

Little Sweetheart (His Father Must be a Bird)

By Windsor McCay

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY, HOME AND ABROAD

N. B. Maine League Standing
Team	Won	Lost	P.C.
Fredericton	24	15	.615
Houlton	18	16	.529
Woodstock	16	19	.457
Marathon	18	26	.409

Old Col. Jinx took a holiday yesterday, and as a result the Marathons scored a victory over the Woodstock Colts, the first victory that they have scored for many moons. The old reliable Steve White was on the mound for the home team, and to him most of the credit for the win is due. He pitched good steady ball throughout the nine innings, and allowed but four hits to be made off his delivery. Whitney was on the mound for the Colts and pitched a fairly good game. He did not seem to exert himself, however, and was touched for five safe hits. Both teams had quite a few errors.

Woodstock.
	A.B.	R.	H.	P.O.	A.	E.
Williams, 3b	4	1	1	4	1
Perley, lf	3	1	0	2	0
Lancaster, rf	3	0	0	1	0
O'Donnell, 2b	4	1	1	0	2
Kling, ss	4	0	0	3	4
Black, cf	3	0	1	2	0
Duff, 1b	3	0	1	9	0
Stone, c	3	0	0	0	1
Whitney, p	3	1	1	2	3

White out for not touching first.

Marathons.
	A.B.	R.	H.	P.O.	A. E.
O'Brien, 3b	4	1	1	0	2
Winter, cf	4	1	2	1	0
Fraser, lf	3	1	2	0	0
Pinkerton, 2b	3	1	0	0	2
Dutton, 1b	4	0	0	16	1
Fryor, rf	4	0	2	0	1
Riley, ss	4	0	0	4	2
McGovern, c	3	0	0	6	2
White, p	4	1	1	0	4

Summary—Marathon grounds, St. John, Tuesday afternoon, August 6.—Marathons 6, Woodstock 4. Two-base hit, Fryer. Double play, White to Dutton to McGovern. Struck out by White 6, viz., Williams (2), Duff, Stone, Whitney (2). Time of game, 1 hour 35 minutes. Umpires, Duffy and Soutman. Attendance 450.

Score by innings:

Woodstock	0	0	0	2	0	1	0	0	4
Marathon	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	5

Notes of the game.

Now that the hoodoo is shaken, boys, keep it up.

That Whitney seems to have caught some of McLaughlin's sleep.

Our Steve is some heavier eh?

Jack Fryer is getting back into the game again. He was credited with two errors though yesterday.

Pinkerton played a little steadier yesterday than in the last few games.

Bill Williams is still not there with the big stick.

It is to be hoped that the Greeks keep on playing that kind of ball for a while now in order to creep out of the cellar.

We still need more pitchers. There is not enough for the number of games to be played this week.

The new Ump. did not get along very well with the stands. A bad start.

The Fredericton Pets won from the Houlton Reds in an evening game at Fredericton last night, the score being 6 to 3.

Unquhart and Martini did the pitching for the Reds and Harrington for the winners. The game went for seven innings.

Pitcher Dale Signs

Pitcher Dale has at last come to terms and this morning he affixed his signature to one of S. E. Lichtenheim's contracts.

"He will probably be used in the last game here this afternoon," said the ball club president. Dale comes from the St. Louis Nationals and is a tall young fellow only nineteen years of age. He is a college man and has been in big company for a couple of years.—Montreal Star.

The Glan's in 90.

There's no necessity in 90 out of 100 times and generally speaking it's bad base ball for a pitcher to start base stealing.

Ty Wants $45,000.

Ty Cobb will probably demand $45,000 for three years' work when he signs his next contract.

The Ring

The Claimants.

If Jack Johnson actually retires from the ring on Labor Day, and thereby gives up the world's heavyweight title, many big fellows, white and black, will claim the championship. At least one, Samuel Langford, Boston's "tar baby," appears to have a right to proclaim himself Johnson's

START OF THE YACHT RACE

When the Nirwana, of the R. C. Y. C. defeated the Watertown, the Yankee challenger, and clinched the Regatta Cup for another year, Watertown, the defeated challenger—the black boat—was seen blimping the defender—the Nirwana—the white boat, just as the starting gun was fired. Watertown held Nirwana pinned under her lead for half a mile. Then skipper Wedd managed to manoeuvre the Nirwana out into the free wind and the race was practically over. She went to the front and won the race and the cup as she pleased.

