneys healthy and they will strain out the impurities and the cause of the trouble is gone.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make sound, healthy kidneys.

BETTER THAN HARD COAL
Soft coal is better than hard coal because it does not make a mess of the stove, it is easier to burn, and does not rot or cake when burning, is far better than hard coal for general house hold use. Quicker to light, takes less to make a fire, cheaper in price and can also be used for open fires and small heating stoves. Such a coal is Broad Cove Soft Coal. The main thing is to insist on getting the genuine article. No other soft coal burns just like Broad Cove. You will know it by the above characteristics. 21592-8-1.

The prime minister said, however, that the members of the government had been, for the most part, getting through accumulated work in their own departments. He had announced a full session of the House of Commons on Monday, and that the impending meeting of parliament would be a brief and business-like one and that following it the government would have an interval in which to consider matters such as were being introduced by the delegation. He expressed the view that the discussion would be most helpful to the government in dealing with labor and other matters touched on by the delegates.
