pimples by outside treatment, such as greases, massage, cosmetics, electricity, etc. These methods will not cure nor even temporarily remove pimples and facial disorders.

The difficulty is generally impure blood. Its color is black or blue or brownish cast, instead of ruby red, as it should be. All the cosmetics in the world will not bring back the color if your blood is filled with impurities which it cannot remove or throw off. Stuart's Calcium Wafers operate directly on all blood impurities.

One of its many quick-acting and harmless ingredients is Calcium Sulphide, admitted by Scientists to be one of the most remarkable blood purifiers in existence. Go to your druggist, wherever he may be, and he will give you a box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers, price 50c.

DRAWING NET AROUND GERMAN PLOTTERS IN U.S.

Evidence Secured Definitely Implicates Members of German and Austrian Consular Staff in Plots.

New York, Dec. 10.—United States Attorney Marshall said today that the grand jury investigation into the alleged activities of Franz Von Rintelen to instigate strikes in munition factories would convene next week, probably Wednesday.

A mass of new evidence, obtained by the district attorney's office in co-operation with the agents of the department of justice, it was learned today, definitely implicates certain members of the consular staffs of Germany and Austria, but no one connected with the district attorney's office would say whether indictments against any of the consular staffs were expected, though Mr. Marshall returned to his office today after a hurried trip to Washington yesterday where he conferred with Attorney General Gregory. He refused to discuss the subject beyond saying that it concerned the formulation of a uniform plan of proceedings against the alleged conspirators throughout the country.

Should foreign consuls be brought into the case, possible diplomatic entanglements might result and this phase of the situation, it was said, was one discussed at yesterday's conference in Washington.

Why Tolerate Catarrh?

You have noticed, no doubt, that any cold aggravates nasal catarrh, and the flow of mucous amazes you that such objectionable matter could find lodgment in your head. To ignore this catarrh when the cold subsides is wrong because it continues to slowly injure the delicate linings of the nasal passages and clog them up.

To correct catarrh, cleanse the nostrils frequently with a solution of warm water and salt, insert vaseline on retiring, and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals for one month. Scott's acts through the blood to feed the tissues, and contains soothing glycerine to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes. Scott's is pleasant to take.

ANOTHER ROUSING MEETING IN INTEREST OF RECRUITING IN QUEEN'S RINK LAST NIGHT

Stirring addresses by Police Magistrate and officers of the 69th — The South End gathering — Four men signed roll while others applied

THE ROLL OF HONOR

Wm. McCann, city.
James Hart, city.
One other who did not wish his name mentioned at present.

For Siege Battery, L. J. Melanson, Bathurst.

Inspiring addresses urgently appealing to the young men of St. John to enlist in the armies of the Empire, frequent outbursts of enthusiasm and a superb selection of musical numbers were heard by an audience of three hundred men and women at a recruiting rally in Queen's rink last night.

The meeting was arranged by the local recruiting committee and officers and musicians of the 69th battalion of Quebec stationed at the armory.

Previous to the meeting the drum corps of the battalion paraded the streets. Before the speaking and between speakers the band of the 69th played a number of enticing selections.

R. T. Hayes was chairman.

Although the air in the big building was a trifle on the chilly side the audience was soon put in a cheerful state of mind by Magistrate Ritchie, the first speaker. First the magistrate invited the men to occupy a dozen or two vacant front seats. "You need not be afraid of me in the evening," he began. "You may be mornings. I have to repeat now that when I say sit down, I mean it."

A Premeditated War

"The subject that calls us here to night has been discussed in the pulpits and in the newspapers—the dreadful war. In our historical knowledge no war in all the centuries can be compared with this war. The war had been premeditated for years by the Germans, whose favorite toast had been: 'To the Day.' The day meant when Germany would at the opportune time strike at Great Britain. It was not said openly that Germany would begin a war. The Kaiser could visit London and give us the glad hand and the Germans pretended to be friends openly. But all the time they waited to strike Great Britain a death blow.

"Germany wanted colonies. Canada they expected to get. Canada is Great Britain's richest colony and the Germans had a covetous eye upon us. 'No wonder we Canadians say to a man you are striking at Great Britain to get Canada. I say to you young men from 18 to 45, come forward and tell Germany she will never get Canada.'

United for Righteousness.

