Offer of $150,000.
Chicago, Sept. 24—An offer of a purse of $150,000 for a bout between Jack Dempsey and Bill Brennan was wired to Jack Kearns, manager of the title holder, in New York last night by Floyd Fitzsimmons, a Ben Harbor, Mich., promoter. The bout if arranged would take place at Benton Harbor the latter part of October.

A Good Match.
Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 24—The game between Miss Nesbitt of Hamilton and Miss Bauld of Halifax was probably the closest contested one of the day yesterday. The players halved the first three holes with two lives and a six. Miss Bauld won the fourth with a good five, and they halved the fifth with sixes. Miss Bauld won the sixth with a nice three, and the seventh with an easy five; they halved the eighth and Miss Nesbitt won the ninth, leaving Miss Bauld two up at the turn. Miss Nesbitt won the next two holes, halved the 12th, 13th and 14th. Miss Nesbitt won the fifteenth with a very pretty four, but Miss Bauld came back with a perfect three on the 16th and a five on the 17th. They halved the 18th, leaving Miss Bauld one up.

SAYS AUSTRALIANS DON'T FEAR JAPAN

Former Minister Sees No
Danger While in the British Empire

Points to the Heavy Debt—
Only 1,000,000 Japanese
Pay Taxes, He Asserts, and
They Could Not Finance
Long War.

While California is taking a referendum on drastic laws for the exclusion of Orientals, the other Pacific coast states and the government at Washington are considering policies toward Japan and China, Australia is not greatly perturbed over the alleged eastern menace, according to the Hon. David R. Hall, who is now visiting England, and who until recently was minister of justice in New South Wales. Mr. Hall admits that some Australians regard the matter seriously and are for big expenditures in preparation for an invasion, but asserts that he and the majority of the people of the commonwealth feel that there is no danger while Australia remains in the British Empire.

Australia's white policy, he declares, is far from acceptable to either Japan or China, but any attempt to change it would be resisted, he asserts. "True, China, with its teeming millions and its immense resources," he says, "might be regarded as a potential enemy, but no one who has visited the Celestial Empire away from fear. Apart from the peaceful intent of all its leaders, the clear fact is that China sleeps and cannot be awakened for many decades. Years of warning must precede the change which will convert the Pacific and blood-thirsty Chauvinist. "With Japan, of course, the position is in the view of many people, entirely different. The suggestion is that a real danger to Australia threatens from Japan. There appears to me to be no grounds for supposing that Japan is, or will be for the next fifty years, prepared to wage war against the British Empire. "Japan has, it is admitted, fought successfully against China and against Russia. "Today the Japanese electoral law provides that only land owners and people who pay income tax may vote. Income tax is payable by every one having more than $6 per week. With this qualification Japan has less than 1,000,000 voters. Of that million, hundreds of thousands have less than $10 per week. True, the last 20,000 are people of immense wealth. But no nation having only 1,000,000 people capable of paying taxation can afford to enter a contest which may last for years, and is certain to cost thousands of millions of dollars. Besides, the wealthy few in Japan, who exercise more political power now than ever before, are shrewd enough and materialistic enough not to risk their newly acquired fortunes in a quarrel, the result of which would be, to say the least of it, very uncertain. "True, if Britain goes down in any future struggle, these considerations may not apply, but we Australians are, by reason of sentiment and of self-interest, prepared to stand with the empire and fall with it."

Mr. Hall says that one result of the war has been the strengthening of the Australian parliament. Before 1914, he declares, it was not considered much more than an expensive debating society, but that, charged with the duty of carrying out the military operations, it was transformed into an all-powerful body, and now matters from all over the continent must be referred to it.

McGraw After Lambs.

Had Complimentary Tickets Taken Up When Presented.

New York, Sept. 24—The betting along Broadway is that while the recent expulsion of John McGraw from the Lambs Club may have marked the end of one light it probably also marked the beginning of another. McGraw, having been put out of the Lambs Club, has put some of the Lambs out of his club, or so runs the story which is being handed about, and no one has been found who will deny it. In short, the guardian of the press gate at the Polo grounds, acting under orders presumably issued by the Giants' manager, who also is vice-president and part owner of the club, took up the season passes of several Lambs when the passes were presented at the grounds. Some of these passes, it is said, were issued to the cravache holders by McGraw.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

Creditor Brings Action Against Noted Actor's Granddaughter.

New York, Sept. 24—Justice Meyer of the City Court has appointed Louis H. Meyer, an attorney of 13 C. St. street, receiver for Renee Boucicault, granddaughter of Dion Boucicault, the Irish actor and author, who is now said to be in London.

People of Amerongen Receive Gift of Hospital.

Amerongen, Sept. 24—William Hohenzollern, former emperor of Germany, yesterday turned over to the village authorities here the little hospital he had ordered built as a memorial for the asylum which Amerongen gave to him when he fled from Germany. The people of Amerongen, who heretofore had been without a hospital, fairly bombarded the former emperor with bouquets. "This was the first enthusiastic public demonstration he had received since he was deposed."

R. M. A. TO MEET IN WOODSTOCK NEXT YEAR

St. Stephen, Sept. 23—At today's session of the Retail Merchants' Association convention several resolutions were passed. Among them was one asking the government to place the luxury tax with the manufacturers instead of the retailers. It was decided to hold the next annual convention at Woodstock (N. B.).

Richard Harding Davis' Enrapturing Romance

"SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE"

A Favorite Novel in Wonderful Movies

YOU WERE THRILLED AND HELD SPELLBOUND, no doubt, when you read Richard Harding Davis' "Soldiers of Fortune."

It carried you to the extreme outposts of civilization and made you eye-witness to the exciting and venturesome experiences of Clay, the Engineer. You read page after page, hanging on breathlessly to the thread of the story, eager to know the outcome.

Allan Dwan, the noted photodramatist and director, produced "Soldiers of Fortune" for the silent stage. In offering the story as a photoplay, Mr. Dwan has been able to present it in more vivid colors and with much broader strokes than the limitations of the spoken drama or cold type would permit.

He has added to the delight of the tale by bringing it up to the present time, but adhering closely to the story so as to present all the romantic charm, the virile action and the climactic situations with which the story abounds.
