

Miramichi and the North Shore, etc.

The Annual Meeting of the Toboggan and Snow Shoe Club is to take place Monday night.

CLARK'S COVE BRIDGE is to be thoroughly rebuilt during the coming winter, and tenders for the work are to be asked for at once.

ROOMS AND SHOWS—See Messrs. Loggie & Co. ad.

A CHURCHMAN'S SERVICES are wanted to do General Household in a family consisting of three adults only. Apply at the ADVANCE OFFICE.

HARDWARE Municipal election returns are as follows:

VALLEY ADVICE—The Advocate is a very temperate this week and calls as a fast pole and a poling, and a railway frolic. We know just what the matter is, and are consoled by the reflection that we did not catch it the next winter.

FATAL ACCIDENT—News has been received of the death of Mr. Fenwick W. Travis, only son of ex-Judge Jeremiah Travis, of Calgary, N. W. T.

REMOVAL—Mr. John Robinson, Jr., is removing his business to the building formerly occupied by the Merchants' Bank.

CURLING—At a meeting of the Newcastle Curling Club on Monday evening the following members were elected skippers for the ensuing season:

Geo. Stables, Joel Call, Joe Jardine, John Robinson, Jr., D. O. Smith, W. R. Ramsey, R. H. Armstrong.

A special meeting of the Club will be held next Monday evening at the Waverly Hotel. A full attendance is requested.

THE SKATING RINK, which has not been so well patronized as it should be during the last two or three seasons is to be made more attractive than usual for the coming winter. The Directors having leased it to a syndicate composed of some of our most prominent young citizens.

OUR LADY FRIENDS will be interested in knowing that by sending 20c. to pay postage, and 15c. to cover of Wm. Moore's yeast (showing that they have used at least 15 packages) to H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y., they can get a 600 page, finely illustrated COOK BOOK. Such a book, bound in cloth, could not be bought for less than a dollar.

CHATHAM SKATING RINK COMPANY held its annual meeting on Monday evening last. The reports submitted showed that the receipts from skating last winter did not quite cover the season's expenses.

THE TELEPHONE—In these days of quick despatch and close rivalry among business men the Telephone is looked upon as a necessary convenience for the furtherance of commercial enterprise, and often proves a source of profit by means of the rapid transmission of orders it affords.

HEIR TO A FORTUNE—Mrs. Elvira Moore, a woman 16 years of age, residing at Fredericton Junction, has fallen heir to an estate of $250,000, left by her brother, James Canine, a wealthy fine manufacturer of Belfast, Ireland, who died five years ago.

St. Mary's JUVENILE GUILD—The annual meeting of St. Mary's Juvenile Guild was held in St. Mary's School Room on Monday evening last.

Mr. W. R. Howard, Vice-President, Malheur-Goggin-Secretary, Rev. D. Forsyth-Treasurer. The President addressed the meeting.

complementing the retiring Secretary upon her attention to the duties of her office, and referring to the approaching Anniversary Service & of the Guild which will be held (D. V.) in St. Mary's Chapel on Wednesday evening, the 16th inst. at 7 o'clock. He hoped that all the members of the Guild with their parents, brothers, sisters and friends would be present at the Anniversary Service. The Rev. D. V. Forsyth, Rector of Richelieu, will, it is hoped, address the members of the Guild on that occasion and other clergymen of the Rural Parishes will be present. The Vice-President, with Messrs. A. Williams and A. Danville were appointed a committee to provide interesting and profitable programmes for the monthly meetings during the ensuing year.

LONDON NEWS.—The illustrations of The Illustrated London News (American edition) for November 5th, present as usual general interest as well as entertainment, and cover the customary broad range of this long established and widely known publication. They are indicated by the following titles: Sketches of the Bulgarian Election. The Disputes Between Fishermen at Plymouth, State of Ireland. The Late Mrs. Craik, H. M. S. Wasp. Sketches on the River Congo, Sketches at the Old Show, Crystal Palace. The Late Lady Templeton. The Disputes Between Fishermen at Plymouth. The Disputes Between Fishermen at Plymouth. Everybody seems to be amused over the scenes displayed by the Advocate over Mr. Park's appointment as Collector of Customs at Newcastle. Perhaps Mr. Park and other leading lights were far from the joke of making the president of the Newcastle Conservative Club believe that they "had him on the list" for the job, but most people knew well only for the purpose of "keeping him on the string" and few thought that he took the "rod" so seriously as to cry over his disappointment and make such unkind remarks about Mr. Park as he has been doing.

Mr. Geo. Vanderbil of Millerton is completing his new store.

On Tuesday evening, the 1st inst. a successful Basket Social was held in the Temperance Hall, Millerton, for the liquidation of the debt on the Chancel Window in St. Peter's Church. After a selection programme of choruses, solos and recitations came the sale of baskets, which were really profitable by the gentlemen. The gentlemen accompanied ladies who named them for their baskets, to supper. After some more music the social broke up, everyone apparently highly amused at the proceeds of the evening amounting to $98.00.

On Wednesday morning of last week three teams equipped for the lumber woods were despatched by Mr. Wm. O'Brien of Upper Derby. The field of Mr. O'Brien's operations will be that of the head of Monaghan Brook, a branch of Redfish River. Many lumbermen in this locality are preparing for the woods, and complain of the scarcity of men, owing to the departure of so many competent workmen to the United States.