After telling of the crucifixion of a Canadian soldier and the assaults upon women and children by the Germans, the Magistrate declared that the King was a king, but the Kaiser was a baby killer.

"In the Boer war," continued the magistrate, "there were pro-Boers. Why are people today all one and united? It is because the war is different from any in 100 years, and because it is an honorable war—a war for righteousness and humanity. No wonder we are all one, because we are fighting for a flag that means liberty to all.

"Perhaps it is a good thing that the Kaiser brought on the war when he did. If Germany had got to work early enough with Italy and Greece those countries might have been with Germany. Austria was a co-swap of Germany. Britain told Serbia to yield all Austria asked, but Germany told Austria to declare war, that the reply of Serbia was too late. The treachery and deceit of Germany appears through all the correspondence which immediately preceded the beginning of the conflict.

"Germany thought she was striking Great Britain when she was weak; Germany thought that in Canada we were divided, that there was mutiny in India, trouble in South Africa, and that the devil was to pay in Ireland. Young men from 18 to 45 we want you to join in and do your part for the British Empire. In no city of the Empire will the people rise to support the flag quicker than in the Loyalist city of St. John."

ing company B of the 69th Battalion was the second speaker. The Major served eighteen years in the army and was at the front in the present war. "This war," he said, "is very different from any war England has ever undertaken. Men had to be turned back from enlisting in former wars, but in this one every fit man can go. In this war England is just beginning to realize what is at stake and that she must give her best men. She is now sending her best men and every one of you ought to go. This is not a time for soft words. The women of England are ashamed of any man in the family who does not go. There the women are caring for the wounded and are also doing house work in hospitals and other places where disabled soldiers are quartered.

"It is up to you to think whether you ought not to go. Very little is left of the regular army, but Kitchener's army has sprung up and is as good as the first that went to the front. The first Canadian contingent was perhaps the finest body of men that ever stepped. The second contingent is the same as the first. You've got your duty to do, and every man is called to go. There is not a man in the old land who does not know we are going to win. If you knew of the cruelties practiced upon women and children by the Germans you would be the first to step forward and fight, and if necessary give your lives for the cause. Women ought to be ashamed to have anything to do with men who can go and stay behind. You women ought to send your husbands, not only for the King and Empire, but for the honor of your sisters. There are seventeen vacancies in my company, and I ask every man who can wear khaki why he shouldn't be wearing it now."

Lieut. deBeaugois, of the 69th, who was in Paris after the war started, told of sacrifices the French people had made. "We are not fighting England's fight," he exclaimed, "we are fighting our own fight. To enlist is a duty we owe as men, Canadians and British subjects. If a man who can, will not go he is not worthy to remain under the British flag."

IN SOUTH END.

The Temperance Hall on St. James street was comfortably filled last evening to hear the speeches of the Rev. J. H. A. Anderson and Douglas McArthur. Edward Purchase was in the chair and called the meeting to order. Dr. J. H. Barton gave some selections on the piano, and P. C. Johnson entertained with a few stories and imitations of various instruments. Miss

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

Spend 25 cents! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp, the hair roots falling out fast, and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?

Julia Donham also took part in the musical programme which was enjoyed by all present.

Rev. H. A. Cody, who was scheduled to speak, was unable to be present owing to a slight injury. The speeches delivered by the two speakers were interesting and enthused the audience to a high pitch. Many ladies were present, which shows the interest being taken in these meetings in Lower Cove.

Silent and Determined Crowds Recruiting Answer and Prove Serve Without Compuls

London, Dec. 10.—The rush of "last minute men" who desire to escape the stigma of being forced to join the colors, if conscription should be adopted, continued today, the last day but one of the trial period for the Earl of Derby's recruiting plan. Lines formed at the recruiting stations as early as 5 o'clock this morning and remained there all day.

Announcement that there would be no extension of the time limit for the test of the volunteer system apparently convinced many men of military age and fitness that the Earl of Derby was in earnest, and caused them to flock to the stations.

The scenes at the recruiting bureau are entirely different from those during Secretary Kitchen's regime. It is not a case of inducing men to enlist as a result of appeals made by recruiting sergeants, but rather of handling the applicants who wait patiently in long lines, three or four abreast, in the cold, blustery weather. At Trafalgar Square only a small crowd of idlers stood around the base of
