

admitted a L.R.C.S. Edin., the same year. On his return to Can., he practised in Quebec till his appt. to the Can. Quarantine service, May, 1866. Dr. M. was one of the original founders and mems. of the Can. Med. Assn.; he is a mem. of the Am. Public Health Assn., of which he was V.-P., 1889-90, and Presdt., 1891, and to which he is delegated yearly as the representative of the Dom. Govt.; a mem. of the Brit. Med. Assn.; an hon. mem. of the Soc. of Med. Officers of Health of Gt. Brit.; and an hon. mem. of the Acad. Nacional de Med. de Mexico. He was elected Fellow of the Royal Coll. of Surg., 1888; and received the degree of D.C.L. (hon. causa) from Bishop's Coll. Univ., the same year. He was delegated representative of the Govt. of the Dom. of Can. to the Internl. Cholera Conf., Washington, D.C., 1884, and at N. Y., Apl., 1893. He was hon. Chairman of the sec. of Naval and Mil. Hygiene, 7th Internl. Congress of Hygiene, London, Aug., 1891; hon. Chairman of sec. of Marine Hygiene and Quarantine, and of sec. of Hygiene and Demog., Pan-Am. Med. Congress, Washington, Sept., 1893. Dr. M. is also a mem. of the Quebec Lit. and Hist. Soc., of the Quebec Geog. Soc., an associate mem. of the Council of Trinity Univ., Toronto, and was for many yrs. one of the Council of Bishop's Coll., Lennoxville. He is Genl. Med. Supdt. of Can. Quarantines, having been apptd. to that position, Mch., 1894, and has served as med. asst. in the same service since May 11, 1866, and as Supdt. of the St. Lawrence Quarantines, since Mch. 18, 1869. He took a post-graduate course in Bacteriol. at Johns Hopkins Univ., Baltimore, Md. He was for some yrs. surg. of the Quebec Volunteer Garrison Arty., and served during the Fenian raids, etc.; had quarantine staff enrolled as battery of arty. and commanded them for some yrs., retiring with rank of capt. of arty. Among his more important contributions to Med. literature are reports and papers on Quarantine, Vaccination, Hygiene of passenger vessels, published in the reports of the Mr. of Agriculture; Presdt.'s address before the Am. Public Health Assn.; and a paper on Quarantine, presented at the Internl. Health Congress, London, 1891. From experience and personal study of the quarantines of Europe and most of those of the U. S., Dr. M. has devised, with several important original additions, the perfected quarantine and disinfection appliances adopted by the Dom. for all the Can. quarantines. He is a mem. of the Ang. Ch., and m. June, 1865, Mary Jane, dau. of the late Hon. W. Walker, M.L.C.—74 St. George St., Toronto (in winter); Quebec (in summer); Union Club; Rideau Club; Toronto Club.

MONTMINY, Rev. Theophile (R. C.), was b. at St. Jean Chrysostom, Lévis, P.Q., Feb. 4, 1842, and is the s. of Joseph Montminy, by his wife, Marguerite Lambert. Ed. at St. Anne's Coll., where he became organist and prof. of music, he was ordained to the priesthood by Bp. Lafleche, 1870. Thereafter, he was successively cure at Beauport; Rector at St. Antoine, Temiscouata, and Rector of St. Agapit de Beauvillage. He is now Rector of St. George's de la Beauce. Mr. M. is widely known in connection with his successful efforts to improve the condition of the farming population in Quebec. While parish priest of St. Agapit, he organized a farmers' club, having for its object the instruction of the people in improved methods of agricul., in dairying, cattle raising, etc. The people previously from their want of knowledge in these arts, and their lack of energy, were many of them in an impoverished condition and were leaving the country for the U. S. in large numbers. After a few yrs., owing to the priest's efforts, all this was changed, and St. Agapit became celebrated throughout the Province as a thriving and prosperous community. Mr. M.'s services