The quarry of Mr. Frank Janine, Indianstone, which supplied a large quantity of stone for the Fredericton Railway Bridge, has suspended work, sufficient stone having been secured for that work.

Blackville presents a very thrifty, industrious appearance at present. Numerous teams loaded with grain are constantly coming in from all directions to the mill which is leased and operated by Messrs. John McConnell & Son, who are pleased to keep it running day and night to dispose of the large amount of work on hand; then the boll-teams constantly going on or coming from the mill, and others for supplies from the stores of Messrs. McLaughlin, Fairclough and others; all present to the eye of the observer a busy scene.

As many as three working teams, employed ballasting and completing the Indianstone Branch extension, and hauling stone to Fredericton Bridge, may be seen switched off at Blackville Station for the night, the employees there marketing to the hospitality of the commodious hotel, owned by Mr. McConnell, and situated on the western side of the Railway track.

The tanks passed through here buying up horses of an inferior quality. When sold by a native that they had a fine lot of foal-hits in the animals in their possession, they duly remarked "We pay only four-bait prices for 'em".

A brakeman named Brown, belonging to Gibson, while coupling a car to the forward part of the engine, on a switch at Blackville station a few days ago, had his foot jammed between the brake-beam and pilot, mutilating three of his toes and otherwise bruising his foot.

Several nights since, some unknown person or persons entered the shop of Messrs. McConnell & Son, and cleared out the contents of the till, which amounted to about $30.

Messrs. Fowler & Messeroux of Blissfield, while on a hunt for a bear, succeeded in shooting a large caribou. They reported on to be very plentiful in the vicinity, and it is not an unusual thing for them to emerge from the cover of the woods and to be seen quietly feeding in the adjacent fields.

Mr. Harvey Doak, Docktown, seems to economize in the use of water, running a grist-mill, carrying mill and saw-mill from a very small stream. The quality of his back-haul flour prepared by him at his grist-mill is said to be equal to any that can be produced in the province.

New Toboggan Slide. A recent toboggan and snow shoe club are, by any means, discouraged by the blowing down of their slides in the late stage.

Indeed, that incident has afforded them opportunity to secure a better and more convenient site for their slides and club house, the new location being on the property of Miss Lobban, east of and adjoining what is called Saw-dust Hill. The material of the old slide, which is not greatly damaged, is now being removed to a Major Hall who has been working the lead deposit at Indian Cove (a distance of 10 miles east of Cape in Gaspe Bay) since St. Paul, Minn., capitalists. As soon as he had purchased the land several Americans came and inspected the lead and say that the indications are very good, second to only one in America. They are ground, the run down and off the slide will be very easy. A feature which will make the new slide a superior one is that it will be placed at the brow of a hill which is considerably over 100 feet long and has a descent of one in six, so that the slide will be practically about twice the length of the old one, with a gradually diminishing grade, by which the sled will be launched after a dash down the run. Between the Skating Rink and the Toboggan Slide, Chatham will have plenty of healthful recreation for the winter.

A Golden Opportunity Seldom Granted. On Tuesday (always Tuesday), October 11th, 1887, at the city of New Orleans, La., the 290th Grand Monthly Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery Company took place. The next is the Grand Extraordinary Semi-Annual Drawing, when the First Prize will be $300,000, and the sums of princely magnitude will be scattered here and there and everywhere on Tuesday, December 13th, 1887—a splendid opportunity for a holiday present. book-makers, or posing on the quarter-stretch for the admiration of the ladies on the grand stand, while the diplomatic elite promenade with usual wont in front of the crowd. As they started up they down the past week, they seemed to feel every eye was upon them; nor were they mistaken. The cut of their trousers, the shape of their collars, and their kaleidoscopic practices usually afford much amusement to the on-lookers. The diplomat must be classed in the eccentric family of the great town, for both in his face and dress he seems to present in combination the fashions of Paris, London, Berlin and St. Petersburg.

The defeat of "Ned" Hanlon by Temor at Toronto in August indicates the "wand of the glory" of the duaghy champion.

He has sustained his record with admirable pluck and success, but the treadmill strain of years of training must certainly some day wear its limit.

As a fine, bright way in August, 1871, an excited multitude of 15,000 to 20,000 persons lined the shores of the beautiful Kennebecast, near St. John, N. B., attracted by a four-oared race between the famous Paris crew of that city and a picked English crew for $5,000, and the champion of the world was Robert Fulton, the once renowned oarsman, pulled oars for the Blue Nose crew, and "Jim" Renforth, champion sculler and winner of England and of the world, was stroke in the English crew.

Excitement was at fever heat. But three hundred yards of the course had been covered when the Englishist noticed that their rivals were creeping up behind them.

"Give us a dozen, Jim," said the veteran Harry Kelly, ex-convict of England, who was pulling No. 3 oar.

"I can't, boys, I'm done," said Renforth, and with these words he fell forward, an inanimate heap in the boat.

"He has been poisoned by book-makers," was the cry, and belief.

Everything that science and skill could suggest for his restoration was tried, but all in vain. The fatal struggle of agony, the strong man, the flower of the athletes and pride of his countrymen, passed away.

The stomach was analysed but no sign or trace of poison could be found therein, though general examination showed a very strange condition of the blood and the life-giving and heal-preserving organs affected by years of unwise training.

"My mother waits for me, I know," said the victim, and he was taken to his home, where he died in a few days.