Lamoureaux handles himself in left field like the finished outfielder he was reported to be. He's some clutter, too.

Fredrickson is after a young pitcher in Massachusetts who has twirled several no-hit games this season and for whom one or two big league clubs are angling.

Some of Keane's stops and throws to first while off his balance furnished as good plays as they make in any league.

Joe Callahan, last year with the St. Johns, is said to have been secured by Washington. He has been with Kintira and leading the New York State League in hitting.

As a result of yesterday's game and Saturday's contest at St. John, "Happy" lost passed Pat Wugan in the race for the batting honors. It's a nice race between the sluggers for the leadership, however.

It was said by one of the Woodstock players that "Chick" McLaughlin is likely to go home to Boston soon and that as King's people don't want him to play ball, the former Syracuse University shortstop may return to his home in Buffalo.

Umpire Duffy didn't miss many behind the plate and showed a lot of patience in tolerating Jim O'Donnell's crabbing.

Evans, the Evans-Rid, was right there at his old tricks.

That was a perfect punt that Bob Ganley laid down to "revenge" Keane's in with in the third. Bob used his bat to literally pull the ball down the first base line, as a Willie Keeler, and was more everybody except Evans was of the opinion that he beat the ball to first, even Paddy Duff of the Woodstock club admitting to one of the Fredericton players that Evans gave the decision wrong.

National League

Pittsburgh 7, New York 2.

St. Louis 4, Brooklyn 4.

Cincinnati 6, Boston 4.

Chicago 1, Philadelphia 6.

American League

Washington 1, Chicago 2.

Philadelphia 6, St. Louis 1.

New York 2, Detroit 6.

Boston 5, Cleveland 4.

International League

Montreal 8, Providence 10.

Toronto 2, Jersey City 4.

Buffalo 6, Newark 7.

Buffalo 6, Newark 2.

Rochester 5, Baltimore 2.

Cy Young is All Through.

Cincinnati, Aug. 7.—Cy Young is through with baseball for good and all. He vows he never will return. For years he was unkind to the old star and when the Widemann baseball team, a local semi-professional organization got through pounding the old man's slants, he announced that he was through with the game for good.

"If I do not win I am finished with baseball for the rest of my life," was Cy's statement before the fray, and after the game he said that he proposes to make good his declaration. While he is under contract to the Boston Nationals, he realizes that he can be of no benefit to that club, since he failed to prove himself a "comeback" in the game.

Ty Wants $45,000.

Ty Cobb will probably demand $45,000 for three years' work when he signs his next contract.

The Ring

The Claimants.

If Jack Johnson actually retires from the ring on Labor Day, and thereby gives up the world's heavyweight title, many big fellows, white and black, will claim the championship. At least one, Samuel Langford, Boston's "tar baby," appears to have a right to proclaim himself Johnson's time to dispose of Leonhars, the public choice for the place money.

A thrilling and spectacular finish resulted in the race through the field, when High Bridge got up in the final stride to win from Lockola, who, as usual set all the early pace, but tired.

Aquatic

The Bermuda Race.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Aug. 7.—The American motor boat Kathleen and Dream, which contested in the race from Philadelphia to Bermuda for the Bermuda cup started today from St. George's in a race to Philadelphia. The visiting yachtsmen were entertained last evening by the Royal Yacht Club.

Crickets

Philadelphians in England.

Sutton, England, Aug. 7.—The cricket match between the Philadelphia eleven and the Sutton Club, one of a series between the visiting cricketers and British teams, was stopped on account of rain today after ten minutes' play.

NORMAN HARSHAW

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

C. C. C. C.

Custom Made Clothing For Ladies

Factors Open—8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Satur

8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

68 Mecklenburg Street

St. John, N. B., Aug. 7, 1912.

BOB HARRISON

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.

Formerly champion wrestler of Canada, more recently door-keeper for many years at the Toronto Union Station, and lately "chief-bouncer" at the King Edward Hotel, who has retired to private life after making the personal acquaintance of probably more men than any other one man in Canada today.